

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN TO MEET IN SAINT LOUIS

Miss Marion Glenn Explains Purpose of National Organization of Business Clubs in U. S.

New York City, June 21.—Miss Marion Glenn, who is organizing the business and professional women on the west coast into state federations which will send delegates to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women at St. Louis, July 14-18, has issued an ABC of the work of the organization that has proved to be one of the most popular pieces of federation literature yet sent out.

"The National Federation of Business and Professional Women of the U. S. A. has been brought about by the desire of the millions of business and professional women of this nation, who feel the need of working in a group force that will not be diverted or lost. Five organizers are at work with headquarters at New York, Denver, Chicago, Atlanta and San Francisco.

"Women are not in business and professions merely to divide human labor. They are producers and they add to the power of human production. Their status, their pay, their problems indicate that contributions are not being measured by adequate standards. They now propose to direct their power wisely and to put the business woman on the economic map through steady publicity, to get direct action upon their problems, to make better personal adjustments to their own work and to raise their own standards.

"It is so composite that it is non-partisan, non-political and non-sectarian. Miss Maude Smith, of the War Community Service, at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, is the chairman of the committee and Miss Lena Madison Phillips, 600 Lexington avenue, New York, is the secretary. The Federation will frankly be just what the member clubs make it. If every club of business and professional women enters the federation in the formative state, it will never become either partisan or one-sided. The way to get what you want out of an organization is to put the right spirit into it.

"Pledges are rapidly coming from general and civic clubs of business women, from lawyers, doctors, advertising women, Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. clubs of business girls, who see in it a wonderful guide toward business honesty and success. The convention will discuss what it takes to make a thorough business woman. The constitution and policies of the federation will be formulated at St. Louis on the basis of what clubs want done—training, higher standards, employment facilities, better balance in the salary and the mental scale and the right kind of living conditions.

"The things we business and professional women will get out of the convention will be many. In the first place we will get out of the rut—we will get a chance to give whatever we have to give by way of ideas, effort or suggestion. We will get much stimulus from the meeting with successful women in every line. We will get known and we will get a new line of ourselves by contrast with these other women.

"The men are co-operating with us splendidly. In St. Paul, Minn., the St. Paul Association of Commerce at once selected a committee to act upon a suggestion to send a delegate to the convention from their women's division. The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce has done the same thing. We would like to see every chamber of commerce that has a woman's division do the same thing. We believe many of them will do so.

Judge Lenient With Four Boys Held for Robbing Drug Store

Four boys, three of them with reform school records, were dealt with mercifully by Judge Troup in juvenile court yesterday when they were sent to Riverview home until their parents can send them to the country and pay for the articles they stole.

They are Allen Houck, "Spot" McKenna, Albert Cady and Lloyd Henry. They entered the Post drug store at Thirtieth and Iowa streets one night recently. Going in through a coal chute they helped themselves to candy and cigarettes.

The parents of the boys agreed to pay sums ranging from $2 to $30 for the damage done. Allen Houck's mother said she needed him at home for earnings $4.80 a day at the Union Pacific shops.

Release Last Girl Held in Detention Home After Unlawful Raid on Flats

Miss Wilma Reed Will Return to Omaha for Police Probe—Mayor and Ringer Not Interested in Testimony of Roy Kelly, Who Is Still at Large—Detectives Spend Afternoon in Theater.

Miss Wilma Reed, one of the girls arrested in the raid framed by Detectives Herdzina and Armstrong June 6, on the flats at 2106 Cass street, was released from the Detention home late Friday.

Miss Reed is the last of the four girls to be released from the institution, where an attempt was made to hold all of the girls taken in the unlawful invasion of the Brown flats by the two detectives, who are said to have been drunk at the time they conspired with Roy Kelly to leave a bottle of brandy in one of the rooms.

Police Commissioner Ringer and Police Chief Eberstein have indicated that they were afraid to have any of these girls take the stand against the two detectives, whom Mr. Ringer, backed by Mayor Smith, is said to be determined to whitewash regardless of the extent of their guilt and misconduct.

