RATIFICATION OF COVENANT PLAN

President of Ohio University Addresses Congregation of Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Advocating the ratification of the league of nations plan as the only plausable means of bringing peace and economic welfare to the world, Dr. William O. Thompson, of Columbus, O., president of the Ohio State University and member of the Taft party, touring the country in the interest of the league of nations, addressed a large audience at the Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Dr. Thompson, who is a Presbyterian pastor, spent several months in France as head of an agriculture commission to investigate future production facilities of that country. He spoke with an intmate knowledge of European conditions at the pres-

As a result of the war the great allied countries have given up the idea of acquisition of territory by conquest, they are giving much attention to the betterment of the moral and economic conditions, and have agreed on what is perhaps the greatest peace treaty ever known in a remarkably short time.

The league of nations pact will aid in the settlement of these things. It will make such atrocities, as were carried on in Armenia impossible; it will make exploitation of the world impossible."

John D. Walker, ex-president of accompany the Taft party, spoke on the league of nations and its rela-tion to labor at the Grace Methodist church on the South Side.

Barnhart's orchestra was stationed. The folk dances of our allied European nations, with which the pageant opened, were an effective representation of the pleasures of countries at peace. The dances were given on the sward before the stage and thus afforded an ideal setting for the ruthless entrance of autocracy in his war chariot, drawn by slaves, with war, famine, pestilence, terror, death, and greed in its train. A group of refugees fled before the chariot to mingle with the scattered dancers and heighten the confusion of the erstwhile peaceful scene.

ACCOUNTING Cost-C. P. A.

With peace assured, we in America face a period of such commercial possibilities that but a few may be expected to appreciate adequately what this reconstruction period can mean to the nation and to the individual.

Just as the war was won by combining scientific principles and American spirit, so will our new business supremacy be builded. The individual who will prepare now to take part in the great work of the next decade is the man who will put himself above the plane of ordinary job competition, because the demands for qualified accountants are now greater than the supply, and experts will be increasingly hard to find.

PREPARE NOW FOR I. A. S. TRAINING. PEACE DEMANDS

Ambitious men and women who will master expert accounting need never fear competition, but, on the contrary, because of the income tax, new industrial and commercial activities, and other similar demands, will command higher salaries than ever before.

If you want to earn more than $3,000, it will pay you to investigate the I. A. S. Training. The present "impossible to satisfy" demands for all grades of accountants is an indication that the prophecy of conservative authorities that the shortage would be much greater after the war than before, is being realized.
