

DESIRES MONEY TO CONTINUE U. S. LABOR BUREAU

Representative McLaughlin in Receipt of Letters From Nebraska Urging Continuance of Federal Service.

Washington, June 21.—(Special to Bee.)—Representative McLaughlin, a member of the agricultural committee of the house, convinced that the United States employment service has performed a splendid work in aiding the farmers to secure harvest labor, has determined to do what he can to secure an appropriation in the senate to continue this branch of the labor department, Representative Blanton, a democrat from Texas, having made a point of order against the appropriation while the sundry civil bill was under consideration in the house.

Mr. McLaughlin is in receipt of a letter from E. C. Crocker of Fillery, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau association, in which Mr. Crocker says that the only possible means of efficient distribution of the harvest labor throughout the middle western states from Texas to the Canadian border, now engaged in harvesting the biggest wheat crop in American history, is through the 50 agencies of the United States employment service. The valuable work done by the United States employment service is also heartily endorsed by C. H. Gustafson, of the Farmers' union; C. W. Pugsley and J. D. Hask of the Corn Improvers' association.

Representative Kindred entered a bill authorizing an appropriation of not to exceed $100,000,000, four per cent certificates of indebtedness to be drawn by the secretary of the interior for the purpose of completing reclamation projects under way and the inauguration of new projects.

"Uncle Mose" said the bill was made necessary because the reclamation work of many of the projects was suspended because of lack of funds, although the urgent need for the completion of the projects under way was universally admitted. This bill was designed to speed up the needed development.

Alvey E. Chaffee of Syracuse, Neb., who was a candidate for doorkeeper of the house in the 60th congress but who withdrew in favor of the present doorkeeper, Bert W. Kennedy, of Michigan, has through the efforts of Representative Frank Reavis been made assistant reading clerk of the house.

Traffic Commissioner Child of the Omaha Commercial club was entertained by Representative Jeffris.

Incomplete Returns Show $2,000 for Near East Relief

Returns from the residential districts and the donations box day in the drive for funds for Armenian relief, showed that $2,000 had been received up to 6 o'clock last night. A number of districts were yet to be heard from, and many of the boxes had not been counted at that time. Canvasses in several of the wards were also reported as incomplete.

Boy Badly Injured and Three Girls Hurt When Auto Overturns

Clayton C. Cope, aged 17, 833 South Twenty-third street, was perhaps fatally injured and the unidentified South Side girls are thought to have been severely hurt when an automobile in which they were riding struck a sand pile at Sixteenth and Dorcas streets and turned turtle, shortly before midnight last night. W. M. Cope, brother of Clayton, and John Mann were also in the party.

Clarence Cope was buried beneath the car. He suffered a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and probable internal injuries. He was taken to Ford hospital. His recovery is doubtful.

The three girls commandeered a passing automobile and disappeared. According to J. Mann, there was no red light on the sand pile. Henry Humpert, Fifteenth and Dorcas streets, says a car that passed south just ahead of Cope's car knocked down the light.

Mann and W. M. Cope were arrested and charged with drunkenness and reckless driving.

Valuable Radical Data Seized in Police Raid

New York, June 21.—Nearly a ton of printed and written matter, in which the Lusk legislative committee investigating bolshevism hopes to find much valuable data on radical organization and methods, was seized here by police and state troops in simultaneous raids on headquarters of three radical organizations.

The places raided were the New York headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World, the office of New York Communist, a newspaper edited by John Reed, which is the official organ of the "left wing" socialists, and Rand School of Social Science.

Labor Convention Asks Russ Soviet Recognition

Bellingham, Wash., June 21.—Declarations in favor of the recognition of the Russian soviet government, a strike in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney and "one big" idea were contained in resolutions adopted during the closing hours of the Washington State Federation of Labor convention.

President May Officiate at Opening of Pershing Stadium

Paris, June 21.—President Wilson, accompanied by President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau, probably will take part Sunday in the ceremony attending the opening of Pershing stadium. Only urgent business in connection with the peace treaty can prevent their attendance.

Urge Wilson to Recognize Officially Irish Republic

Chicago, June 21.—The Irish Fellowship club adopted resolutions urging the President and congress "to accord official recognition of the Irish republic as has been done in the case of Czechoslovak and Polish republics."

GOMPERS AGAIN CHOSEN AS HEAD OF FEDERATION

Famous Labor Leader Says His Selection Is Labor's Answer to Its Traducers and Opponents.

Atlantic City, June 21.—Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor at the convention here and was voted a salary of $10,000 a year. One radical voted against the reelection of Mr. Gompers and a handful of delegates sat while the rest staged a demonstration in honor of their leader, who said his election was organized labor's answer to its traducers and opponents.

