ATTEMPTS OF DEMOCRATS MAY BE BOOMERANG

Governor Likely to Incorporate Passage of Code Law Bill in Call for Special Session.

By Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, June 14.—The attempt of democrats to prevent a platform pledge of the republican party passed by a republican legislature from going into effect by invoking the referendum upon the bill, is likely to prove a boomerang as Governor McKelvie probably will incorporate the passage of the code bill with the emergency clause in his call for the special session in conjunction with the ratification of the national amendment on woman's suffrage. The referendum law cannot be invoked on bills passed with the emergency clause according to the constitution and in a special session is able to pass the bill with the emergency clause, it can be put in effect and the people be given a chance to see how it works before they are called upon to vote on the referendum at the next general election in 1920. It will take 22 votes in the senate and 17 in the house to pass the bill. The bill passed the house without emergency clause with 60 votes for and 33 against. It passed the senate with 18 votes for and 13 against. This will mean that seven votes will have to be found in the house and four in the senate. The full membership of the senate was present when the bill passed that body, but seven members were absent in the house.

Divorce Courts

Annie Baxter filed suit yesterday in district court, asking a divorce from Zachary Taylor Baxter and the restoration of her maiden name, McMillan. She alleges non-support.

Fay Glassman asked the district court yesterday for a divorce from Edgar on the ground of non-support. She wants her maiden name, Howard, restored to her.

Hubert Robertson complained to the district court yesterday that his wife, Ruth, insisted on living with her mother since their marriage in April, 1913. He asked for a divorce. Elizabeth Mackna secured a restraining order in the district court yesterday just after filing a suit for divorce from Peter Mackna. The order restrains him from molesting her in their home, 4307 South Twentieth street. She says he has threatened to harm her. They were married in Philadelphia in 1899.

Experts Place Valuation of $3,000,000 on Plant of Omaha Gas Co.

Hearing of the city of Omaha's estimate of the value of the Omaha Gas company plant took just three days in the district court last week, when the board of condemnation met. The city's experts, Burns and McDonald of Kansas City, used the "normal theory" in arriving at the price the city ought to pay for the plant. They determined the cost of things by figuring them at the average cost over the 10-year period from 1907 to 1918, inclusive. This worked out around $3,300,000. August 4 has been set for the board to meet again and receive the Gas company's figures on the price it wants the city to pay. The Gas company, it is said, will want the plant valued at the cost of reproducing it at present high prices, which would be about $9,000,000, and is said to expect an addition few millions for its "going value". After the Gas company has submitted its experts' figures, another adjournment will be taken before the city makes its answer.

Dean Ringer; that a copy be sent to each of the daily papers of Omaha with a request that they be published, and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of this society." The resolution made no reference to the arrest without a warrant and refusal of Mrs. Thomas to appear in court, and was intended to remain in jail all night, or of the drowning of four children recently in Riverview park lake through lack of police protection.

Stockbreeders Invited to Attend Lecture on the Friesland Farms

All breeders of Holstein cattle, residing in this vicinity, have been invited to attend a meeting and lecture by Dr. B. Davis at the Friesland farms next Saturday. The Friesland farms are located eight miles west of Omaha, and a half a mile north of the Lincoln highway. Dr. Davis recently attended the Oliver-Cabana exhibition, the national Holstein stock sale. He also was chairman of the Nebraska delegation to the national convention of Holstein breeders at Philadelphia. Dr. Davis will explain certain points discussed at the national meeting to the local breeders, who are invited to bring their families along. Those who come to Omaha by train, are asked to telephone the Friesland farms, Walnut 15292, or Dr. Davis' office, Douglas 1551, or Secretary Dwight Williams, South 573, who will arrange for an automobile to take the visitors to the farms.

TREASURE HUNT IN ENGLAND MAY LOCATE JEWELS

Urges Search for King Albert's Crown and Other Regalia Buried by North Sea Tidal Water.

London, June 14.—The ancient regalia of England, including King Alfred's crown lies buried some 100 miles north of London, a few miles from the sea, and the London Daily Express wants the government or the Society of Antiquaries to go treasure-hunting and find it. Along a six-mile stretch and not more than 32 feet down lies this priceless treasure, along with King John's own jewels as well as wonderful gold and silver vessels looted from innumerable abbies, all lost when King John's baggage train was swallowed up, like the Egyptians in the Red sea way back in 1216.

King Raids Castles

King John in the good old ancient days of castle-fighting and looting was going north to Lincoln, after pillaging half the castles and churches of England, and to save time for the North Sea, some tidal water from the North Sea. King John and his army had crossed the dangerous sands and forded the River Nene before midday. The baggage train of some 3,500 persons with the rough carts and spare fighting material, and the booty, were to follow. At dusk the baggage train came up to the marshy roadway and started to follow in the tracks of their king, who had halted at Swineshead Abbey. Something went wrong, perhaps a wagon jammed, and high tide was due at 6 p. m. But the baggage column, then midway across, pressed on, though waters came around the horses' hoofs. The high spring tides were due in two days. The horses bogged, wagons stuck axle deep, the sands became coze and the baggage attendants fled for their lives. Not one reached firm land. Three days later King John died of grief and drink at Newark castle.

Use Diving Rods

Modern science, it is pointed out, has devised mechanical diving rods and electric locators of ore, especially when not far from the surface. Such instruments are being used in France and Belgium today to locate unexploded shells. The geology of the sub-soil shows that 23 feet below the silt there is a nine-foot layer of sand and shells. Nine feet below this there is a soft layer of ballast and shells. On either of these layers may be the lost treasure.

Debar Private Work

While water is encountered not far from the surface, it is pointed out by the Express that the government possesses a large number of trench pumps, now idle, which could be used to keep excavations fairly dry, while if necessary caissons could be sunk. "The law of treasure-trove debars any public or private company from under-taking the work," says the Express. "The matter is one for the government or a big private subscription list administered by the Society of Antiquaries. No one can calculate the intrinsic worth of the treasure. A coin containing a half crown's worth of silver might be worth $5,000."

Federal Land Bank Largest in Country, Officers Say

The Federal Land bank of Omaha has issued a circular statement in which the officers assert that this is the largest farm loan institution in the United States. It is further stated that as established institution that has fully demonstrated its usefulness in furnishing farmers with a constant and abundant supply of funds. Three hundred associations identified with this bank cover almost every part of Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. A dividend was recently declared.

CONTINUE USE OF WAR CABINET AS PEACE BODY

As at present constituted, the prime minister's cabinet comprises some 40 men, including the chief ministers, secretaryship and president of the cabinet. It is too unwieldy to act quickly as a whole body on any matter. Hence the tendency toward creation of an inner cabinet.

Why Not Live in Dundee?

THE SUPPLY OF LOTS IN DUNDEE IS LIMITED. New houses are springing up on almost every hand. The older portion of Dundee is practically all built up. DUNDEE LOTS WILL NEVER BE CHEAPER than now. The law of supply and demand holds just as true with building lots as with any other commodity. The demand is increasing every day as is evidenced by the many sales being made and houses being constructed, and the supply is not increasing. With an increased demand and a fixed supply, one result will be reached—an increasing price. NEW DEVELOPMENTS WILL REFLECT THE SIGN OF THE TIMES & HIGHER PRICED LOTS. It costs more now to grade, lay sewer, water and gas mains, to put in paving, curbing and sidewalks, than it did a few years ago. Preparing good residence lots is like manufacturing any other commodity—it requires labor and material to do it.
