Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Mulisified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Adv.

She possesses several stage offers from managers of eastern circuits. Both girls will first go to San Francisco thence to Los Angeles. Their stay will last several months.

War Camp Community

A meeting of a large number of representatives of different Patriotic league clubs, Y. W. C. A. clubs and others was held at the Y. W. auditorium Sunday afternoon and a short rehearsal held for the welcome to be given the 89th when they return this week. It is the plan of Harry Morrison, the song leader, to have the girls all meet on the day which will be designated by the mayor when the troops return, they will all be given caps and arm bands of their organizations when they will proceed to the station. They will then be stationed with song leaders at different points along the march and sing as the parade goes by. It is urged that all girls whether they belong to Y. W. C. A., Patriotic league, Jewish Welfare club, Catholic clubs and are desirous of helping make Omaha's singing welcome a success, meet when the call is given and bring their friends who are interested. At least 400 girls should turn out. It will be one day this week. It is the plan to have a hand accompany this group when they sing.

Sunday afternoon about 100 boys going through Omaha from Camp Mills where they have been ever since the armistice was signed when they were going aboard, to go across stopped till 1-30 a. m. Monday. The Y. M. C. A. gave them a shower and then they were taken by the War Camp Community service to Lake View park and given their supper and three concession tickets each admitting them to any of the amusements there. One-half of these concession tickets were donated by Joe Munchoff, manager of the park. The boys enjoyed this first entertainment that they have received since leaving the camp and left for Fort D. A. Russell with hearty thanks to Omaha for their good time.

One day this last week an 18-year-old boy by the name of Joseph Sobotka decided that he wanted to do something and after talking with Mr. Levings, club director of the Army and Navy club, decided the would enlist in the army and take advantage of their student training course, but when his mind was all made up they told him that because of his age it would be necessary for him to have the consent of his parents or guardian, when it was learned that he had no living relative much less a guardian, so again Mr. Levings stepped into the breach, went to the court house and after the necessary proceedings was officially appointed his guardian, gave his consent to the young man, who now is one of Uncle Sams new recruits.

In the past 14 days, 11 dances have been under the immediate direction of War Camp Community service for the transient men going through Omaha and the men stationed here. They have been given at the Army and Navy club, Girl's Community house, Fort Crook, Fort Omaha. Through the co-operation of the Unitarian church and the All Saints church their parish house and clubs will be available for use for dances from time to time. Any other churches and organizations which are willing to co-operate with the local War Camp Community service in helping provide amusement, use of cars for auto rides for an hour or two during the day or have halls that can be used for dances, will please communicate with the local office.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

Was Moore dreaming Or under a spell When he wrote that Life's but a waste Of wearisome hours Which seldom the rose Of enjoyment adorns. He sighs with thousands And thousands of folks Who enjoy their sadness And revel in gloom Who moan that the heart First awake to the flower Is always the first To be touched by the thorn. Ah! Give me the flowers— What care I for the thorns That are hidden by blooms. If I look I shall find them But why bear the yoke Of hunting for thistle When the world's full Of the blushing red rose? Bless be the ones Though they're touched By the thorns. Who are always first Wide awake to the flowers. Why woe along in Life's funeral procession Of gloom just to be with A cynical few— Let's seek the grand highway And become a bit useful— Help make a good showing For life's gay parade. SELAH!

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entangled and properly cleaned each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Adv.

Now the "Casaque" Blouse

There is a new blouse which is called a "Casaque," which is an adaptation of the Cossack or Russian blouse that appears every season in a new guise, but which always preserves a semblance of the Russian lines. Peasant embroidery in colorful tones trims these blouses, which are made of charmeuse, pongee or linen. This attractive Casaque model is made of natural pongee embroidered in old blue. It is worn with a skirt to match and gives the appearance of a one-piece dress. The neplum shows only at the front. Sash ends run from the side and tie in a bow at the back. With this smart summer costume, which is suitable for morning or afternoon, is worn a hat of old blue straw wreathed in rose and blue flowers.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Love Comes Unbidden and, "To Love or Not We Are No More Free Than the Ripple to Rise and Leave the Sea."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

B. A. C.—If your girl is away and you wish to be true to her and not go with any other girls, then why don't you follow your natural inclination? What the other boys think about it does not matter. If you are not engaged to the one girl and otherwise under no obligation to confine your attentions to her, there would be nothing wrong in accepting another girl's society for an occasional evening. It is wrong for a strange man to address a girl and it is your duty as her escort to protect her from such undesirables if possible. If the girl knows the man, however, but you do not, it is all right for them to stop and exchange greetings, providing the necessary introduction takes place. If a man is engaged to a girl he may give her presents, or even if not engaged, an exchange of gifts is permissible, but they should be inexpensive and so chosen as not to cause embarrassment.

An Address. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a reader of The Omaha Bee and am also interested in the Lovelorn column. Am coming to you for information. Would like to know Rev. C. W. Savidge's street address? Hoping to see an answer in The Bee soon. A READER. No. 2228 Maple street.

Hayakawa's Address. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I hope I may secure through your good advice column the address (personal) of Sessue Hayakawa? I have found that his home is in Hollywood, Cal., but do not know what street it is. YOURS TRULY, MISS LOKI.

Sorry, but I do not know his street address. Just "Hollywood" will be a sufficient address for a letter, or Haworth Pic. Corporation, Brunton Studio, Los Angeles.

Jew and Gentile. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: You are just wonderful the way you help make sad hearts happy, and I am certain you can help me out and make me as happy as you have made other girls.

I am not a "kid" and have met many young men, but a year ago I met a boy whom I now think the world of and I know he dearly loves me. He was overseas about nine months and has written to me every day, and now he has returned and wants me to become his wife. He is a Gentile and I am Jewish, and if my folks knew that they would never let me speak to him. I don't want to give him up. He has been like a brother to me, treated me as good as any girl would want a fellow to be towards her, and here this question of religion is in the way. Please let me have your advice, Miss Fairfax; you must help me make him happy.

Let me see this in print as soon as you possibly can. Thank you. WORRIED.

Religious differences are the most difficult to overcome. There seems to be no basis from which to figure toward a conclusion. The Jew and the Gentile of the younger generation have broken down the religious barriers to a great extent, but, after all, your particular case depends upon how orthodox your parents are

How to Avoid Eye Strain at Movies

By Mary MacLaren

Are you a glutton for pictures? Don't be afraid to confess it—for so am I.

I am a living denial of the old saw that the cook doesn't like to taste her own cooking. And not only do I go to the theater to see myself—as others see me. I am a real "fan." Your favorites, I believe, are my favorites.

But often I have found that being a "movie glutton" has its drawbacks, especially if one frequents shows where the projection of pictures is bad.

You know most people go to the cinema two or three times a week, but I go five or six times some weeks and I have many friends who see more shows than that!

Some of them complain of eye-strain. Have you experienced it? Then let me give you a good prescription.

When you arise in the morning apply borax acid and 2 per cent argyrol to your eyes. You will find that will relieve the strain expeditiously. Keep this up and your eyes will rarely bother you.
