ARMOURS BLANK TIGERS IN FIRST, WIN SECOND, 6-4

Andy Graves Holds K. C. Club Helpless in First Game; Dyke Fans Fourteen in Second Game.

The Armours swamped the Kansas City Tigers in the first game of their double-header at Rourke park yesterday, winning 8 to 0. Andy Graves pitched masterful ball and held the colored batters helpless.

The second game was the best of the series, the Tigers taking the lead with two runs, but the Packers overtook them and passed them. The colored boys knotted the score again but in the eighth two more runs were batted in and the game finished up 6 to 4.

The last three colored batters went out by the strike-out route, making fourteen strikeouts for Dyke, to Borley's seven fans. The first two games were poor in the extreme, but the darkies played some real baseball in the final game.

There were only about 400 fans present for the Saturday game, but the double attraction drew 1,400 ball bugs. Next Saturday and Sunday the Chicago Union Giants will oppose the Armours in three games.

First game:
 K. C. Tigers R H E
 Armours 8 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 4
 Batteries: Erwin and Green; Graves and Ryan.

Second game:
 K. C. Tigers R H E
 Armours 0 0 0 1 2 1 2 6 7 2
 Batteries: Borley and Duncan; Dyke and Ryan.

Nearly 25,000 Fans Brave High Temperature to See Classy Amateur Contests

Number of Surprises Sprung in Municipal Leagues and Several Teams Change Standings—World-Herald Nine Take First Beating of the Season at Hands of Trimble Brothers.

By WILLIAM O. BLOZIES.
 With the temperature hovering around the 100 mark yesterday afternoon the amateur baseball players, members of the Municipal Amateur Baseball association, braved the intense heat and entertained nearly 25,000 followers of the national pastime at the Muny parks and diamonds.

With the exception of a few, the contests were fast and snappy, and the spectators were on their feet all of the time rooting and cheering their favorites on to victory. A number of surprises were again sprung and in several instances the leaders were defeated by the second division teams. This was true in the Booster league, when the Trimble Brothers won by the score of 9 to 8 over the World-Herald team, leaders of that loop. Up to yesterday's newspaper crew had not been defeated by any league team.

The contest was a see-saw affair all the way, and the Herald team tied the score in the eighth, making it 8 up, but in the ninth, with two men down, an error and several clean drives by the fruitmen's heavy artillery sent the winning tally across the plate. By their victory and while the Maney Milling Co. lost to the Benson Merchants by a 7 to 4 score, the Trimble Brothers won the Millers.

Ramblers Take Top Place.
 The 5 to 3 victory for the Ramblers over the Daily News placed the former team into first place in the Booster league.

In the Gate-City league the Townsends maintained a stronger hold on first place by sending the Beseline home with a 6 to 1 defeat. In the same loop the Omaha Prints Juniors, by scoring four runs in the first inning off Butler Knudsen, defeated the Hermansky Pharmacy's by a 4 to 1 score. Garvey allowed the Hermansky aggregation but four hits in the four rounds he pitched, while Chleborad, who succeeded him, allowed but two in the remaining five frames. Wednesday evening the Omaha Prints Juniors clash with the Beselines at Thirty-second and Dewey avenue.

Charles Rand pitching for the McKenney Dentists proved too much for the Originals and the dental discs copped an easy contest by a 14 to 4 score. Rand allowed but four hits and whiffed an even dozen. The hitting of Sofio, Stowle and Creighton, each securing a trio of bingles, featured for the Dentists. Friday night the McKenney Dentists clash with the Hermansky Pharmacy's.

Error Loses Game.
 Manager Emil Klausner's error in right field for the Harding Creamery in the ninth round, with a man on second and third for the Trimble Brothers, gave the latter team a 7 to 6 victory. Bill Black, who started to twirl for the Harding's, gave way to Arthur Klausner in the fifth round after the motor-cycle crew had four runs and had secured seven hits. During the five innings Klausner twirled the winners only hit him for a pair.

By winning from the Highland Park Pharmacy's by a 13 to 3 score the Beddoes sprung one of the biggest surprises of the day and pulled the leaders out of first place in the Inter-City league, while they themselves went up a few notches and are tied with the Harley-Davidsons for third place. The Curo Mineral Spings won their third game of the season by beating the John Day Rubber crew, 5 to 4.

