LABOR TO MARCH IN WASHINGTON AS DRY PROTEST

Delegates of American Federation Will Go to Capital to Participate in Prohibition Demonstration.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 11.—Nearly all, if not the entire body, of delegates attending the reconstruction convention of the American Federation of Labor will on Saturday go to Washington by special train to participate in the great labor demonstration there in protest against further enforcement of wartime prohibition.

Virtually every delegate upon entering the conventional hall today signed a card handed him by a representative of the Central Labor union at Washington signifying his intention of going to the capital. A resolution on the subject of attending the demonstration will come before the convention later.

A delegate from California at the outset of today's session protested against newspaper articles, especially one published yesterday in Philadelphia, intimating "that delegates from the west and particularly California, intend to bolt the convention if unable to have their way." The California delegates said that there was absolutely no truth in any statement that delegates from the west wanted to run the convention or that they had any intention of bolting.

Secretary Morrison announced that Secretary of Labor Wilson would address the convention on Friday.

Borah's Irish Resolution Attacked by British Papers

London Daily Chronicle Says U. S. Senate Misinformed About Irish Question—London Post in Foaming Rage Says America Offers Deliberate Unfriendly Front To England.

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE (Universal Service Staff Correspondent.) (Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, June 11.—The Borah resolution regarding Ireland has aroused mixed sentiment here, ranging from the Daily Chronicle's tone of hurt feelings to the Post's foaming rage.

A notable feature of the press comment is that the publicists profess to view the resolution in the light of an attack on the league of nations rather than an expression of sincere regard or Irish freedom claiming it is but part of an anti-British campaign in the United States. Says the Post:

"The twisting of the lion's tail has long been a habitual resort of politicians in America and our unflinching complaisance toward these attempts has been hitherto assured. In this instance the provocation is found in British support of the league of nations."

"We do not know whether the republican leaders of the senate really believe Britain has adopted the league to serve its private ends, but if such an astounding illusion is entertained, we hasten to dispel it."

"No other country would offer such a deliberate unfriendly affront to a friendly power as is contained in the Borah resolution. Judged from

Says Instead of Using Pan as Kitchen Utensil, Wife Struck Him With It

Carl Rathje complained to the district court yesterday in a petition for divorce from Anna Rathje that she refused to cook his meals. Instead of frying eggs in the frying pan, he says, she struck him over the head with that useful utensil. They promised to "love, honor and obey" on St. Patrick's day of the present year and lived happily for several days. On April 1, he says, she threatened to kill him. When she choked and scratched him on April 10 he came to the conclusion that her love had cooled. And on June 1 she left him, he says.

the standards of international decorum it is indefensible." The Post's Washington correspondent characterizes the Walsh amendment of the sympathy more offensive than the resolution itself, committing the American senate to pertinent interference in the affairs of the British empire.

The London Times Washington correspondent says: "The resolution must not be attributed to a sudden access of violent sympathy for the Irish cause. There is no sign that representative American opinion is politically sympathetic toward the Irish extremists, albeit ardently desires to see home rule come speedily."

"Neither Borah nor the great majority of his discontented colleagues is fundamentally unfriendly toward Britain, but the object is to put a spoke in the wheel."

"The significance," says the Daily Chronicle, "does not lie in the fact that the senate feels qualified to intervene in our international disputes, but that it should be so misinformed about the Irish question. The trouble lies with hundreds of thousands of Irish-Americans who never have been in Ireland, whose information is outdated by inheriting the notion of hostility toward England and of a pious duty toward their ancestors. It is the class from which are drawn many American professional politicians."

Friday Last Day for Women to Register for Paving Bond Issue

Friday is the last day for the women of Douglas county to register for the opportunity to vote for the $3,000,000 issue of bonds for paving of highways in Douglas county. Mrs. W. C. Sumney and Mrs. James Richardson who led the fight here for suffrage, issued an appeal to the women of city and county to register for the election.

"Whether you vote for or against the bonds, you should show the country you were in earnest when you demanded the right to vote," said Mrs. Sumney.

"The congress of the United States has just referred a constitutional amendment to the different states which, if ratified, will give full suffrage."

"Omaha women already have a limited suffrage and they should take advantage of that fact on June 24 when the paving bonds are to be voted."

"There are about 20,000 women in Omaha entitled to vote. Only 2,000 are registered. The registration office in the court house is open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. But you must register before 5 o'clock Friday afternoon."
