

COUNCIL SEEKS MEANS TO FIGHT LIQUOR RUNNERS

State Agent Urges City Commissioners to Watch for Bootleggers at Douglas Bridge.

Who knows the best way to impede alleged bootleggers' automobiles on the Douglas street bridge, assuming that there ever has been such a vehicle in Omaha as a bootleggers' automobile?

Write, wire or telephone information to the city council. The city commissioners are considering ways and means of establishing a blockade against "booze runners," on the big bridge.

The matter came up in the form of a letter received by police commissioner Ringer from Gus A. Hyers, a chief state agent. In this epistle Mr. Hyers calls attention to the operation of Senate File No. 198, which requires that posts and a gate shall be placed at the west end of the Douglas street bridge.

Use Submarine Nets. "My idea of this would be for the city council to negotiate with the allied governments for some of the nets used in the English channel for catching submarines," was the suggestion of City Commissioner Zimmerman, directing his words to Mr. Ringer.

"Well, I am behind this proposition," retorted the commissioner of police, holding the Hyers letter at arm's length.

The matter was referred to the city legal department for an opinion.

AUTHORITIES SAY SELF POISONING VERY PREVALENT

Auto-Intoxication, or Slow Self Poisoning, Cause of Most Ill Health and Disease.

Advanced medical authorities assert that auto-intoxication is the foundation of most of the ills and diseases to which the human flesh is heir.

This condition is nothing more nor less than the slow self-poisoning of the vital organs produced by the excessive mental and physical strain which we are forced to endure, which renders the organs lame and inactive, and permits toxins—actual poisons—to be generated within one's own body.

Usually the trouble starts in the intestines; sometimes it starts in the stomach, liver, or kidneys, but in any case the blame lies with the faulty method of living, and may be traced to over-eating, excessive nervous strain, lack of exercise, or other causes. At any rate it is the more important organs that suffer the final damage and when they falter or fall in their duties the body fills up with acids and poisons, and the victim often yields to their baneful influence. Bright's disease, heart trouble, high blood pressure, catarrhal affections, and other troubles are frequently the result of self-poisoning or auto-intoxication.

A tired, draggy feeling of the body, a sluggish mind and dull memory, intense nervousness, headache, stomach and bowel troubles, poor circulation, imperfect digestion, constipation and despondency are common symptoms of auto-intoxication; and nine out of every ten of the American people are likely to be so affected.

Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive and systemic tonic, was designed especially to overcome these very troubles. There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful work of this celebrated preparation, which begins its action by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and energizing the entire system. Composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science, it enables the stomach to thoroughly digest the food, thereby permitting the assimilable products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle. It overcomes that great exciting cause of disease weakness. It renders the body vigorous and elastic, it keeps the mind clear and energetic, and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion. It builds up the constitution weakened by disease or mental and physical over-work, quickens convalescence of the invalid, and is a sure and unfailing source of comfort to those who are suffering from the effects of nervousness and over-work.

That Tanlac does these very things is proven by the fact that it now has the largest sale of any tonic on the American market. Millions have used it with the most astonishing and gratifying results.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by all Sherrman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading drugist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

Police Raid Unfortunate Drug Addicts While Guilty "Higher-Ups" in Omaha's Drug Ring Are Not Molested

Despite Frantic Efforts of Police Chief To Discredit Girl's Expose of Traffic Records at Station Show He Got Busy With Raids and Denials at Same Time.

In spite of the fact that Police Chief Eberstein prevailed on Ruth Clark, drug addict and woman of the underworld, to sign two affidavits repudiating her sensational expose of the Omaha dope ring in The Bee, the chief of police indicated his belief in the woman's charges when immediately following the publication of the girl's story May 1 he issued orders to the morals squad to devote their exclusive efforts to cleaning up the dives where narcotic drugs are known to be used and sold.

Sergeant Thestrup and Detectives Armstrong, Palmtag and Herzina were called into the office of the police chief and told to make a general cleaning of the dope dives.

While a number of arrests have been made, the "higher-ups," the persons getting the money from the illegal traffic, have not been reached.

Some of the Raids. Chief Eberstein took this action immediately after Ruth Clark made her charge that policemen had threatened to run her out of town and throw her in jail because she declared the police were protecting dope peddlers and hop dives. The chief of police sent out for the Clark girl, obtained her signature to the affidavits he prepared, convinced Dr. Jennie Collins, the girl had been misrepresented, enlisted the support of the secretary of the Public Welfare board in defending the woman who is living out of wedlock with a man under federal indictment for violating the Harrison drug act, and then on the heels of the charges he had sought to discredit issued orders to the moral squad to clean up the places Ruth Clark accused of receiving police protection.

