AUSTRIA GIVEN PEACE TERMS BY ALLIED POWERS

republic of German-Austrian. He was immediately stopped and the diplomatic blunder in the apparent recognition of the Germanic attributes of the new republic corrected.

The translator was now so nervous that presently he was caught telling the Austrians their replies must be verbal, instead of written. Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian delegation, rose to reply at the end of the translation, but M. Clemenceau waved him to his seat to permit M. Dostata, secretary of the conference, to place before him the text of the skeleton draft of the treaty. The Austrian delegate then rose and read his speech. He caused considerable surprise by choosing the French as the medium for his remarks.

M. Clemenceau and Marshal Foch, the latter sitting with the French delegation were obviously pleased at the choice of the language. As Dr. Renner proceeded with his discourse, revealing a tone of moderation and absence of recrimination or boasting, the train which had hung over the plenipotentiaries relaxed and all settled down to calm and reasoned appreciation of the Austrian plea.

Austria was given 15 days to reply to the terms. The Austrian treaty follows exactly the same outline as the German one and in many places is identical with it, except for the change in name. Certain specific clauses which applied only to Germany are, of course, omitted and certain new clauses included, especially as regards the new states created out of the former Austro-Hungarian empire.

The protection of the rights of the Hungarians, and the protection of the rights of the racial, religious and linguistic minorities in Austria, Czechoslovakia, Roumania and the Serbian-Croatian-Slovenian state.

Austria is left by the treaty a state of from six million or seven million people inhabiting a territory of between 5,000 and 6,000 square miles. She is required to recognize the complete independence of Hungary, Czechoslovakia and the Serbian-Croatian-Slovenian state, and to cede other territories which previously in union with her, composed the empire of Austria-Hungary with its population of over fifty million people.

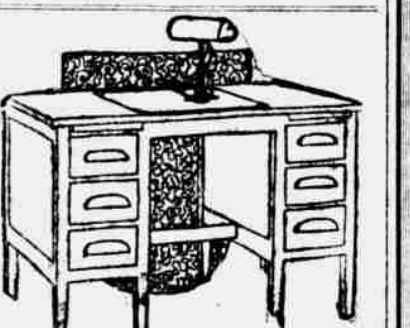

Austria agrees to accept the league of nations covenant and the labor charter, to renounce all its extra European rights, to demobilize its whole naval and aerial forces, to admit the right of trial by the allied and associated powers of its nationals guilty of violating the law and customs of war and to accept detailed provisions similar to those of the German treaty as to economic relations and freedom of transit.

Chancellor Renner, the Austrian chancellor, probably will go to Switzerland tomorrow. He remained at St. Germain today after the conclusion of the presentation of the allied terms.

In addition to the conference of representatives of the allied and associated powers, there were present many distinguished persons, including Marshal Foch, General Bliss, and American Ambassador Wallace. Chancellor Renner promised to do his best to bring about peace on the allied conditions.

Col. E. M. House was the only one of the American delegation not present at the session.

A mighty welcome was extended by more than 4,000 local Bohemians to 100 of their heroic countrymen, casuals, scared and maimed in five years of war, at the Auditorium, Monday night at 10:30 o'clock. The men, who are enroute from Vladivostok, Siberia, to their homeland, arrived in this city after numerous delays, about 10:15.

They are the first contingent of 5,000 Czecho-Slovak casuals assembled at the Siberian port to pass through this country. The unit consists of six officers and 94 men. Practically every one of the members of the unit is convalescing from serious wounds. Many of them have lost either an arm or a leg. Others are blind. Reports of Jewish Massacres Justify Rebuke From U. S. Washington, June 2.—Reports thus far received of the alleged massacres of Jews in Poland and other countries of eastern Europe justify a rebuke to the governments of those countries by the U. S. congress, Representatives Siegel, Laguardia and Goldfogle, all of New York, declared today at a hearing before the house Foreign Affairs Committee on resolutions relating to the alleged ill-treatment.

The new Polish government in turn was defended against the program charges by Representative Kleczka, of Wisconsin, who asserted the representations of his associates

REVENUE LAW NEEDS REVISION, SAYS ANDREWS

Wants Soft Drink Section Incorporated Into Sections 900 to 907; Would Eliminate Objections.

By a Staff Correspondent.

Washington, June 2.—Representative Andrews, speaking of the efforts being made by the ways and means committee to repeal section 904 of the revenue law relating to taxes on luxuries, so-called, said today:

"Sections 900 and 907 inclusive, of the revenue law, should be thoroughly revised, together with section 930, the soft drinks section, in one bill, instead of carrying section 904 in a bill by itself. This would take away certain manifest objections to these various sections.

"The discussion has indicated that the combined revenue that would be collected under all these sections would exceed $200,000,000. That money will be urgently needed to help meet a prohibitive deficit of between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000. Next year we should, however, find other sources of revenue at once to furnish that amount and repeal these objectionable excess taxes without undue delay.

"I am in favor of recommitting the bill, with instructions to the ways and means committee to report a measure that will take care of all these consumption taxes at one and the same time."