Union Outfitting Co. Wins.
 Although the McCaffrey Motor crew scored five tallies from Nutter, the crack hurler for the Union Outfitting Co., in the first round of their game, they were unable to hold the lead and the Outfitters took the lead in the City league race by winning, 7 to 5. In the first round the Motor crew secured a trio of hits, several walks and an error netted them their only scores. After that Nutter pitched great ball and was never in danger. The Outfitters knocked out Pinaud and Maxwell, and also hit Howard Wahl hard, getting a total of 14 hits off the three hurlers. Nutter whiffed nine men. The Mickie Victorlas won a notch higher in the league by knocking off the Bowen Furniture's by a 9 to 5 score, and the Willard Storage Battery's copped a game from the Omaha Printing Co., 12 to 10.

In the American league, the Riggs optical company had an easy time with the J. B. Roots, winning, 14 to 4, while the Paxton-Vierling crew defeated the Universal Motor company, 9 to 4. Ralph Beers, pitching for the ironworkers, allowed but two hits, while Johnny Shields made an attempt to pitch for the Universal but was hit for 14 bingles.

Brandeis Lose.
 The Nebraska Power company was victorious over the Brandeis store team in the Greater Omaha league by winning 9 to 7. The Brandeis took the lead in the first round by scoring three runs off Bill Madden, but the Power lads came back strong in the fifth and sent six men over the plate.

Oscar Grant made his initial appearance on the firing line for the Brandeis and started out well but gave way to Sutej in the fifth when the Power crew started to hit the ball to all corners of the lot. However, the Brandeis team did not have their regular line-up and Manager Marty O'Toole was forced to use several outsiders. Eugene Holmes, 15-year-old son of Ernie Holmes, of the Holmes White Sox, played rightfield for the Brandeis and played a great game.

First Game for Swanson.
 Swanson, who recently returned from France, made his initial appearance for the Power team at short and played a stellar game.

The Holmes-Griswold, Ia., game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Butcher Hay pitched his sixth shut-out game when the Murphy-Dit-Dits defeated the Greenwood, Neb., by a score of 5 to 0. It was the seventh straight victory for the Murphys.

The Murphys scored two runs in the first inning when Dygert singled and stole second, Clair and Payne walked and Mason hit Williams which forced Dygert. Payne scored on an out. The truckmen scored in the third when Dygert walked, stole second and three successive singles by Williams, Synek and Krug brought in two more runs.

The Murphys scored their last run in the fourth inning when Dygert walked, stole his third base and scored on Clair's double to left field.

The largest crowd that has attended a game at Greenwood for many years saw the game. The temperature reached 106 about 4:30 o'clock. It was the hottest day of the year. Score:

Murphy 2 0 2 1 0 0 0 0 6 5
 Greenwood 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
 Runs: Rykert (3), Payne, Williams. Two-base hits: Lawler, Clair. Stolen bases: Dygert (4), Buchanan. Left on bases: Murphy, 6; Greenwood, 6. Earned runs: Murphy, 2; Double play: Williams to Clair; Jardine unassisted. Hit by pitcher: Williams. Struck out: By Hay, 1; by Mason, 4. Bases on balls: Off Mason, 4; off Hay, 1. Umpire: E. A. Landon. Score: Begin.

MURPHYS LEAVE FRIDAY FOR BIG EASTERN TOUR

To Play Some of Leading Semi-Pro Teams of the Country Before Their Return.

It was officially announced yesterday that the Murphy-Dit-Dits, Omaha's crack class A team, members of the Greater Omaha league and last season's amateur champions, will leave Friday evening on their trip into the east.

Seven games have been scheduled for the local cracks in as many cities. The opening game will be played at Des Moines, Ia., June 28, with the Herring Motor company as their opponents. From Des Moines the Murphys go to Chicago, playing there on June 29 with the Gunthers. The Windy City lads are composed of former ex-leaguers, including Joe Benz, former White Sox twirler and Jake Kolara and Bobby Strang, two former Western leaguers, the former with Omaha and the latter with St. Joseph club.

On July 1, they play the Republic Trucks, Alma, Mich. The Murphys will be remembered playing a special series with the Trucks last year and were victorious. Six ex-major leaguers are in the line-up of the Alma crew. Delaware, O., a town of nearly 30,000 people will be the Murphys' stop on July 4, and on July 5, they play at Massillon, O. From Massillon, they journey to Cleveland, O., where they play the crack Torbenson's on July 6. The Goodyear Rubber company, of Akron, O., will be the Murphys' opponents on July 7.

