"Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" Claiming Much Attention This Week

Charlotte Williams plays the Witch's role in "Fi-Fi." Unless she dresses her feet less modestly she may not be able to remember her lines, since the true artist must dress and feel her part.

The pasteboard slips which admit the public to the performance of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop," which will be given Saturday, May 17, matinee and evening at the Brandeis, will also be a ticket to the "Never, Never Land." Mr. Paul Griswold as the Man in the Moon is not as gossipy as he seems as a bundle of sticks. Instead he is a most debonaire and altogether charming gentleman, who is visiting the earth in search of new adventures, and he persuades Mrs. Rollin Sturtevant as the fickle "Fi-Fi," the finest French doll in the toy shop, to elope with him to the Milky Way.

This she does, but she is pursued by her irate lovers, Hart Jenks, as Lieutenant Tinhart, and Philip Downs as Prince Lollypop, and other inmates of the toy shop who are not going to let a light minded rival like the Man in the Moon get ahead of them. The entire toy shop then goes in search of their friend and all meet with many exciting adventures in Toyland. The entire program of musical extravaganza is most interesting.

The play will be given under the auspices of the First Central Congregational church and rehearsals are being held at the church every day. The seat sale opens Thursday at 10 a. m. Advance tickets are going like hot cakes and indications point to a crowded house for both matinee and evening.

Pretty Lucy Garvin completely camouflages her natural, delicate appearance in her role of "Ink Spot" in "Fi-Fi."

Home Demonstration Notes

The Clothes Shop, 1716 Dodge street, will be open every Tuesday during the month from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Miss Chamberlin will be in charge. Anyone wishing help with home dressmaking problems may come to the shop on that day for assistance and advice.

At this season of the year, house cleaning is the topic uppermost in the mind of the housewife. Formerly the housewife used soap and scouring powder regardless of what she was cleaning. The university extension department, women's section, gives the following list of cleaning aids and their uses: Naptha soap, coarse boards and heavy kettles; white soap, woodwork; high-grade white soap, glasses and china; scouring compound, porcelain and windows; steel wool, for removing wax from floors before applying new covering; floorwax, floors and furniture; kerosene, outdoor disinfectants, pouring down drains, cleaning enamel, sinks, tubs, etc.; ammonia, washing windows and linoleums; borax, for softening water and washing glassware; chloride of lime, disinfectant for bath rooms; whiting, for cleaning enameled paint and nickel; linseed oil, for wiping woodwork and polishing cast iron and ranges (burn cloth at once to avoid danger of spontaneous combustion); gasoline, cleaning enameled tubs, bowls and sinks; turpentine, dusting waxed floors; washing soda, cleaning drains, traps, toilets, refrigerators and rough surfaces; rotten stone, polishing brass and copper.

If rugs have lost their stiffness they may be restored and improved with the following preparation, says the Home Economics Extension worker of the University of Nebraska:

Make a solution of flake glue, one pound of glue to two gallons of water, stretch the rug face down tightly on the floor and tack it down. With a broom, scrub in the glue until it foams. Do not put on too much at once or a gummy surface will result. If more is needed make two applications.

Sergeant Young will especially look after the men who are passing through Omaha and here for only a few hours. He is well known to the Omaha public, where he has lived for the most of his life till he enlisted with the ambulance company 335 two years ago. He has served in the army two years and in France eight months. He returned here one week ago.

Victory Loan Notes

Miss Letitia Hambright, in charge of the booths in the City National and the Omaha National banks for the Victory drive, has proved to be one of the most successful booth operators in Omaha.

At the opening of the campaign Miss Hambright was in charge of the City National bank building and sales there were large from the first day. The booth in the Omaha National bank was less fortunate. The first few days of the drive business was so poor that those in charge of the booth decided it was of no use to keep it open further, so closed shop, much to the distress of the president of the bank and the executive committee of the woman's division.

An S. O. S. was immediately sent out to Miss Hambright: "Would she take charge of both booths in the emergency?" Miss Hambright consented, even though the consent meant a double amount of work.

From the first day of the new management the booth in the Omaha National succeeded. The first day totaled $2,000, then $3,000, $4,300, and so on at this pace each day until the end. The bank president was so delighted with the showing of his booth that each day the workers were entertained or invited to lunch with him. Today the Omaha National bank booth is a leader in sales reports with a total of $25,500 to its credit and the total sales for the two booths under Miss Hambright and her helpers represents $38,100. Miss Hambright has been assisted by the following women: Mesdames W. L. Guild, J. A. Downs, John Golden, W. N. Clark, J. E. Bryan, C. W. Banning, J. H. Hine-man and Harry Ore.

