Peters and Pesek at Broken Bow, Finish Match July 4

Broken Bow, Neb., June 26.—(Special).—John Pesek and Charley Peters are scheduled for a finish match here July 4, at 9:30 p. m., two falls out of three. Committee to judge the match and if in their opinion there is any fake about it the wrestlers don't get a dime. That is their own proposition. Match to be held in the Hugo Brothers show tent. Seats $3, $2, $1. Reservations should be sent to W. S. Schneringer. Each man has posted $100 appearance money. Purse is for 60 per cent of the gate which they divide 60-40, winner-loser. Seating capacity, by a scheme of enlarging tent, is about 3,000. Evening train arrives at 6:30. Flyer east at 6:30 next morning. Come see it. Referee not yet selected.

In addition: Hugo Brothers show; Jack Wellborn and Princess Floretta in free acts; four bands—one the famous Camp Funston band; big program, foot races, etc.; two ball games; battle royal between—or rather among—seven negroes from Grand Island. Address on "Americanism" by H. H. Wilson, Lincoln. Everything but the wrestle free to soldiers. Lawns of the city open for basket dinners. Airship flights all day—$15 a throw—many booked ahead. Exhibition of fireworks by the same men that put on the State Fair show last fall. This is a real celebration. About $5,000 will be spent. Broken Bow is host to the county. The first 19 business men seen by the committee gave $50.00 each for expenses.

Both Lewis and Stecher Training At Their Homes

Strangler Doing His Preparatory Work on His California Fruit Farm and Peerless Joe Conditioning Himself on His Dodge, Neb., Farm; Each Has Number of Big Men in Wrestling Retinue.

Each of the two big men who meet in Omaha on July 4, Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Peerless Joe Stecher, is doing all his preparatory work at his own home. Stecher is training diligently with his brother, Anton, Joe Smeal and a mysterious stranger in the Dodge locality, and reports himself in excellent shape already.

His opponent, Lewis, is doing his work on his California fruit farm, and Billy Sandow, his hustling manager, reports that he is also in fine shape and ready to meet Stecher today. Billy is confident that his man will clamp his deadly headlock on Stecher and end Joe's wrestling, not only for that night, but for the entire season. While Sandow seems to be placing all his confidence and reliance on the Strangler's headlock, the Stecher adherants are just as confident that Joe will mash Lewis' ribs so hard with the scissors that he will not be able to work on the mat again for many a day.

The ordinary work of training for an important match soon palls on the ordinary wrestler, but Stecher has arranged his training so that he has quite a variety of stunts, doing away with the tedious matter in his work. He plays base ball with the Dodge team, of which he is also the manager; plays handball, runs with his pet dog, an animal trained to play leap frog with Joe on the road. He runs a little distance and stoops over and the dog leaps over him, running on ahead, and Joe then leaps over the dog. Both the pup and the wrestler enjoy the road trips in this way, and Stecher returns with a good bath of perspiration and in good spirits.

The Californian is combining his work with pleasure also, as he is climbing fruit trees in the mornings, adding a profit to his training, and putting in several hours with a number of husky wrestling mates in his high-class gymnasium, built for him by his wife as a wedding present. He wires that he will surely win, apparently as confident as his manager.

Joe Stecher is going to make a determined stand to secure a referee for this match who is a Nebraskan and capable of acting in the capacity of third man in the ring on the afternoon of July 4.

Stecher always has felt that in his last match here with Lewis in 1916 the decision should have been rendered in his favor, as he claims he did the most work and was the strongest at the end of the contest. However, many differ with Joe in his opinion, and there are an equal number of fans who feel Lewis should have received the decision instead of the referee calling it a draw. Stecher claims in all his matches he has never discriminated against any man of reputation and ability as referee for his contests, but he believes there are as good men in Nebraska as any place else, and one should be selected to referee this contest who will give both boys a fair square deal.