The home of Flossie Kane, 1213 Cass street, was raided May 1. The Kane woman was arrested as the keeper of a disorderly house. With her were taken Gus Burns, 808 North Sixteenth street; Margaret Golden, Council Bluffs; Dolly Fleming, 2509 M street; F. E. Potter, Harlan, Ia.; and Lawrence Lowery, Council Bluffs. The prisoners were charged with vagrancy and held for investigation.

The home of James Craig, 1517 Burt street, was raided by the moral squad the following day. Eight persons were arrested with Craig and booked at the police station for "investigation and dope." The other prisoners were Curley Stinson, 216 North Thirteenth street; Philip Silke, 714 North Twentieth street; C. R. Keller and Mrs. Ella Keller, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mabel Franklin, 1138 North Sixteenth street; Violet Williams, Fifteenth and Webster streets; Lacey Williams, Fifteenth and Webster streets, and Walter

But How About the "Higher-Ups"?

Stephens, Twentieth and Burt streets. Following another raid the same day on the house at 1503 Cuming street, Katherine Penderson was arrested as the keeper, and Minnie Smiley, 917 North Twenty-fifth street, and L. H. Simmon, 920 North Twenty-second street, were arrested as inmates.

Regular Dope Field Parade. On orders of Chief Eberstein the house at 415 North Thirteenth street was raided by the morals squad. This is a dive conducted by Madge Fryson, one of Omaha's most notorious women of the underworld. She is known to the police as a bootlegger and peddler of dope. The blacks and whites mingle in the Fryson woman's house by the scores, drink whisky and "shoot the needle" all night long every night in the week, according to the statement of Mabel Epps, Detention home dope fiend and recently treated in the county jail for the morphine habit after being released from the Detention home, Bessie Davis, 4212 South Thirty-second street, and Frank Karnes, 3022 South Eleventh street, were taken to the police station with the Fryson woman and held for investigation.

The morals squad raided the O'Brien hotel, Fourteenth and Douglas streets, May 4, and arrested James Langhery as the keeper and fifteen inmates. A quantity of medicine, which the police alleged contained dope, was seized. The State hotel, Fourteenth and Douglas streets, was raided the same day, and Albert Reeves, James File and William McFadden, Houston, Mo., were arrested.

Find Girl Unconscious. Lying in the gutter in an unconscious condition at Twenty-first and Cuming streets, Okie Bailey, the young woman who recently charged an Omaha physician with prescribing morphine indiscriminately for addicts, many of whom she declared were prominent in social circles, was picked up by the police, taken to the jail and later was sent to a hospital in Council Bluffs. When found, the girl was suffering from an overdose of morphine. She was booked as "May Doe" at the police station. No charge was placed against her and she was not arraigned in police court. It was said no effort was made to get the girl to tell where she obtained the drug.

Okie Bailey testified several days ago before the federal grand jury in a case against May Bradley, a negro woman. The Bradley woman was indicted for violating the Harrison drug act. James Craig's house, 1517 Burt

'STILL' LOCATED ON SOUTH SIDE IN OPERATION

Meley Jandrich Arrested at Home; 50 Pounds of Mash In Fermentation Stage Found.

With the arrest of Meley Jandrich, 5521 South Thirty-first street, and the seizure of one of the most complete distilling outfits ever found in this vicinity at his home internal revenue officers believe they have done much to stop "moonshining" on the South Side.

Jandrich was arrested Saturday by South Side police. The internal revenue department at the federal building was notified, and Agents Nitzer and Bossie were detailed to investigate the case.

At the Jandrich residence over 50 pounds of mash, composed of prunes and raisins in a fermentation stage was found. A 10-gallon keg, half full of alcohol, or "low" wine, was also seized as evidence. On a two-burner stove officers found the "still". It was cleverly constructed from a five-gallon can and a wooden nail keg.

Police Judge Foster sentenced Jandrich to 30 days in county jail yesterday morning on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. The evidence was then turned over to internal revenue officers. Charges of illicit distilling were filed against Jandrich, according to John J. Gillin, agent in charge.

"Jandrich was manufacturing an extra-good product," declared Mr. Gillin.

Management of Public Market Turned Over to Ure by City Council

Mayor Smith agrees with the man who wrote that, "Some men have honors thrust upon them, some are born with honors, and others acquire honors."

Last week the mayor had the honor of managing the new public market, place thrust upon him, and yesterday morning, during a meeting of the city council committee of the city council committee of the whole, he thrust the honor upon City Commissioner Ure. He was aided in the trusting process by a majority of the commissioners.

The mayor said that his Fifteenth and Davenport street market house project was killed by Commissioner Ure and that, according to the laws on compensation, it would be proper for Mr. Ure to assume the management of the Auditorium project which is to be opened on June 1.

The commissioners, with a few opposition votes, thrust this honor upon the shoulders of Commissioner Ure.

