

ONE OF NATURE'S COMMON TRICKS Acts just like a wireless message and "ouch" is the answer

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When you shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and "ouch" you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of frezzone. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.—Adv.

Neighbors All Talk About It SHE DECLARES Illinois Woman Had Not Known a Well Day in Twenty Years Restored to Health by Tanlac.

"I tried for twenty long years to find a treatment or a medicine that would give me some relief from my suffering, but my efforts failed completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Mrs. Charles Hofstetter who lives at 1216 Second street, Peoria, while in Suttill and Case's drug store a few days ago.

"Before I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Hofstetter, "there were months at a time that I was not able to leave my home at all, for I was so completely run-down and worn out from my years of suffering, that I was entirely too weak to get around. My trouble began with an attack of acute indigestion, and I can truthfully say that I didn't have a real well day during the entire twenty years and I wasn't able to eat a single substantial meal during that time. Why, I actually lived on such things as soups and broths, and I finally got to where even that caused me to suffer. Of course, I had to try to eat enough to keep me going, but what little I ate caused me so much misery that I actually got nowhere. I decided to see what mealtime come around. I was very nervous all the time, too, and I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep. I finally got so blue and discouraged over my condition that I just gave up all hope of ever being any better."

"Not very long after that, my husband and I decided to try Tanlac and he said he wanted me to give it a trial. Well, I must say that the way Tanlac overcame my troubles is the most wonderful thing I ever heard of. Why, in just a short time my nerves had improved so much that I was sleeping like a baby all night long. My appetite came back by the time I had taken my first bottle of Tanlac, and now it just looks like I can't get enough to eat. Everything I eat agrees with me, too, for I never have the slightest sign of indigestion any more. My stomach troubles have been completely overcome, and for the first time in twenty years I can eat and enjoy my hearty meals every day. I never have that tired, worn-out feeling now, and all my energy and strength have come back to me. I am so perfectly well and strong in every way, that I not only do all my household work, but I can get out and go anywhere I please. All my friends and neighbors are talking about my wonderful improvement, and I never fail to tell them that Tanlac is responsible for it. I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I just want to talk about it all the time."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Remington Pharmacy, Also Ford and West End Pharmacy, and in rest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading drug-gist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

COMMISSION REFUSES TO ACT IN PARK TRAGEDY

Ignore Demands From Parents of Children Drowned and Discuss Leavenworth Paving at Length.

Ignoring the demands of the parents of Anna Grabusich, 14 years old; Theresa Duffy, 10 years old; Edward Schneider, 10 years old, and Josephine Fritz, 13 years old, who were drowned in the pond at Riverview park last Thursday afternoon, to fix the responsibility for the tragedy, and without a single reference to the charge of accepting a bribe against Detective Jim Murphy, the city council yesterday morning launched into a long drawn out discussion on repaving Leavenworth street.

Mayor Smith and Commissioner Ringer remained silent on the two subjects, which have furnished the foundation of severe and bitter criticism aimed at the police department and at the mayor, whose duties require him to supervise the management of each department of the city government.

Many Complaints Registered. Complaints, particularly because of Commissioner Ringer's neglect to require a city physician to recall, have been registered. It was reported that the city physician did not arrive on the scene of last Thursday's drowning until three quarters of an hour after the accident occurred.

It has also been charged that some one connected with the police department was guilty of gross neglect in not having the pulmotor in working order.

No one of the city commissioners inquired at the session yesterday morning whether or not the pulmotor had been repaired, although one of Mr. Ringer's policemen, who helped recover the bodies from the pond, made the statement that at least one of the victims would have been saved had the pulmotor been in shape to use.

Although the police commissioner's attention has been directed to the fact that all of the other large main at the police station throughout the day to answer emergency calls in the country employ city physicians to hold themselves in readiness to respond to emergency calls, no provision has been made to station a city physician at police headquarters during the day.

Regardless of the public interest and demand for an investigation of last Thursday's tragedy and of the charges of bribery against Detective Jim Murphy, the repaving of Leavenworth from Forty-eighth to Sixty-sixth streets, occupied the undivided attention of the council.

"I have the old-fashioned notion," said the mayor, "that members of this council should deal with public contractors in the same manner with which they would act in their private business. If a contractor fails to live up to his contract, he should tell him to go to h—."

The street railway company was directed to proceed with relaying of its tracks on West Leavenworth street. W. A. Smith, appearing for the traction company, admitted that he had not been on West Leavenworth street since last fall.

J. P. Boyer, representing the West Leavenworth Improvement club, was overheard by Commissioner Zimman to whisper some comments to other members of the council.

COCONUT OIL FINE For Washing Hair. If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
