From the start we purposely avoided making claims for the Essex. Our restraint was that of absolute confidence.

We knew it was certain to become popular, and that public favor would carry its fame further and with more effect than anything that could be written about it.

Therefore, we decided to let those who tried the Essex advertise it.

Today a rapidly multiplying army of friends is giving it the most powerful advertising known-disinterested, but enthusiastic, praise from living lips. From some of them you probably already have heard about the Essex; enough to make you curious and eager to examine and ride in it.

It is interesting to hear the Essex discussed from the view-points of widely diverging types of people.