Second in importance was the adoption of a resolution directing the executive council to investigate and act in regard to a joint resolution now before congress providing for establishment of a conference of industrial heads in accordance with plans recently announced at Washington by Basil M. Manly, joint chairman of the national war labor board, and George B. Lusk, chairman of the senate committee on labor.

A list of those suggested to represent labor as published a few days ago, is headed by Frank P. Walsh, former joint chairman of the board. Mr. Gompers' name was second.

Mention of the proposed plan brought a storm of denunciation from the delegates, radicals, as well as conservatives.

Andrew Furuseth of the seamen's union said that in reality the proposal adopted by both houses of congress, meant inauguration of a commission form of government which is a form of governmental despotism that would shackle, not liberate.

The convention also voted to send a protest to the Pennsylvania state legislature against enactment of legislation described by Mr. Gompers as "an effort by certain interests to curb the rights of labor and the masses of the people in Pennsylvania."

The legislation referred to is a so-called "anti-strike" bill, which it is claimed restricts the right of free speech and free assembly.

Adoption of the resolution was regarded as especially significant in view of the fact that today John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago federation of labor, in charge of the organization of workers in the iron and steel industry, told the convention that "the right of free speech and free assembly is being abridged to such an extent in Pennsylvania that an existing law is being used to arrest if we hold organized meetings."

Postmaster General Burleson again was assailed. A resolution adopted unanimously expressed organized labor's disapproval of the zone postal system for second-class matter and "petitioned congress to annul this obnoxious legislation enacted under the pretense of a war emergency measure." Investigation of the entire postal service and rates, former rates to be re-established meanwhile was asked.

President Gompers' salary was raised from $7,500 to $10,000 a year over his protest.

Secretary Morrison's salary was increased to $7,500 a year from $5,000.

The convention was to have closed today but because of the large number of resolutions still unacted upon was extended into next week.

Frank Morrison, Washington, and Daniel J. Tobin, Indianapolis, were unanimously re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively of the American Federation of Labor today.

James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., was re-elected first vice president, and Joseph F. Valentine of Cincinnati, second vice president.

John R. Alpine, Chicago, having resigned as third vice president, the vice presidents below him were moved up.

Men Operators Trying to Handle Downtown San Francisco Calls

San Francisco, June 21.—The demands of the telephone company strikers in California and Nevada are to be answered by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company Monday. L. C. Grasser, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, announced, D. P. Fullerton, general superintendent of the company, declared that he would make a statement to the press on that day.

Full sanction of the strike has been extended by the brotherhood, Grasser announced.

Men operators endeavored to handle the downtown calls in San Francisco and girl pickets were continuing their vigil before all exchanges.

Eureka and Sacramento reported complete walkouts of operators. The strike situation was said to be growing more acute in all other affected sections.

An ultimatum calling out all of the Washington and Oregon locals was expected in the event of the company's answer Monday is not satisfactory, brotherhood officials said.

TRAIN OF ARMY TRUCKS TO PASS THROUGH CITY

Plan to Leave New York City on July 1; Will Be Longest Trip of Kind in History.

Stymest Stevenson, local Lincoln Highway consul, received yesterday from H. C. Ostrmann, vice president and field secretary of the National Lincoln Highway association, latest definite details of the great government truck train that will travel over the highway from New York to San Francisco, a distance of 3,331 miles. The time of the departure of the train has been changed from July 7 to July 1. It will start from the Times Square, New York, and follow the highway across the continent.

According to Mr. Ostrmann's message, there may be only 34 trucks and 100 men instead of 54 trucks and 225 men, as first announced. The train will stop one day at Council Bluffs and Omaha. There will be one eight-cylinder and two 12-cylinder trucks. Fifteen of the trucks will be three-tonners. 14 will be one-ton capacity. There will be two 1,000-gallon tank cars, a standardized mobile repair shop and two field kitchens.

Ostrmann to Pilot Train.

Secretary Ostrmann will be the official pilot of the train. He left Detroit Saturday for Washington for a conference with the army staff. It will make his nineteenth auto trip across the continent in connection with national highway work. The train will be under the direction of Gen. Charles A. Drake and Capt. Charles A. Drake, cooperating with Maj. J. M. Ritchie, Capt. Bernard McMahon and officers of the motor transportation corps. It will be the longest trip of its kind in history.

South Side MRS. CALDWELL RETURNS FROM EASTERN MEET

Social Settlement Worker Says Demand for Americanization of Foreigners Is Growing.

"There is a greater demand for Americanization—the plain business of making aliens more American—in the United States than ever before," said Mrs. W. S. Caldwell, Omaha social settlement worker, who returned last Tuesday from Atlantic City, N. J., and Philadelphia, where she attended as a delegate from this city the ninth social settlement conference and the 46th National Conference of Social Workers.

