Patrolman Accused of Entering Home of Minnie Holman and Threatening Assault to Be Given Hearing.

Chief of Police Eberstein last night filed with the city council against Patrolman Foster E. Burchard, alleging that May 6 he broke into the home of Minnie Holman, 406 North Fourteenth street, and threatened Miss Holman with assault.

Burchard will be given a hearing before the council next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Police Commissioner Ringer said: "I have been informed that Burchard was not on police duty when he called at the Holman place, and that when released admittance, he forced his way in and then restrained Miss Holman from using her telephone."

Urge Thirteenth Street Be Made Boulevard

L. J. Gillett, president of the Southeast Improvement club, accompanied by 25 members, attended the city council meeting last night to urge the establishment of a boulevard on Thirteenth street from Missouri avenue to the county line at Harrison street.

The visitors wore white ribbons which read: "We want South Thirteenth street to be a boulevard." City Commissioner Towl, who also wore a ribbon, supported the boulevard project.

Commissioner Falconer said: "Our boulevard fund will not permit this improvement. This street should be paved with brick." An ordinance on this matter will be brought before the city council committee of the whole next Monday morning.

Omaha Awaits Action of The U. S. Shipping Board

Robert Manly, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday received word from Senator Norris that the senator had intervened with the United States Shipping board in an effort to have the quota of ships assigned to port of New Orleans turned over as soon as possible.

New Orleans is the "gateway" to Mississippi foreign trade, to which Omaha contributes a large part. The Chamber of Commerce 10 days ago asked that movement of ships assigned to the port be accelerated to meet an increase in South American and foreign trade with this section. It had been charged that New York City was claiming most of the available ships.