Subscriptions turned in to the women's committee Saturday: Mrs. J. M. Patton, $1,000.00; Mrs. James E. Boyd and Mrs. E. L. Eisenhower, 1,200.00; Dr. W. S. Callahan, 500.00; Ramona Nielson, 500.00. The Sixth ward of the South Side reported $64,150 in bond sales at headquarters Saturday. This record shows the ward as doubling their subscriptions over the liberty bond drives of last year. Then they netted $31,750 in Liberty bonds.

Mrs. C. F. Weller, a captain of the Ninth ward, reports sales for the Blackstone hotel totalling $167,900.

The South Side high school was the first to complete the reports of the flying squadron. The school reached $1,750 in bond sales Friday.

Mrs. Anna M. Olsen leads the Fifth ward in subscriptions. As captain of the Fourth, Fifth and Seventh precincts she sold 525 bonds and the total amount was $33,000. The Fifth ward in all drives has been one of the most difficult to put over.

The Ninth ward, with Mrs. Charles Rosewater as major, has reported to date approximately $50,000, which is one-sixth of the total of the women's committee.

Miss Ella J. Brown, major of the Fifth ward, has turned in bond subscriptions amounting to $110,000. In the fourth drive for Liberty bonds the combined showing of the Fourth and Fifth wards was $92,000.

Private Wright to Return. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cochran, 1021 South Thirty-sixth street, received a wire from their son, Private Wright W. Cochran, Company E, Three Hundred Fifty-fifth infantry, announcing his arrival in New York. Private Cochran, who is a member of the famous fighting Eighty-ninth division, was through the three big drives: the St. Mihiel, Argonne Forest and the Meuse river. Since November 11 he has been with the army of occupation, stationed at Saarburg, Germany.

Box Parties For Fi-Fi. Many box parties will be given at the performances of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" on Saturday matinee and evening. Those who will entertain include Ward Burgess, W. J. Hynes, J. E. Fitzgerald, Miss Mona Towle, C. C. Belden, G. H. Payne, Charles Burgess and E. G. McGilton. Line parties will be given by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed who will have eight guests, Charles Kountze, six and R. F. Kloke.

Red Cross

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tagg left Saturday afternoon for Pittsburgh to attend the Thirty-first annual convention of the National Live Stock Exchange of which Mr. Tagg has been president for the last two years.

Mr. Tagg expects to visit the Central Division headquarters in Chicago and national headquarters of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

Miss May Tobin acting chairman of the knitting department Omaha chapter issues another appeal for volunteers to help complete the present large quota of mufflers and sweaters for the women and children of the war devastated countries of Europe. Any woman who has ever made a sweater is asked by Miss Tobin to make one more. School girls are urged to knit one muffler.

When Big Men Won't Play Fair

And resort to the practices of the pirate—it remains for you to judge them.

Nothing is more sacred in business to us than the honor of the "HOUSE OF HARD ROLL BREAD." We have given it the BEST we have—and have trade marked its name, its formula and its goodness—and placed our name upon it as a guarantee that it is the REAL, the GENUINE

Hard Roll Bread

And you, too, have enjoyed its goodness, for today we bake more HARD ROLL BREAD than all the breads that are baked by any TWO NEBRASKA bakeries combined.

To our surprise, an out-of-town baker, who operates an Omaha plant, who owns and advertises nationally his favorite brands and warns others against imitating HIS products—picturing fines and prisons as the penalty—has thrown down his coat of honor and turned to the ranks of the defeated—marking time under the flag of the imitators, with men who sing as their Te Deum, the song of "The Just as Good Kind."

His "back to the wall—MAILED FIST" fight is aimed at you. He admits that HARD ROLL BREAD is the BEST on earth—but still he wants you to buy his imitation, yet he will not put his name to his crime.

But plugged nickels are never worth a real jitney, nor are the imitations ever equal to the genuine.

So when BIG MEN WON'T PLAY FAIR you become the JURORS from whom the verdict must come. And we ask that you remember and insist when buying your bread upon seeing the little Red, White and Blue trademark label that we place on every genuine loaf of HARD ROLL BREAD, for it is placed there as your guarantee and for the protection of our honor.