However, the Omaha cracks will probably go to Pittsburgh for a game on July 9 and then jump back to Detroit where they will clash with Rube Foster's All-Stars on July 12 and 13, on the way home.

Although it was announced in one of the other local newspapers that "Butch" Hay, the crack shut-out hurler for the Murphys had left for Lusk, S. D., to play with the team at that place, this report is untrue, as Hay is still in Omaha and will accompany the Murphys on their trip to the east and continue to play with them for the season. Pete McGuire, who recently returned from the 89th division from France, will also make the trip with the local cracks.

My Heart and My Husband
 ADELE GARRISON'S New Phase of "Revelations of a Wife"

Why Has Mrs. Stockbridge Come to Lunch With the Teachers?

Bess Dean opened the door of my classroom, laid a pencil upon the blackboard and with the air of returning something she had borrowed, and quietly withdrew to the corridor again.

I knew at once that either she or some other teacher wished to speak to me in the hall. It was a signal used by the teachers of the Bayview school in sending messages to each other unnoticed by the pupils. I was familiar with similar devices among teachers of other schools, and had early been initiated into the Bayview system, which contained a number of other signals, the most used one being the request for the loan of a blotter, which was sent rapidly from one room to another, when superintendents or other official visitors appeared upon the scene.

The Message.
 I gave her the slightest casual nod of the head, went out with the particular point I was clinching as if there was nothing else on my mind. Then, asking my pupils to copy certain outlines from the blackboard, I slipped out of the room to find Miss Dean impatiently waiting at the head of the stairs.

"Alice wants me to tell you that little Milly is in Kennedy's office, and intends to join us at lunch," she said hurriedly.

"Pleasant prospect, isn't it?" she asked. "But I don't think signals in a dangerous mood to day. She's smiling like a cat with one paw in the cream jug. She's even calling me 'Bessie dear,' sure sign that everything is serene. Usually, she eyes me with about the warmth of a well-brought-up cobra, and addresses me as 'Miss—er—Dean.' She hasn't any use for me you know."

There was a touch of consciousness in the droop of her eyes, running through the carelessness of her words, and a tiny self-satisfied smirk at the corners of her mouth which gave me an instant's revelation of her meaning.

She intended to infer that she was the object of Mrs. Stockbridge's jealousy.

I said cynically to myself that it was a distinction to which she was quite welcome, even as I smiled noncommittally, made a swift practical calculation.

"If she stays to lunch with us, we ought to get in something extra in her honor," I suggested.

"Sure, that's what Alice thought," Miss Dean rejoined. "You'll be off duty in another half hour for a few minutes, won't you?" Alice thought perhaps you wouldn't mind telephoning for ice cream for the crowd. Of course we'll chip in."

"I will attend to it," I replied laconically, with a swift dismayed recollection that the telephone was in Mr. Stockbridge's office, where no doubt his wife was sitting.

"How Kind."
 "Milly's brought a bully chicken salad and a cake with her," Miss Denia volunteered. "Whatever her other faults, she's one of the best cooks in town. My mouth is watering now at the thought of her goodies. Of course you can't be expected to gloat that way, for you live at home, and if you boarded here, her voice and face hinted at culinary horrors untold, as she turned and went down the stairway, leaving me to gather myself together in order to face this unexpected dilemma, that of meeting cordially over the tea-cups a woman whose jealousy of me had led her to an actual attempt upon my life."

Of what was Kenneth Stockbridge thinking, to allow her to do such a thing? I asked the question of myself angrily and received the answer to it unexpectedly, when a little later I went down to the principal's office to telephone for the ice cream.

Milly Stockbridge was sitting in her husband's accustomed chair, swinging one foot and appearing exceedingly well satisfied with herself and all of the rest of the world. Mr. Stockbridge was nowhere to be seen. And one of the older teachers, a woman who had been in the school as long as Alice Holcombe herself, looked up at me a bit uneasily as I entered. Milly Stockbridge's eccentricities of temper were so well known that even those who were not in the secret of her insane jealousy were generally a bit nervous when in her presence.

"Oh, Mrs. Graham, how do you do?" Mrs. Stockbridge rose to meet me, greeted me effusively. "I'm having such a lark. Kenneth telephoned me that he has been called a way unexpectedly to another village—some accident to her words, and a tiny self-satisfied smirk at the corners of her mouth which gave me an instant's revelation of her meaning."
