

BIG PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR BANKERS' MEET

Speakers From All Parts of Country to Address Bankers; Try to Get Hayward Here.

Nebraska bankers will hold their 22nd annual convention in Omaha, June 11 and 12. Their headquarters during the sessions will be at the Hotel Fontenelle.

Many entertainment features are planned, the principal of which will consist of an automobile drive over the city Wednesday afternoon and initiation of members into Ak-Sar-Ben at Sanson's den, Wednesday night. The wives and families will be entertained the same evening at a theater party at the Rialto, and there will be an informal dance at the Hotel Fontenelle at 9 o'clock.

Club Opened to Visitors.
On Thursday afternoon there will be a reception to the members at the Athletic club and the hospitality of the club will be tendered those attending the convention. The plunge bath and swimming pool will be placed at their disposal and in the evening a smoker will be given the delegates in attendance with the bankers of Omaha and South Omaha as hosts, and a boxing and wrestling program has been arranged by Gene Melady, which will be followed by an informal dance.

The past presidents of the association will hold their annual dinner on Tuesday evening and a special meeting of the members of the American Bankers' association will be held Thursday morning to elect officers of the American Banking association for this year.

Among the speakers who will be heard during the various sessions of the convention will be Governor McKelvie, Richard S. Hawes, of St. Louis, vice-president of the American Banking association; John J. Arnold, vice-president of the First National Bank, of Chicago, and Dr. Frank G. Smith, of the First Congregational church of Omaha.

Dr. Titus Lowe will deliver the invocation, and Mayor Smith and former Senator Millard will deliver the addresses of welcome, to which John M. Flanagan, of Stewart, will respond.

An effort is being made to have Col. William Hayward, who commanded the brave colored troops of New York in the world war, to address the convention.

Director General of Railroads to Talk at Chamber of Commerce

Walker D. Hines, director general of the federal railway administration, will address the Omaha Chamber of Commerce at the noon meeting next Tuesday.

Mr. Hines and other officials of the railway administration are coming here at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce, Omaha is on their itinerary in a tour of the western cities.

Election Commissioner Urges All Women to Register

With less than 2,000 women registered for the special election of June 24, out of an estimated 20,000 women of voting age in Omaha, Election Commissioner Moorhead urges the women to come in and register at his office. Registrations will be received any day until June 13.

WARD M. BURGESS NEW PRESIDENT OF NEB. POWER CO.

Succeeds General Harries, Head of Compan, for Number of Years, Who Still Remains Director.

Ward M. Burgess was yesterday elected president of the Nebraska Power Co. Mr. Burgess was seen after the meeting of the board of directors, and said:

General Harries, who has been president of the Nebraska Power Co. for a number of years, found his present and future engagements such as to compel him to decline to continue as president of the company. He still remains director. Mr. Davidson and the board requested me to accept the position of president, and to assume the responsibilities.

"As vice president and director I have been actively interested in its operations and feel a legitimate pride in its accomplishments and in the esteem on the part of the public which this company has earned and enjoys. It is the plan of the company to make Omaha an electrical center for supplying not only this city, but tributary territory with electrical service. Therefore, I accepted this position and responsibility with a purpose of carrying out these ambitious plans, have worked with the expenditure upon the plant of over $2,000,000 in the last two years, has brought the plant to a high state of efficiency. I have worked with Mr. Davidson in close association ever since his arrival here, and our aim will be to render to the public efficient service, and to keep the plant and property continually adequate to the growth of the community."

"James E. Davidson, vice president and general manager, has built up a splendid organization and with the expenditure upon the plant of over $2,000,000 in the last two years, has brought the plant to a high state of efficiency. I have worked with Mr. Davidson in close association ever since his arrival here, and our aim will be to render to the public efficient service, and to keep the plant and property continually adequate to the growth of the community."

Restrain Husband From Abusing Wife Suing for Divorce
An injunction to restrain William Gillette from interfering with his wife, Olive Gillette, pending decision in her suit for divorce, was granted yesterday by District Judge Troup.
Mrs. Gillette filed suit for divorce yesterday, alleging her husband struck her with his fists, bruised and choked her in their apartment, No. 512, The Morris, last Wednesday. She left the apartment that day and is now living with her mother at Fertieth street and Redick avenue.
She alleges that her husband has been in the habit of beating, kicking and choking her since their marriage October 28, 1918, and she said she feared he would come to the home of her mother and do her bodily harm.
She said she earns about $300 a month and she asks alimony.
Mrs. Gillette, before her marriage was Miss Alice Caillier, daughter of Mrs. Ada Caillier.
Mr. Gillette is a stock salesman.

Judge Makes Note of Retail Store That Sells Corset for $2
Judge Arthur E. Baldwin in municipal court yesterday expressed surprise that a woman could buy a corset in Omaha for $2, meaning a corset that she could wear with physical comfort and mental poise.
"I did not know that it was possible to buy a corset in Omaha for $2. I'll have to make a note of that store," remarked the court.
The incident occurred during an action against Ray J. Mayer for $113.63, the amount of a bill rendered by a local store for goods bought by Mrs. Mayer, who obtained a divorce last week. A jury of six men brought in a verdict which held the former husband liable for this unpaid bill.
In the list of items was one corset, $2. Another item was a pair of hose, $2, and another item was a pair of hose, 59 cents. On the witness stand the divorced husband testified that in his opinion the $2 corset was extravagant.
