

SAYS THE ALLIES HAD TO SUPPLY ARMIES OF U. S.

Capt. Archie Roosevelt Writes of Conditions in American Overseas Forces During the War.

New York, May 26.—(Special).—Capt. Archie Roosevelt, in the current issue of Everybody's, concludes his series of stories of conditions that prevailed in the A. E. F. during the earlier months of the war.

Regular army officers, promoted by the seniority rule, evinced, in most cases, he says, an ineradicable purpose to fight the Germans on Indian war principles. Staff work was execrable, he charges, and blunders that worked havoc with morale and cost many lives were frequent. His chief ground of criticism, however, is the lack of food and equipment during the period of intensive training in bitter cold weather prior to the Cantigny campaign.

Colonel Roosevelt, the captain's father, and Mrs. Archie Roosevelt, he says, supplied the shoes the men of his company wore during the battle of Cantigny.

Points to "Roseate Falsities." Directing attention to what he calls "roseate falsities" industriously circulated with regard to the excellent army service, Captain Roosevelt says:

"To refute the deliberate lies put forth by those who show their efforts accomplished, I will list some of the supplies of our division when in the trenches nine months after we had declared war on Germany: "Shoes—Mostly English and French. The English shoes did not fit and were the cause of most of our foot troubles.

"Uniforms—A great many British uniforms, actually equipped with buttons stamped with the royal insignia. Some of our men would not stand this and ripped the buttons off, but most of us were only too glad to get the British uniforms, which were far superior to the thin shoddy American uniforms.

Caps Made in France. "Caps—French. Manufactured in France. Those later manufactured in the United States were so ridiculous that even the general staff made no effort to force them on us.

"Airplanes—French and generally condemned French machines. "Artillery Horses—Condemned French horses.

Field Artillery—French. "Signal Equipment—French with instructions written in French.

Captain Roosevelt also lists French automatics and machine guns and British mortars and ammunition. The only entirely American equipment in the First division was rifles, but he instances several companies of untrained men coming into the war zone with pitted weapons, which he took to be condemned national guard rifles.

Files Slander Suit

Charles H. Glads, 3337 Boyd street, filed suit in district court yesterday, against his neighbor, Wilhelm Deines, 3335 Boyd street, asking $5,000 damages for alleged slander.

He charges that Mrs. Deines called him a thief and other names and that she said he just got out of "a high board fence," an expression which he says meant the penitentiary.

COUNCIL TO NAME ARMY PHYSICIAN FOR HEALTH JOB

Butler and Zimman Vote Against Appointment, Suggesting That Local Man Should Be Favored.

The city council committee of the whole yesterday recommended offering to Dr. James P. Edwards of Camp Mills the position of health commissioner at a salary of $4,000 per year for the remainder of this year, and $5,000 per year beginning January 1, 1920.

Commissioners Butler and Zimman voted against the adoption of the resolution.

"I am satisfied that we have competent material right here in Omaha, and I even believe that if Dr. Manning should ask this council to reconsider his resignation, we would be glad to do so. The physicians recommended Dr. Manning a year ago and now they are recommending an outside man. I don't just understand it," said Commissioner Zimman.

Mayor Smith said he had spoken to many prominent Omaha physicians and had been advised that it would be necessary to go out of Omaha to get the right kind of talent for the position.

Commissioner Butler declared that the appointment of an outside man is a reflection on Omaha. His conversations with physicians on this subject led him to believe that they favored an Omaha man. Dr. Edwards was in Omaha last week for a brief visit. He is chief surgeon at Camp Mills and was a member of the public health department of Pittsburgh for 11 years, serving for seven years as its head.

McKenna and Jones, Automobile Thieves, Sentenced to Prison

William McKenna and Lovell C. Jones were sentenced to the penitentiary for terms of one to seven years each by District Judge Redick yesterday. They pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny.

They were the state's principal witnesses in the trials of "Red" Neal and Maurice Katleman on the charge of aiding and abetting grand larceny, particularly the stealing of automobiles. County Attorney Shotwell secured conviction of both Neal and Katleman and they are also under sentence of one to seven years each in the penitentiary, but are out on bond pending their appeals to the supreme court.

McKenna and Jones were arrested in January, 1919, and have been in jail ever since. They pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile from the corner of Seventeenth and Farman streets, September 27, 1918. They say they did this at the order of Katleman, drove the car to Nebraska City and left it by prearrangement on the east side of the court house with the cushions turned upside down as a signal.

County Attorney Shotwell asked the court to take note of the five months McKenna and Jones have already spent in jail and Judge Redick ordered that this be considered as part of their penitentiary sentence.

"We said during the Neal and Katleman trials that McKenna and Jones had not been promised leniency and this proves it," said Mr. Shotwell.

GEN. WOOD AND MAJOR BULLOCK STOP IN OMAHA

General In City On Way to Lincoln to Deliver Commencement Address at State University.

Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood and Maj. Seth Bullock were distinguished visitors in Omaha yesterday.

The general arrived from Chicago at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and proceeded immediately to Lincoln where he delivered the commencement address at the University of Nebraska. He expects to come this way again when he goes to Deadwood, S. D., to deliver the dedicatory address on Mount Theodore Roosevelt, July 4.

Major Bullock called on Victor Rosewater and Col. T. W. McCulloch at The Bee office yesterday morning. The dedicatory address of Mount Theodore Roosevelt, three miles from Deadwood, will be in connection with a home-coming celebration. Two bronze tablets will be placed on this mountain which towers to an elevation of 6,000 feet and overlooks the country where the late Colonel Roosevelt hunted with his friend and guide, Major Bullock.

On one of the bronze tablets this inscription will appear: "In Memory of Theodore Roosevelt, the American, October 27, 1858; January 6, 1919. Society of Black Hills Pioneers, July 4, 1919."

Colonel Roosevelt was the only honorary member ever elected to this society.

Major Bullock suggests that Omaha should send at least a special car of visitors to the home-coming week program which will be held in his county, beginning June 30 and closing on July 5. "This is Omaha's territory and Omaha should recognize this big event," he said.

Colonel Tinley to Speak At Creighton Exercises

The principal address at the annual Flag day exercises Wednesday at Creighton university will be delivered by Col. Matt Tinley. The former president of the university, Father Francis X. McMenamy, now principal of the Missouri province of the Society of Jesus, will be present at the exercises. The mayor and other city commissioners will also be present.

TELLS LADIES HERE "WATCH YOUR STEP"

Can not camouflage a touchy corn but says they lift right out

A brisk, lively step is what charms more than a lovely skin, but your high heels have caused corns and you limp a little. That's bad, girls, and you know it. Corns destroy beauty and grace, besides corns can be lifted out with the fingers. Rid your feet of every corn by asking at any drug store for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, touchy corn, relieves the soreness and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out without pain.

This freezone is a gummy substance which dries instantly and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding skin.

Women must keep in mind that cornless feet create a youthful step which enhances her attractiveness.

Pain

Here is a message to suffering women, from Mrs. Kathryn Edwards, of R. F. O., Washington Court House, Ohio. "I am glad to tell, and have told many women, what I suffered before I knew of Cardui and the great benefit to be derived from this remedy. A few years ago I became practically helpless..."

Card-u-i

The Woman's Tonic "I was very weak," Mrs. Edwards goes on to say, "and could not stoop without suffering great pain... Nothing seemed to help me until I heard of Cardui and began the use of it. I gradually gained my strength... I am now able to do all my work." If you need a tonic take Cardui. It is for women. It acts gently and reliably and will probably help you as it helped this lady.

Wants Police to Find Husband She Lost Because He's Jealous

Amanda Johnson has lost her husband. She asked aid of police this morning to discover his whereabouts which she thinks is Sioux City, Ia.

"He's a grand man, but terribly jealous of me," Amanda told John Dunn, chief of detectives.

"He's a carpenter and makes good money but he likes whisky at times. About a week ago he came home half pickled and I said a little too much to him, I guess.

"Anyway he quit me. The real trouble is, though, that I had a job in an apartment house cleaning rooms at which I made $21 a week. My work necessitated being with a man who also had a job in the place. My husband used to raise hell about this fellow.

"But believe me I think too much of my man to trifle at all. Now he's gone. I don't know what I'll do," and tears showed in her eyes.

Mrs. Johnson says she will keep on searching for hubby until she finds him.

In the meantime she's down to $2, "enough to rent a room," she says.

A place to sleep secured, Amanda purposes getting another job then when a little money is again saved she will resume the hunt for hubby.

The couple formerly resided at 2110 Harney street.

Mayor Names Three Ex-Soldiers On Body To Welcome Soldiers

Mayor Smith yesterday morning received a telegram from Adjutant General Harris of the United States army definitely assuring the mayor that the 355th infantry and the 341st machine gun battalion would come to Omaha for a three-hour stay "for parade and entertainment purposes."

"The commanding officer will wire definite date as soon as the routing has been determined," the telegram read. This explains a previous telegram sent Saturday by the general to the mayor to the effect that the order to have the Nebraska contingents stop off in Omaha had been revoked.

The mayor has appointed three soldiers, formerly of the 355th, who returned from France recently as casuals, on the general committee of welcome. They are: B. C. Grasborg, former supply sergeant, divisional headquarters; Martin Lundin, former member of Company E, and James P. McCabe of the same company.

Council Promises to Probe Circumstances Of Library Contract

Bruce McCulloch, member of the public library board, obtained from the city council committee of the whole today a promise to investigate the circumstances of the council awarding a library improvement contract against the recommendations of the library board.

"The issue of whether the city council or public library board has authority to award library contracts should be clearly defined," said Commissioner Zimman.
