

South Side NEIGHBORHOOD ROW AIRED IN POLICE COURT

Neighbors Darbey and Lawler Sent Thence and Cautioned Not to Do Any More Talking.

The peace of South Omaha was disturbed, both in the vicinity of Y street and also in the police court, Tuesday when six women, two men and two children appeared before the judge in an effort to settle a neighborhood quarrel.

Mrs. Freda Darbey, Twenty-second and Y streets, was charged by her neighbor, Mrs. Mamie Lawler, with disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Lawler pleaded her case, using the language that so horrified Mrs. Darbey.

Mrs. Lawler stated that she had lived two years in her present location, but that her neighbors were only transients—they only remained a few months.

"No wonder," one attorney was heard to remark.

Mrs. Lawler charged that her neighbor gave such late and noisy dances that she and her husband could not sleep; that she made such long calls that they could not work.

"She's just a meddlesome Molly," Mrs. Lawler said as a climax.

"What you need there is a moving van and a few policemen," commented Attorney Wheeler.

The judge, dismissed the neighborhood delegation with the admonition to talk no more.

The Luana club orchestra, directed by Miss Ethel Mulholland of the Effie Steen Kippelson studio will assist.

Three Brothers in Jail

Three brothers, Theodore Check, 11, Frank, 12, and John Check, 13 years old, were arrested Tuesday afternoon by Officers Lepinski and Risk at their home, 2615 H street.

The boys were charged with breaking into Henderson's flower store, Twenty-fifth and H streets, Monday night and taking $24.

Police say that the Check boys claim the door was open and they took the money from the till.

The boys are in jail, awaiting trial.

Prindle Finds That Democracy Is Most Expensive for Him

Democracy carried to extremes is costly, as Harry Prindle, 4926 South Nineteenth street, learned yesterday in police court.

Harry's over-zealous democratic spirit caused him to be arrested Saturday by Officer Morton on the Q street car. He was charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Furthermore, it cost him $25 and costs.

"I suppose I was using rough language," Prindle admitted, "but I was using it all in the interests of democracy. I've served democracy all my life, and if I get in jail for it now, I'm sure through with democracy."

It was charged that Prindle called all men refusing to sign a petition he gave them "bolsheviks and I. W. W."

"You may have followed the path of democracy hitherto, but you're surely off the beaten path now," said the judge.

Two Hundred Pints of Liquor Found by Police

Two hundred pints of liquor were seized by South Side police at 9 o'clock Monday night when a car, driven by Edward Marshall, 519 1/2 North Sixteenth street, was stopped and searched by police at Sixteenth and M streets. Marshall was charged with illegal possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor.

Marshall, who was discharged from the army in January, was arraigned before Police Judge Foster, sitting in the South Side court, this morning. A fine of $100 and costs and a jail sentence of 30 days was imposed by the judge upon both charges.

Although he stated that neither the car nor the liquor were his, he refused to divulge the name of the person who had employed him to transport the contraband.
