GENERAL WOOD TAKES LINCOLN OFF ITS FEET

Distinguished Soldier Makes Many Friends Pays Tribute to Soldiers and Shies at Politics.

Lincoln, Neb., May 27.—Major Gen. Leonard A. Wood made himself solid with the people of Lincoln during his visit Monday and in the three speeches made it became evident that he was not afraid to come out and tell where he stands on many questions.

As a soldier the general favors preparedness that the United States may be in a position to meet any emergency which may arise. He favored a dry nation and said that he has no use whatever for anything un-American, the I. W. W. in particular.

Preparedness Not War.
In speaking of preparedness the general said, "Get out of your head the rotten idea that the possession of power means that a nation will be an oppressive one, or that preparedness to fight, means war. The men coming back do not like it. They are like a surgeon who does not want to be operated on because he knows what it means."

He paid tribute to the boys of the 89th division now returning and said they were better physically, morally and had a better conception of their duty as American citizens. "We want no autocracy," he added. "We must stand steady, with our feet on the ground and our eyes on God. We want cool-headed men to work out our problems."

No Reference to League.
General Wood did not refer to the league of nations; the nearest he came to it was when he said, "When any man becomes as much interested in your family as you are yourself, then it is time to tell him to move on."

A persistent newspaper reporter, representing a democratic daily paper, asked the general if he was going to be a candidate for the presidency. The answer the general gave did not enlighten the reporter in that regard, as he simply smiled at the young man's interest in the matter.

However, the general's impression left in Lincoln, appears to be that if the national republican convention should shoot the nomination in his direction, the general would not dodge. So far as Lincoln republicans are concerned they would be willing to see him stand up and stop the shot.

Sherman Was Wrong Wails Yank as Girls Welcome Him Back

(By Universal Service.)
New York, May 27.—Things came to Private Irving Warsoff in bunches today—especially kisses. With a war record way above par, he returned to his job in the sample card factory of Alexander Elder and Miss Sadie Turner, and this is what happened to him:

He found the place decorated in his honor.
He found 100 girls lined up, pursuing their red lips for a kiss.
He didn't disappoint them. In 10 minutes he was the most thoroughly kissed man in New York.

The boss informed him his pay would be raised $10 a week.
He was presented with a $100 gold watch.
"Sherman didn't know a darned thing about war—specially about its ending," soliloquized Private Warsoff.

He was taken to the Lord Lister hospital and expired in a short time. Two other Mexicans found in the room were held by police in connection with the shooting.

Lincoln, May 26.—(Special)—Publication of the story that the United States was in possession of enough poison to have put the German people in a deep sleep from which there would be no awakening and that the war not closed just as it did that the poison would have been put in use, discloses that right in the state house is a man who knew all about the proposition, but was not permitted to talk.
This man is L. E. Gunderson, state accountant in the office of State Auditor George W. Marsh, who had charge of the personnel of the men at the plant in the state of New York where the stuff was being manufactured.
Mr. Gunderson was in the plant 18 months and his parents were not permitted to know where he was located. They knew he was near
