PROHIBITION.

NOHIBITION includes a few yards of other things besides the merry suds. While congress hasn't reach enough to cancel the fuzzy lavallieres that ukulele chauffeurs dangle around their neckpieces, there are a lot of habits that congress can flatten with a few nimble laws.

. The next prohibition is going to be proHOPbition. With the accent on the hop! There are more birds sniffing the dizzy snow in Omaha than there are bugs paying the extra tax on 10-cent movie tickets. There are more sapps waltzing from the neck up in American than there are dancing from the neck down in Hawaii.

Gargling the bubbles is a habit that can be broken if the habit lets you live long enough. But busting a habit is like breaking a dish. Instead of one habit you have a thousand little cracked habits. As the Good Book says: Wine is a mocking bird and strong drink is a cuckoo. But the birds who could either drink a little or a lot, will do neither after next year. The lads who looked on the wine when it was red will now pipe the beeyo when it's soun-colored. pipe the beevo when it's soup-colored.

While beevo isn't exactly one of the scenic wonders of the world, and Ruel, c., 3 the railroad companies will never be compelled to run excursion trains. Tien, p., 3 to a ginger pop garage, still there will never be any homes broken up on sarsaparilla. You can drink enough to swim across without getting anything but drowned.

The only bad feature about beevo is that they want you to pay a tax Which is something like shining the shoe that kicked you.

Diluted by the Censor.

With the kick hobbled like a fashionable flapper, beer will be deader thon Bolo Pasha, who is plenty dead. The old stuff has lost its ginfluence. And the rebus part of the whole works is that the lobb who never bought a drink is the goof who is agin prohibition like a red signal is agin an engineer. You can't make omelets out of hard-boiled eggs. He laughs at scars who never paid a bar check. Yea, bo!

But booze hasn't stymied one-half the birds that hophas nicked. Before the adding machine coughed and rolled over on its intricate back, the bulls figured that there were 5,000 Omahans who were up to their ears in the old dream dust. Can you beat it? Can you beat it? Over 5,000 high jumpers in a walking community. And the stuff affects everybody

Nothing private about it. The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sniffers under the sealskins. It's a well ballyhooed fact that a camel can't pass through the eye of a needle, but no camel would try that unless he had been using the needle first. The bulls are going after the hoppers in the right way this time.

The only way to amputate a weed is to slap it at the roots. The fat-necked lizards who grow plump manufacturing hop are the birds who are slated for a trimming. Pinching a cokie doesn't stop the graft any-more than painting a 1902 fliver stops the rattle.

Grabbing the millionaires who peddle the delirium powders is the way to put the dampers on the parade.

And the bulls have finally snatched the right idea by the ears.

The bottom of the evil is at the top.
