

FREMONT ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS ACT AS HOSTS

Rotarians From Nebraska and Sioux City Aid in Giving the New Organization a Proper Start.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Fremont, Neb., May 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The "baby rotary," or Nebraska's seventh rotary club, was ushered into being here this evening with 300 delegates from rotary clubs of Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings, Beatrice and York in attendance.

The "tractor city" welcomed its guests royally. Seventeen strong, charter members of the new organization formed the warmest of reception committees. The special train from Lincoln bearing the delegates from that city was met at the station by a committee. Thirty automobiles from Omaha were given special attention.

The Hastings delegation brought a band. Songs and Yells. The meeting opened in true rotary style, glasses tinkling, songs and yells filling the air, and a general stampede of members. Charley Strade of Lincoln, governor of the Sixteenth Nebraska district of the international organization, was toastmaster. The gathering resembled more a college turnout than an assemblage of business men bent on doing the city and country a service.

"Joe" Hahn, Chicago rotarian, known throughout rotary clubs of the country as the leagues' leading entertainer, presided at the piano. Ninety Omahans were present.

Dr. E. C. Henry, formerly a major in the medical service in France during the war, and also former president of the Omaha club, delivered the principal address of the evening.

Age of Service. "We are living in an age of service," he said. "The war is over and the period of reconstruction is at hand. There is not a man here who cannot become part and parcel of the great world work."

The doctor told the story of his year's service with the American Red Cross at Savenay where there are accommodations for 12,000 patients; of the heroism and sacrifice of the boys who saw action and who later gave their life's blood in great quantities by transfusion that others might live. He criticized the British commander, Sir Douglas Haig, for having forgotten to mention that America had taken a vital part in the war.

Allies Were Whipped. "England and France were licked," he said, "and everyone knows it." W. W. Bushman of Lincoln, delegate to the national convention of Rotarians in Salt Lake City, July 15 next, spoke on the general outline of "Rotarianism." Gov. Burt, president of the Lincoln association, "charged" the new charter members with their mission.

Officers for the Fremont Rotary club were elected at once as follows: Ray Hammond, president; Paul Colson, vice-president; Al Colson, secretary; Henry C. Gage, secretary and Harvey C. Kendall, sergeant-at-arms. Five directors were also appointed.

The meeting broke up with the entire attendance rising to the "Star Spangled Banner." Orville C. Goodrich, president of the Omaha Rotary club, and Harley G. Moorhead, election commissioner of Douglas county, were speakers.

Four Men Will Be Taken to Other States on Criminal Charges
Lincoln, May 22.—Four requisitions for the return of prisoners to other states were honored Thursday by the governor's office. Two of the men are wanted in Illinois, and two in Iowa. All are said to be under arrest in Omaha.

The Illinois authorities want Floyd Sheppard and Fred Hautop for the theft of an automobile. Eugene Schrier, former Springfield, Ia., banker, must face a charge of accepting deposits in his bank after it became insolvent.

Charles E. Brown will be returned to Des Moines for forging a check on the Boggs Drug company of that city.

Omaha Men Incorporate to Engage in Flying
Lincoln, Neb., May 22.—The Omaha Flying company, the second aerial navigation firm to be organized in Nebraska since the war, has filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Amshery. There are three incorporators, Walter R. Johnson and Arthur Balis, out of the army flying service, and John MacFarland, an Omaha attorney. The capital is to be about $15,000, and the object is "to promote aeronautics for exhibition and commercial purposes."

Detention Home Ordinance Postponed By City Council

Right of Inmates of Institution to Resist Forcible Examination and Treatment for Sexual Diseases to Be Further Considered in Committee Session.

Following the statement issued several days ago by Attorney John M. MacFarland that the recent supreme court decision did not relate to the constitutional right of inmates of the Women's Detention home to resist forcible examination and treatment for sexual diseases, Police Commissioner Ringer's ordinance relating to the management of the home yesterday morning was postponed by the city council for further consideration next Monday in committee.

Attorney MacFarland declared that he had agreed with City Attorney Weaver upon a statement of facts on which the appeal was to be taken. It was understood, he declared, that the question of the individual's constitutional right was to be ruled on by the supreme court.

Conference With Ringer. "This was our agreement," said Mr. MacFarland. "Subsequently Mr. Weaver held a conference with Mr. Ringer and this, the most important feature, was eliminated from the statement of facts, which previously had been agreed upon."