Will Attend Hearing. Miss Reed left for her home in Shenandoah, Ia., yesterday morning accompanied by her mother. She declared, however, that she would return with Mrs. Helen Baldwin Monday to testify against Herdzina and Armstrong.

Miss Reed's release came after two weeks' strenuous efforts on the part of the girl's parents and attorney. An appeal was made to Commissioner Zimman, who finally succeeded in forcing Commissioner Ringer to order her release.

On the testimony of Detectives Herdzina and Armstrong, Miss Reed was fined $50 and costs and held in the Detention home regardless of her parents' offer to pay her fine. Miss Reed was not permitted to employ an attorney to defend her, and despite the accusations brought against the two officers on whose testimony Judge Foster found her guilty, the judge was unable to comprehend any mitigating circumstances and his finding in the case has aroused much criticism.

Opinions Conflict. Miss Reed was said to have been free of disease the day after she was committed to the home. This was the announcement of Dr. Palmer Findley, medical director, to Attorney Lloyd Magney.

Later Police Chief Eberstein said she was diseased. Miss Alta Berger told the girl's mother she had a social disease. Notwithstanding the conflicting opinions of physician, police chief and nurse, Miss Reed was only given two treatments while she was a prisoner in the Detention home.

According to the statement of a city detective in Chief Dunn's office to the girl's father, there was nothing whatever the matter with her. She knew too much and it was feared she would have too much to say if granted her freedom.

Urge Girls to Leave. Attention also has been directed to Commissioner Ringer's extreme anxiety to spirit all of the girls out of the city who were victimized in the unlawful and uncalculated raid on the Brown flat, in connection with the alleged efforts which are being made by the police department to apprehend Roy Kelly, who in a signed statement declared he was gotten drunk by Herdzina and Armstrong and prevailed upon to become a party to the frame-up.

Kelly was allowed to escape immediately after the raid. He has been permitted to enjoy his liberty ever since and daily has been seen walking the streets of Omaha.

Talks to Police. Attention also has been directed to the fact that Roy Kelly, on numerous occasions, has been seen talking to detectives and policemen in uniform. Police Chief Eberstein, it is said, did not issue a general order to the men under him to pick up Kelly until last Monday, 10 days after Kelly was allowed to escape.

Kelly has offered to appear before the city council and reiterate his charges set forth in his signed statement, provided he would not be given the third degree and sent to the reform school.

On a letter addressed to Attorney Lloyd Magney Friday Mayor Smith declares the members of the council are not that anxious to hear Kelly's story. Commissioner Ringer has declared he would not attach any importance to Kelly's statement if he testified at the hearing.

Search Movie House. In the meantime the police are busy trying to find Kelly, according to Commissioner Ringer and Chief Eberstein, and Mayor Smith declares he believes them. Detective H. P. Haze and two other plain clothes men spent Friday afternoon in the Empress theater looking for Kelly. Some one told them Kelly had been seen at the theater several days before.

Ringer says the reason Kelly has not been arrested is that he is unknown by sight to the men of the department, when as a matter of fact, according to a policeman who has known the boy all his life, Kelly is known almost intimately by three-fourths of the Omaha police force.

By right to every single member of the department, with a possible single exception.

Mongolians in Siberia Can Carry Grand Pianos on Back

Omahan, Just Returned From War Duty in Far East, Tells of Remarkable Physical Prowess of Natives and Vast Opportunities Country Offers.

The Mongolian laborers of Vladivostok develop remarkable physical prowess in their ability to carry heavy burdens on their backs. They use a triangular device made of wood which serves to distribute the load.

J. Clifford Short, nephew of Harry Pearce, register of deeds, returned to Omaha last week for a visit. He started his homestead journey from Vladivostok on May 22, having spent six months in the field ambulance corps of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

Speaking of the Mongolians and their strength, he stated that he observed a few months
