

WELCOME HOME 89T

THE humanity of the entire world has had its faith vindicated--its safety, happiness, freedom, now return through you. The ideals for which you crossed three thousand miles of water, your sacrifices, your triumph in the right have formulated new standards for all mankind. The glory of your achievements, which we today celebrate, means universal admiration and pride.

WORDS fail to speak the proper terms of gladness with which we welcome you back. Nor do we yet fully appreciate the sacrifices made for us, the hardships undergone, the wounds suffered, that our homes, our families might still continue to enjoy the fruits of this land of Freedom.