"Mr. Ringer agreed to obtain a ruling on this question would have been a deathblow to his pet Detention home. He feared to meet the issue in the supreme court. He dodged it."

"As far as this question is concerned, the matter ends just where it did before the decision was handed down. The ruling, so far as I understand it, is simply a recognition of the city ordinance granting authority to maintain a segregated place for the treatment of women suffering with sexual diseases. The individual's right to resist treatment is not involved in the decision."

Questioned Right of City. Commissioner Zimman questioned the right of the city to force persons to submit to blood extraction for the Wasserman test.

"I most emphatically shall vote against the ordinance," he declared. "There is every reason in the world why I shall vote against the measure. I shall make myself clear at the council meeting Monday morning."

Attorneys have made the point that the ordinance is in conflict with the statutes. "Mr. Ringer had every opportunity in the world to settle this question," declared Attorney MacFarland. "He deliberately refused to have the supreme court act in the matter, and now he attempts to override the statutes with an ordinance which cannot be enforced."

"It is absurd."

VOTE FOR BILL TO GIVE RELIEF TO POTASH MEN
Washington, May 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Green of Iowa, one of the ways and means committee, said after a meeting of the republican members this morning, that it had been determined to go ahead at once on a bill repealing the luxury tax. This will be followed by a bill to give relief to the domestic potash producers of the United States, which will undoubtedly be joyful news to the potash interests of Nebraska. The committee voted to have such a bill prepared.

There was some discussion among the republican members of the committee as to the expediency of including in the measure a license provision, such as was proposed by the war industries board during the closing days of the war, as a sure protection against the importation of the German product, but the committee took no action on this feature of the bill, leaving that matter open for further consideration.

Mr. Green said that while he was strongly in favor of increasing the duty on potash and making it high enough to give the potash producers of the United States a chance to meet foreign competition, he was opposed to the license system as urged by some of the members.

As soon as the repeal of the luxury tax is out of the way and certain other corrective measures are reported to the house, the ways and means committee will begin the preparation of a tariff bill along republican lines and will put it up to the president to veto or sign the same.

When the committee begins the consideration of potash legislation Mr. Green said the potash producers would be accorded ample opportunity to be heard on all phases of the question.

'Here Comes the Tramp' Was Greeting Husband Says He Got From Wife
"Here comes the tramp" is the greeting which Jacob Cohen received from his wife, Lena Cohen, when he returned from work, he alleges in a petition filed yesterday in district court.

They were married 32 years ago in New York City and came to Omaha 18 years ago. They have four children, Samuel, David, Herman and Meyer, ranging in age from 30 to 14 years.

Up until 1906, Mr. Cohen says, they lived happily together, but about that time, he charges, she began to show a desire to be rid of him. She told him he "could go," and opened the door for him, he says.

Denies Charges of Politics in Farm Loan Bank
That the Federal Land bank "was largely nothing more than an organization to provide positions for a lot of men who could not have otherwise succeeded," or that it was any less inefficient because of its "political founding" was denied yesterday morning by E. D. Morcom, treasurer of the Omaha Federal Land bank.

The attack mentioned was made by A. H. Kidd of Beatrice, president of the Loan and Savings association of that city, at the 28th annual convention of Nebraska Loan and Savings associations at the Hotel Fontenelle Wednesday.

Official Denial to Be Made. President D. P. Hogan of the Federal Land bank was out of the city, Mr. Morcom made the statement in his absence, stating that he would issue a special report denying, with facts, all of the charges made.

"The statement of A. H. Kidd of Beatrice," he said, "is simply part and parcel of the country-wide propaganda now being spread in the interests of the American Mortgage Bankers' association."

"The Federal Land bank of the United States has arrived at that stage of development where it is paying 6 per cent in dividends to its stockholders. It comes with poor grace from a loan association man to criticize so wonderful and so successful a system."

"The country is strewn with skeletons of failed associations." At the loan convention Wednesday during the closing hours E. L. Kester of Charlotte, N. C., president of the United States League of Loan and Building associations, advocated and presented the plan for the proposed "federal home loan bank," patterned after the Federal Land bank.

The attack on the land bank followed.

MINISTERS OF BAPTIST FAITH PAID DAY WAGES

Salaries Received by Majority of Pastors Blot on Denomination, Says New York Man.

