WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Like pilgrims to the appointed place we tend;
The world's an inn, and death the journey's end.
E'en kings but play; and when their part is done,
Some other, worse or better, mount the throne.—Dryden.

Expectant Mothers View Event Calmly
Time Brings Knowledge That by Use of Penetrating Remedy Suffering is Avoided.

Thousands of women have found by the application of Mother's Friend, the penetrating external remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers, that pain and suffering at the crisis is avoided and that in addition the months preceding the crisis are free from nervousness, nausea, stretching and bearing-down pain and general discomfort.

Mother's Friend makes it possible for the expectant mother to herself actually aid nature in the glorious work to be performed, and no woman should neglect to give nature a helping hand. It will mean infinitely less pain and the hours at the crisis will be less. The period is one of calm repose and restful nights.

By the use of Mother's Friend the skin is kept soft and natural, and experienced mothers say that it is much better to keep your health and good looks during the period of expectancy than to try to regain them afterward.

Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. G, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their interesting Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend and begin its use at once.—Adv.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

From the Pies that were
The mother-made kind—
To the Pie of the present day
There was ever
A wicked
Chance in them—
A dangerous lure—
A temptation to man.
The China Pie
Was cut to bits
By England
And other "friends"
"Big business" is part
Of American Pie
And each great manikin
Fights for his share
And curses the one
Who gets it.
Too we have the Philanthropist's Pie—
Its filling consists
Of dollars and dimes
Culled from glibbie souls
Who think this "Pie"
Is for starving babies
But alas!
Our political Pie
Is an old, old Pie
And has ruined
Many a man
Whose great day dreams
Lead him astray—
Those dreams that come
From Pie.
Beware! My friends!
For every Pie
Has a sin-filled crust—
Filled with luscious
Spoils
Filched from the
Struggling wayfarer
The persistent
Subtle
Call of the Pie
May get you
Any time.
But remember that
Where there is Pie
There are always flies—
And where there are flies
There is poison.

Shopping in Paris by Airplane?
Women who had been eagerly anticipating the distinction of wearing in London at night some dainty article of clothing which earlier in the day had been brought by airplane from a Paris shop will have to wait a little longer, says the London Telegraph. Arrangements had been made by certain firms for the adoption of this method of transport of the latest French creations, but, for the moment, at all events, civilian flying from this country to Paris is prohibited pending international arrangement on the matter.

My Ideal Leading Man
By Mary MacLaren

What I want in my leading man is the thing we prize above all other charms—personality.

I look for many other qualities, too—and usually, you will agree, I have found them. In Frank Mayo, who played the masculine lead in "The Amazing Wife" or in Kenneth Harlan, who did the same service in "Bread," and in Jack Mulhall, who played "the man" in "The Creaking Stairs," you will agree that my demands have been well satisfied.

Have you good, strong, well-cared-for teeth?

Have you an infectious laugh? Are you well-built—and, of course taller than I?

Good eyes?

Do you take your work as an art? You should, you know.

The leading man of my dreams is husky without being of the boiler-maker type. He is tall and straight and lithe—and tapers from the shoulders down. He has nice hands, hands that express character and accomplishment. His physical attributes combined with his personal charm should qualify him for a leading role anytime, anywhere—with anyone.

Cut old stockings into 18 inch lengths strips. Moisten with kerosene and you will have an excellent dry mop. By putting on a few drops of the oil each week it will keep in good condition.

Eggs will keep fresh for a long time if they are packed in salt with the small end downward. This should be done when the eggs are new laid.

Seymour Lake

Mrs. Ben F. Roth entertained 24 guests at Seymour club at a bridge party Friday in honor of Mr. Roth's birthday. The tables were decorated in blue and white and the guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Ben Miller, J. F. Giebel, Harry Mallo W. L. Royce, Edward Kunkel, Dick O'Neill, W. L. Comboy, Hal Roberts, Mesdames W. R. Glover, Edward Dugson, Misses Cassie Riley, Anna and Claribel Roth and Mr. James Murphy.

Among the reservations for Saturday's dinner-dance are George Waterman, eight, and Mrs. T. J. Donahue, 12.

An Absurd Question.
"You sign this deed of your own free will, do you, madam?" asked lawyer.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded the large florid faced woman, looking threateningly upon the lawyer.

"I mean there has been no compulsion on the part of your husband. Has there?"

"Him?" she ejaculated, turning to look at the little, meek man sitting behind her. "Frederick I'd like to see him compulse me!"

Kisses

"I have been kissed by others, professionally, of course, but never before I played opposite John Barrymore did I realize the true meaning of a kiss," confided little Faire Binney, who is sweet eighteen and had never been kissed right—until she appeared as Barrymore's leading lady in the picture, "Here Comes the Bride."

"There is something about his kiss which is different from others; it is tender—firm—soft and yet strong! It is not the cave man sort of kiss, nor is it the weak, simpering kind, it isn't a peck—and it isn't a quart. It's a subtle, well-studied, well-placed kiss that I thought existed only in poetry. The first time he kissed me, he lifted me in his arms. I felt my senses whirl and my feet did not seem to touch the floor.

"We had to repeat the scene several times because Mr. Roberson, the director, was not quite satisfied with my acting. You see, I was so nervous and surprised that I must have shown this emotion in my expression. But Mr. Barrymore didn't seem to mind at all, he went through the scene again and again until I was acclimated. I asked him about his kissing after I knew him better, and he told me that it requires long years of practice to perfect the art, and that I was too young to know anything about it."

To Miss Hilda Florence Simpson of Liverpool has fallen the distinction of being the first woman in Great Britain to be admitted to the Society of Incorporated Accountants and Auditors.
