

RESERVATIONS TO PEACE TREATY URGED BY ROOT

Program for Acceptance of League Laid Before Senators by Former Secretary of State.

Washington, June 21.—The league of nations controversy in the senate was continued today by a series of developments accepted as foreshadowing the lines into which the final ratification fight may fall. Elihu Root, secretary of state under President Roosevelt, laid before the foreign relations committee a program for acceptance of the league with certain restrictions.

Senator Borah, republican, of Idaho, gave notice in a speech that he could not remain in the republican party if it failed to take a more definite stand against the league.

Senator Hitchcock, democrat, of Nebraska, also gave notice that he would stand against the league. He declared the covenant was assured of ratification by republican votes.

Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, decided to call for a showdown of senate opinion Monday, by bringing in his resolution declaring the treaty cannot be accepted with the league covenant attached.

Of these developments the recommendation of former Secretary Root, presented after two days of conferences here with league opponents, attracted widest discussion tonight because it was regarded as embodying a plan of which an appeal is likely to be made for approval of action by all who do not fully approve the Paris covenant.

Mr. Root strongly urged separation of the league of nations from the peace treaty and recommended adoption by the senate of the Knox resolution.

The principal treaty reservations proposed by Mr. Root relate to American action under Article 10, the territorial guarantee clause, the Monroe doctrine and for withdrawal of America from the league by its own action and without consent of other nations.

Mr. Root declared the Monroe Doctrine clause "erroneous in its description of the doctrine and ambiguous in its meaning," while the new provision for withdrawal of America from the league by its own action and without consent of other nations could not be kept "in the league indefinitely against our will."

Ratification Reservations. The ratification reservations recommended by the former secretary were:

(1) In advising and consenting to the ratification of the said treaty, the senate reserves and excludes from its consent the tenth article of the covenant for the league of nations, as to which the senate refuses its consent.

(2) The senate consents to the ratification of the said treaty, reserving the right to withdraw from the league of nations at any time, without notice, and without the payment of any compensation, and without the payment of any compensation, and without the payment of any compensation.

(3) Inasmuch as in agreeing to become a member of the league of nations, the United States of America is moved by no interest or wish to intrude upon or interfere with the political policy or international administration of any foreign state, and by no existing or anticipated dangers in the affairs of the American continent, but accedes to the wish of the European states that it shall join its power to theirs for the preservation of general peace, the senate consents to the ratification of the said treaty, excepting article 10, aforesaid, with the understanding that nothing therein contained shall be construed to imply a relinquishment by the United States of America of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions, or to require the submission of its policy regarding questions which it deems to be purely American questions, to the decision or recommendation of other powers.

Convicted Swindler Who Fought in War Blames His Partner

Paris, June 21.—Henry Rochette, banker and promoter, who was convicted of swindling before the war broke out and who disappeared while the case was on appeal only to return to France and serve under an assumed name in an automobile section, was brought before the criminal court Saturday on the charge of the abuse of confidence in connection with the issue of 8,000,000 francs in bonds of the Central Mexican railroad in 1910.

M. Rochette throws the responsibility on his associate, M. Carbonneau, now dead, who he claims sent part of the funds realized from the sale of the bonds to a Mexican named Madero, who used them for revolutionary propaganda.

Henry Rochette was arrested in 1908 charged with wholesale swindling in connection with the operation of bucket shops, it being alleged that $200,000,000 was involved. Released on bail he remained at liberty until 1913 when he disappeared. He was located in Mexico City later and occupied a position close to Francisco Madero, then president of Mexico. The French government demanded his extradition but he again disappeared and took refuge in Switzerland.

Ten-Minute Men from Bellevue College to Visit Churches

Eight Omaha churches will be visited today by the Bellevue college 10-minute men, alumni of the school, who are helping in the campaign which the alumni association is making to raise $25,000 a year for five years for the maintenance of the institution.

The original figure set was $10,000, but since the opening of the drive last Monday the executive committee of the board of trustees has decided that $25,000 must be raised at the present time in order to make certain that the new administration may devote itself to the raising of a large permanent endowment, and to the uplifting of the educational features of the institution.

W. J. Shalcross, organizer of the Armenian-Syrian relief campaign who is president of the alumni association of Bellevue college, will speak at the North Presbyterian church this morning.

At the Wheeler Memorial church Perry Wheeler will be the speaker; Third Presbyterian church, John Frazer, at Benson, William Findley; at Clifton Hill, Stuart McK. Hunter, chairman of the alumni committee; and at Avenue, Dr. James McDowell Patton.

Churches not visited today will be included in next Sunday's campaign.

and pedestrians were struck by bricks, clubs and other missiles, trampled by horses or knocked down by the mob.

As soon as the military took charge, order began to come out of chaos. Armored cars and troops with fixed bayonets appeared. The crowds began to disperse.

It was announced that 300 alleged rioters are in the police cells. The troops of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police engaged, numbered only 53 men and few of these escaped without wounds or contusions. The horses suffered in like degree, one being blinded by a lump of concrete.