Denver, May 22.—"Day-labor wages for Baptist clergymen is a blot on the denomination; less than half the nation's Baptist ministers receive $1,500 a year," is the declaration made to the Northern Baptist convention today by Dr. E. T. Tomlinson of New York, in presenting the report of the ministers, and missionaries' board.

This statement and plans of American Baptists for Americanization of aliens in the large cities were the outstanding subjects of today's session of the convention.

Figures presented by Dr. Tomlinson showed that Arizona ranks highest in the salaries paid its clergymen, 58 per cent of its Baptist ministers receiving $1,500 a year or more. Massachusetts, Montana, Nevada and South Dakota are next in order. Maine is at the bottom of the list, with 10 per cent receiving the above salary, and New York has only 11 per cent, while Vermont has 12.

A plea for a higher standard for qualification of clergymen was made by Dr. Tomlinson, who urged that service rather than ordination should be the basis for granting pensions to disabled or superannuated ministers.

Americanization plans were outlined in the report on clergy missions and the report on Baptist bodies using foreign languages.

"Proclamation of the gospel or the conduct of public worship in a foreign language is a temporary expedient and not a concession to race sentiment," the report declared. Provision for use of the English language as soon as foreign-speaking people become acquainted with the language was urged.

A matter of importance scheduled to come up tomorrow is a new declaration of Baptist doctrine to be presented by the executive committee of the convention. There was no hint as to its nature, but it was admitted that the declaration is being prepared to represent the conservative element in the convention and was prompted by the forthcoming discussion of an inter-church federation to finance 30 religious denominations.

Listen to Mr. Pure-Bred Hog— Mr. Pure-Bred Hog Says to You—

"I Am the Hog for Profits. I Can Make You Rich."

The Pure-Bred hog has been doing that for thousands. He has made more and larger new fortunes than were ever made before. "Hogs are the mortgage lifters of the farm," says Ogden Armour.

The Pure-Bred is the highest type of hog. He works twice as fast as the scrub hog, eats half as much to make a pound of weight, and breeds twice as large litters. He is the most efficient of all domestic animals. Comparatively he is a new discovery. Less than two per cent of American hogs are pure-breds. In time all hogs will be pure-breds. Agricultural economics make that certain.

Almost all farmers now realize it. Just now they are falling over themselves to buy Pure-Breds. The competition is so great, the supply so limited, that the price of a quality hog has been practically standardized at a figure from twenty to one hundred times more than cost. Think of that. A mighty demand, a limited supply, and a profit standard about 2,000%. These are almost unbelievable facts, but authentic recorded sales in thousands of instances all over the United States prove it.

Omaha lies in the center of the greatest hog producing section of the world. The greatest number of pure-breds are required in its neighborhood. It is now fast becoming the greatest hog market on earth. Because of the need to get the utmost income from the valuable-land, hogs will be most widely raised. There is, therefore, the greatest market to be found everywhere for the pure-bred hog.

The Skinner Pure-Bred Hog Ranch

has been established at Ralston, the gateway to Omaha, to share in the wonderful future of the pure-bred hog. The ranch will produce hogs of the finest quality, over $150,000 is to be invested in four foundation herds of the finest breeding to be procured. These hogs will be famous and will give their blood, it is hoped, to the improvement of countless herds in the Corn Belt.

The ranch is now being equipped for the accommodation of the high grade foundation stock, to be cared for in the most scientific manner. There is a large elevator with the property, which will store 20,000 bushels of feed. The location is reached by paved road and street car line from Omaha and it has splendid market advantages. All departments of the ranch will be under the direction of trained experts.

As is shown by the course of development of all businesses that appeals to great numbers of people, the Skinner Pure-Bred Hog Ranch realizes that it is valuable to secure large numbers of farmers for co-operative results, first for publicity's sake and then for markets. This plan, which has been followed by many of our prominent enterprises is successful beyond question. Therefore, in order to place the farmers, stock-raisers and intending hog producers of this state in harmony with this company, all joining in our co-operative arrangement will be given the right to secure pure-bred hogs raised on the ranch at discounts and moderate cost. They will also be given the benefit of our experiment and statistical service, which will cover all phases of breeding.

Full details of this plan, and the immediate help we can render to farmers, as well as the future returns that will come to them, can be secured from us without cost or liability, and BY MAIL, by inquiry of the