The ordinance was recommended for passage on Tuesday morning. Commissioner Butler voted against the ordinance, explaining that he was opposed to using the basement of the Auditorium for market house purposes, because he did not think the city bought the building for that purpose.

Council Favors Joint City and County War Memorial

The city council committee of the whole appointed Mayor Smith as a committee of one to appear before the county board and ask that the county co-operate with the city officials in the erection of a memorial for Omaha's war heroes. Mayor Smith favors a memorial of utility rather than merely an ornamental monument.

SAVES WOMEN FROM TORTURE

Put a few drops on a touchy corn, then lift corn out with fingers

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and calluses on the bottom of your feet, but why care now?

For a few cents you can get a quarter ounce of the magic drug Freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati genius.

Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly, yes immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying, frezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical. It is a compound made from ether, says a well known druggist here.—Adv.

Unitarian Pastor Objects to Church Federation Name

Rev. Robert F. Leavens In Sunday Sermon Says Title of Newly Formed Religious Organization Not Representative of Membership, But Includes Only Orthodox Christians.

In his sermon Sunday, Rev. Robert F. Leavens, minister at the First Unitarian church, spoke along the same lines as the Rev. J. Delman Kuykendall, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church in an article which appeared in the Sunday issue of The Bee, and which attacks the name of the recently reorganized Omaha Church association.

"Orthodox Christians are justified in organizing, if they wish," said Rev. Mr. Leavens, "but they should not call such an organization a church federation."

Rev. Mr. Leavens spoke along the following lines: "Once more it has been made plain that our church is not regarded as a Christian church and is not considered fit to co-operate with the other so-called Christian churches of Omaha Church association."

"We do not deny to one the right to believe in the deity of Christ if this doctrine seems to him to be the truth. But we insist that he has no right to require it as a condition of membership in a federation of churches. Orthodox Christians are justified in organizing, if they wish, into an offensive and defensive alliance, only let them call it that, not a church federation."

"The more serious feature of this situation is that these actions are taken by only a minority of the church people. Out of a total of approximately 100 ministers of Protestant churches in this city, there were but 25 who voted on this question last Monday. Last November when belief in the deity of Christ was made a condition of membership in the Omaha Church federation, there were hardly 50 persons present in that dimly lighted room. In other words, it is the apathy of the church-going and non-church-going public, especially the devout and earnest-minded liberals, which is of most serious concern. When needed, they are not to be found. The church is a public institution, not a private enterprise. Whatever strength it may have is due largely to the support of the public. For its failures the public is at least 50 per cent to blame."

"This condition is no credit to Omaha. It does not exist in all parts of the country, but is strongest in the south and here in the middle west. It is said that there are in the United States 185 denominations and subdivisions of denominations of Christianity, all trying to maintain existence. With more than 50 per cent of the population unchurched, with the soldiers returning from their soul searching experiences in France, with the work of reconstruction waiting to be done and the world crying out to be made new, with vice in the underworld, wickedness in high places, human suffering and want on every hand appearing in the name of God for human help, here are the churches of Christianity haggling over their ancient and lifeless dogmas."

"It is not going to be any easy matter to achieve church unity. Roman Catholics have what may seem to them a simple solution, to make the whole world Catholic; the Episcopalians speak of their church as "the church," and of the others as mere denominations; there are Unitarians who think that the time is coming when everybody will be a Unitarian. This is unity with uniformity, one creed, or one form of worship, or one system of government. And it is impossible.

"Suppose there were created a unit of this kind. In less than 24 hours there would be individuals and groups breaking off here and there to worship God and to seek the truth according to dictates of their own consciences. What is more, they would know that here in the United States they have been guaranteed the right to exist, by the well established principle of religious liberty.

"The only kind of church unity for which there is any hope is a confederation resembling that of the covenant which has just been drawn up in Paris as a working agreement whereby the nations, instead of fighting one another, may co-operate in promoting the well being of mankind. This would give us not a super church, but a representative federation open to all churches, fully recognizing the right of each church to self determination in matters of creed, ritual and government, united in the purpose of promoting the material, moral and spiritual advancement of mankind, and having a secretariat, if you please, to carry on the work. You may say that such a federation already exists in the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America. But the federal council is in reality an orthodox organization. It still retains the condition for membership which caused it to shut the door in the face of no less a man than Edward Everett Hale, the Isaiah of America.

"There are many difficulties in the way of achieving this kind of church unity, but if democracy can succeed in the United States and in the league of nations, so it can among the churches. In all three instances it is a matter of liberty and union. And if this kind of church unity cannot succeed, neither can democracy succeed."

Got Light Sentence. Fred Blake, charged with stabbing with intent to wound James Burns at 809 North Twenty-third street, April 10, was allowed to plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery before District Judge Redick Monday, was sentenced to 30 days in jail.