"Representatives from six nations were present," Mrs. Caldwell continued, "England, Canada, Belgium, France, Russia, Japan and America, and I have never seen such earnestness for co-operation on the question of Americanization as that shown at these meetings."

Special attention was given, Mrs. Caldwell reports, to the subject of delinquency, medical attention and community comfort. Mrs. Caldwell was a member of the committee on Local Community Americanization.

The Omaha settlement has grown greatly since it was established two years ago under the direction of Mrs. Caldwell. During the past three times weekly—sometimes oftener. The West Q street community in the vicinity of Twenty-ninth street has become one big family due to the efforts of the settlement workers.

Butcher Workmen's Union to Publish Weekly Newspaper

An eight-page weekly devoted to the interests of packing house workmen will be published on the South Side, according to announcement of J. H. Davidson, secretary of the union.

The first publication will be 5,000 copies, Mr. Davidson announced. It will be printed temporarily by a local printing firm, but later the union expects to provide its own print shop.

Recently Mr. Davidson, speaking for the union attacked the report of Mrs. E. B. Towle, public welfare board member, that represented working conditions in local packing plants as excellent. Davidson held the report was a farce and said the union was taking steps to publish its own views.

Five Business Men Donate $100 Each for Big July 4 Celebration

Five hundred dollars has been raised for the Fourth of July celebrations on the South Side following the proposition made by Bernard Larkens, undertaker, to donate $100 for the affair. Larken received Friday 50 calls from business men of the city, four of them offering to give $100 each to the fund.

The four are: O. K. Hardware, Joseph Murphy, Jimmie Murphy, and Koscoe Rolley. Other offers of donations in varying amounts were received.

Before the day was over the old South Omaha Business Men's association, long extinct, was brought to life under the leadership of its last president, John Flynn, who said he would call a meeting of business men this week to make plans for the Fourth. The public program may be given either at Mandan park or the South High school ground.

Church to Celebrate Payment of Mortgage

The Grace Methodist church will hold special services all day today at the church at Twenty-fifth and E streets in celebration of the paying of a mortgage for $15,000 taken out by trustees of the institution when construction of the new church was begun five years ago.

Youngest Soldier of Middle West Back From Overseas Duty

Ray Liddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Liddell, Twenty-fourth street and Avenue A, Council Bluffs, landed in New York yesterday from overseas service. He is now in Camp Mills and expects to receive his final discharge and be home in a few days. His parents got a telegram yesterday announcing his arrival.

Ray has the distinction of being the youngest soldier who got into the service from the middle west. He has not yet completed his 17th year, and when he enlisted he was just a little past 15 years old. But he was a man size in spirit and patriotism. He tried to enlist in the recruiting office in Council Bluffs but was rejected on account of his age. He went over to Omaha and just missed being taken. Then he equipped himself with a pair of extra high heeled shoes, went to Lincoln and got through. After brief training at Fort Logan, Col., he was sent overseas, attached to Battery E, field artillery, Company 80, Seventh division. He was in the heavy fighting of July, August and September, 1918, and was doing things to the Hun when the armistice was signed.

An older brother, Van Liddell, enlisted in the navy but was rejected for disability after he reached the Great Lakes Training school. He then followed the example of his younger brother and got into the army after several trials. He is now an officer at Fort Logan and as shown such efficiency that he may be retained for a longer period in post service.

Cutworms in Fields Do Great Damage to Crops in Nebraska

Unless drastic action is taken at once to destroy cutworms working on Douglas county alfalfa crops a great loss may be experienced by farmers, according to County Agent Maxwell. Never in the history of the state have crop-damaging insects been so numerous as this spring, according to Mr. Maxwell, and of all the cutworms has been doing the most damage.

"Where there are considerable numbers of these worms some method of control should be adopted," said Mr. Maxwell. It has been found that pasturing infected fields with hogs will solve the problem where a large enough herd of hogs is available. Another method of combating cutworms is to mix a mash of 50 pounds of bran and 2 pounds of Paris green with a gallon of cheap molasses, the juice and ground-up pulp of six lemons, and enough water to make a stiff dough. This mixture should then be scattered over the field.

Cotton Workers' Strike Closes Lancashire Mills

Manchester, England, June 21.—All cotton mills in Lancashire closed at noon today and it is expected by Monday that 55,000 spindles and thousands of looms will be stopped through the strike of 500,000 workers. The mill owners say they will make no attempt to operate.

The cotton reconstruction board will meet Monday, and, as it is composed of employers and trade union officials, it is believed that it hardly will ignore the present crisis.