The street car service, in part resumed during the past three days, automatically stopped.

The street car attacked was demolished but the occupants escaped without serious injuries.

Bricks Whistle Through Air

Flames from the burning car attracted the red-coated riders and they tore into the crowd. Bricks whistled through the air. Then the policemen shot. More missiles from the rioters' hands were responses. One horseman went down and angry demonstrators pounced upon him. His comrades drove squarely into the mass and rescued the bleeding man.

Mayor Gray in the city hall notified General Ketchen. Since the strike began the mayor has had a private line to the general's headquarters. The martial law announcement followed.

Soldiers were ordered into the heart of the city and soon the crowd of demonstrators sought shelter. Armored cars with machine guns swung from one side of the street to the other, came down town.

Mayor Gray and General Ketchen conferred after the soldiers got into action. The mayor said he hoped that the prompt and effective measures taken by the troops had sufficiently restored order, so that the period of martial law might be considered at an end Saturday, if possible.

The city officials preferred to have the military continue to aid civil authorities but not to remain in complete control.

The soldiers were policing downtown sections and certain districts were marked off as military territory.

The riot act proclamation read by Mayor Gray during the trouble follows:

"Our sovereign lord, the king, charges and commands all persons being assembled immediately to disperse and peaceably to depart to their habitations or to their lawful business, upon the pain of being guilty of an offense, on conviction of which they may be sentenced to imprisonment for life. God save the king!"

NEW MINISTRY ORGANIZED WITH BAUER PREMIER

Following its decision to send the entire another note containing conditions regarding the immediate entrance of Germany into the league of nations, the limitation of indemnity and renunciation of the allied efforts to have the former emperor surrendered, the German government lost its nerve for the note ended with the declaration that it was impossible otherwise to get a cabinet that would sign the treaty.

Although the note was written and ready to be dispatched, it was withheld until the eleventh hour as it was feared that the entire would reject the German proposals.

How Politicians Voted.

Weimar, Friday, June 21.—Causes of the three principle parties, voting Thursday night on the signing the peace treaty resulted as follows:

Majority socialists, 75 in favor of signing the treaty and 39 against; democrats, 1 (Baron Von Richtofen) in favor of signing and 58 against; centrists, 4 in favor of unconditional acceptance and 69 for conditional acceptance.

Police Measures Taken.

morrow to discuss the action of the executive committee. By Tuesday evening it is expected that all locals will approve the action of the committee.

The strike order will probably be issued Wednesday.

Threatened Another "Winnipeg."

The general committee of organized labor was appointed at a meeting held Friday night in Labor Temple. In plain words, these delegates from the central body of organized labor told the city officials that the present situation may lead to "another Winnipeg," or even to "anarchistic outbreaks." Particular reference in that connection was made to deputizing strike-breakers and employers with special police authority. Some of these special officers are said to be carrying revolvers.

"Anarchy" Is Threatened.

President Kerrigan of Central Labor union said:

"This committee is up here to avoid further action. We ask that you send a post order as quickly as possible to the employers and tell them they will have to settle with the teamsters' union, and allow them to wear their union buttons. You cannot compel them to put their buttons in their pockets or they will have anarchy. These difficulties must be settled through organization. There will be a general meeting of the central body Wednesday night and this must be settled by that time."

"If you are going to protect the business interests and crush the workers, we should know it. We believe that you should bring this to a head," announced Thomas P. Reynolds.

W. V. Angel of the boilermakers' union told the city officials that they are making trouble for themselves by swearing in special police and allowing them to carry guns and stars.

"We are law-abiding citizens and we want a fair deal. How can we run our city peacefully if these things are done?" he asked.

Commissioner Ringer replied that no authority had been given to carry guns.

"We will see another Winnipeg if employers insist on bringing in strike-breakers," Mr. Angel added. "We don't want to see a sympathetic strike."

Roberty Vaughn of the teamsters and truck drivers explained that the men would urge the city council to ask the employers to meet the general committee of Central Labor union, so that all organized labor may know that the teamsters are making a fair fight.

"The teamsters are ready to go into conference with the employers," said David Coutts. "The situation is growing serious. We are resolved to help the teamsters and we urge the commissioners to ask the employers to go into conference with organized labor. We are going through with this and we mean business."

Mayor Smith stated that he endeavored Friday to arrange a conference with employers and men involved in the teamsters' strike.

Trainmen Drive Off Bandits in Pitched Battle Near Lima, O.

Cincinnati, O., June 21.—The engineer on Baltimore & Ohio train No. 57, Detroit to Cincinnati, foiled an attempted train robbery near Lima, O., early today, according to statements of the train crew and passengers on their arrival here this morning.

The train was preparing to take a siding near Lima to allow a train, Cincinnati to Detroit, to pass. Four men who were in hiding crept out and uncoupled the train from the locomotive, but failed to notice the safety chain coupling. They demanded that the engineer pull his engine away. The engineer put on steam enough to give the train a jerk, the chain standing the pull. The train crew, knowing that No. 58 had not passed, rushed out of the train when it began to move and drove off the bandits with revolvers.
