Rotarians Boom May-time Lunch Wednesday

Tips Added More Than $100 to the Fund for Associated Charities in One Day.

Good cheer was the keynote at the May-time lunch room for the Associated Charities at Orchard & Wilhelm's on Wednesday. One hundred and thirty-five members of the Rotary club headed by their president O. S. Goodrich, did stunts, sang and made merry, providing an hour's pleasure for the other guests and busy May-time women who joined happily in the singing as they rushed on with their work. The Rotarians were a unit in their praise of the hospitality of the women workers and generously scattered coins among the pretty waitresses and the matrons at the hat stand. These were gratuities, adding more than $100 to the Associated Charities fund.

Rehearsals for "Pan and the Rose Fairy," Mrs. Myron Learned's new masque, were started Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Arabella Kimball. This masque will be produced in June at the Creche and the Woman's Service league will share equally in the proceeds. An informal reading of the parts was held, under the direction of Miss Lillian Fitch, who has come from Chicago especially to coach the performers. "Peter Rabbit" was as cute as he could be even at the first reading, and Hart Jenks was dramatic from the beginning, as he read both his own part and the one which will be taken by Hugh Wallace. Mrs. Doory and one or two others knew most of their lines, and all indicated a point to a most interesting production. There will be about 250 in the cast.

Servant Problem May Be Solved In England In Near Future.

Because of the scarcity of servants, England is flooded with schemes for daily servants and servants by the hour, says Ruth Clark, British Y. W. C. A. workers in a letter recently received at headquarters of the National War Work Council in New York.

"These schemes have every element of success," Miss Clark says. "The only drawback is that girls cannot be found to take them up, whereas mistresses are clamoring at the doors. The problem is acute and a solution must be found which will tempt girls who have been in industry to return to domestic service. Conditions being offered now seem attractive enough, very fair and just, and proclaim a revolution in the status of this type of service."

"The general unrest, which was inevitable, will, I believe, soon settle down. Meanwhile it is splendid fun to watch things grow happy again. In the old days London was a walking hospital for wounded soldiers, but now there are few to be seen. Hundreds are getting back into multifarious again."

"All over the place houses are being painted. Next month the butter ration goes up to 2 ounces a week. Cream buns and fruits are reappearing in the shops. The newspapers have grown fat again and there is going to be a wonderful season."

My Recipe for Jelly Tarts.

By Yvette Mitchell.

When first I was featured in two-reel western melodramas I had occasion to play cook. I even fried frijoles and went through the motions of cooking a la Mexicana. But the dishes I enjoy most are "pure Yankee." This is the way I make jelly tarts:

To one-half pound of cottage cheese work one-half pound of butter with fingertips. Add two cups of flour, half cup sugar. Mix into dough. Put on ice overnight. Roll out into three-inch squares and fill with raspberry jam or jelly. Pinch ends of dough together. Bake in quick oven.

Keep clean inside, as well as outside. Do not allow food poisons to accumulate in your bowels. Headache, a sign of self-poisoning, will point to numerous other troubles which are sure to follow. Keep yourself well, as thousands of others do, by taking, when needed, a dose or two of the old, reliable, vegetable, family liver medicine.
