Soldiers and Officers See Dempsey Replica in Fast Training Stunts Preparing for Williams Scrap.

" One of the contestants in the main event at Fort Omaha Friday night. Soldier Johnny Lee took a spin out to the fort yesterday afternoon and worked out before the officers and men of the post, doing all his training stunts, including a four-round bout with "Baltimore," a negro boxer.

The soldier scrapper made a decided impression upon the witnesses and it was freely predicted among the boys at the post that he would give Harry Williams his hands full when they square off Friday night. A large crowd watched Johnny perform and the applause during and after his boxing was plentiful.

This afternoon, Harry Williams will work out at the fort to show the soldiers and the officers how predicted among a number of them that he will have to show something extraordinary to carry out that program. It is likely that Billy Uvick will be Harry's sparring mate this

Tickets On Sale Today.

The tickets for the bout will be placed on sale in all the hotels downtown in Omaha this afternoon and also at Ernie Holmes' billiard parlor and in the South Omaha Stock Exchange. The ringside seats will be $3 each and there will be 500 of them, so that there will be room enough for all that care to sit close to the ring. The other prices will be $2 and $1. The bouts will be staged in the open air, so that smoking will be permitted those who care to indulge.

The boxers, their managers and the fort officials have been asked whether ladies would be permitted to view the contests and in every case the answer is in the affirmative. Ladies will be as welcome as the men and it is to be hoped that quite a crowd of the fair sex will be on hand, for it is opportunity to show the ladies and others that boxing is no more brutal than any other sport. base ball, foot ball, hockey and a great deal less than auto racing.

Three four-round bouts and a finish wrestling match will precede the ten-round scrap between Soldier Johnny and Williams. Featherweight champion Vernon Breedlove will meet Jack Tolliver in a finish wrestling match, best two out of three falls if the first fall comes within an hour. Should it take longer than an hour to decide the first fall then one fall will decide the Attempts to Buy Whisky From Detectives Who Were Searching a South Side Home.

While searching the home of Toney Paskus, 5216 South Thirtysecond avenue, for whisky, Detectives Franci and Hellar, operating from the South Side police station, were interrupted by the stealthy entrance of John Fass, farmer of Talmage, Neb. "Is there any chance of buying some whisky here?" Fass is said to have inquired in a timorous voice. The detectives hesitated and then one replied with due caution that here might be some chance. "But how do we know you're not an officer of the law?" objected the other detective.

"Oh, I'm no officer," Fass reasured them, opening his coat and displaying the absence of a star. He was told to wait until the whisky was found, and the detectives continued their search. They uncovered 10 pints of whisky just as

Mr. Paskus returned home. "Here's the man that owns the whisky," said Detective Francl, turning to Mr. Paskus. "He might ell you some.' But Paskus recognized the officers and refused to make the sale. He was booked at the South Side police station for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor and Fass was held for investigation,