There is no question but what Billy Sandow, Lewis' manager, will have an opinion of his own to render with regard to the referee, and he, without doubt, will want to bring in an outsider. However, he had his whole say on the match of 1916, and Stecher made no objection to Ed Smith, who is considered one of the best men in the game, and while many criticized his decision on their last match, he has always contended that neither one of them had any the best of the match, and as there were no falls, no decision but a draw could have been rendered.

This match must be decided on falls, so that it will not be hard for a man to decide the winner. Stecher has always claimed that he has no superior on the mat today, and while he has had a few setbacks, he cites the fact that Gotch, in his palmiest days, lost a match to Freddie Beall and other great athletes have been set back on different occasions.

Stecher asserts he will defeat Lewis decisively, and once for all decide who is the logical man to meet Caddock for the championship of the world here in Omaha in the fall.

Dope Upset With Dempsey Favorite in July 4th Fight

For First Time in History of Championship Heavyweight Ring Battles the Title Holder Will Enter Arena on Short End of the Betting.

By FRANK G. MENKE.
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent.)

Toledo, June 26.—Approximately $1,000,000 was rushed into town today from all parts of the country with this instruction: "Bet it at even money that Jack Dempsey whips Jess Willard on July 4."

The bulk of the fortune came from plungers in the big cities who hoped to find odds against Dempsey in their own towns. Failing to locate better than even money, they sent it here with the expectation of finding Willardites who would lay at least 6 to 5 on their man.

But practically all of that $1,000,000 remains unplaced. There is no financial backing for Willard and right now there is the belief that before fight time Dempsey will rule a 5 to 4 and perhaps a 5 to 3 favorits over the champion. If that comes about it means a situation without parallel in pugilistic history.

Willard in Poor Shape.

Never in the annals of American ringdom has a champion failed to go to the "post" a favorite. Paddy Ryan was a 2 to 1 shot over John L Sullivan and the great Bostonian's backers laid 4 to 1 that he would whip Corbett. (The californian was favorite over Fitzsimmons and Bob, in turn, was a 13 to 5 ruler over Jeffries. When Jeff went against Johnson he was favorite, while Johnson was 3 to 1 when he battled Willard.

The absence of Willard money can be explained in only one way. His most enthusiastic friends have lost confidence because he doesn't seem to be in fighting shape, and they figure an aged and improperly trained Willard cannot endure before the cyclonic youthful and superbly trained Dempsey.

No Referee Named.

The refereeing matter is still in status quo—with the prospect of more wrangling looming large despite the announcement by Tex Rickard that the names of the men who will serve as referee and judges will be made public tomorrow. Adams Empie, who is here with W. A. Gavin, representing the National Boxing cimmission, gave out a statement last night which read in part:

"Major Biddle will wire the names of the officials to Mr. Rickard tomorrow."

Fighters Not Satisfied.

Kearns and Willard aren't at all keen about having a pair of judges assist the referee. Both are exponents of the old plan of only a referee. Rickard favors the three of ficials rule. Why? Well it's a mystery to me. But insiders claim that Rickard feels that the only way that Ollie Pecord can be jammed into the refereeing job is to have two judges assist him.

The point is this: Pecord is the official referee of the Toledo Boxing commission. Its rules provide that he must referee all fights in Toledo. And this Dempsey-Willard affair is to be fought under Toledo commission rules. Pecord is a good man, but both fighters know other referees that they are keener about than Pecord. Rickard wants Pecord to referee in keeping with the Toledo rules. Feeling that perhaps the fighters might object to him as the sole judge he espoused the three-man plan. That would simplify things. Pecord could refree and the judges, being men of seasoned ability could safeguard the fighters' interests by outvoting Pecord in a decision if he blundered.

CHICAGO UNION GIANTS TO PLAY ARMOURS HERE

Fast Colored Club Tackles Local Semi-Pro Stars at Rourke Park Saturday and Sunday.

The Armours will present a good attraction at Rourke park next Saturday and Sunday when they play the Chicago Union Giants. The Giants are well known here, having played many seasons with the old Brandeis club. Mr. Gilkerson, their manager, has been with the club for a good many years, although John Donaldson is not with them having quit the pitching game. They nevertheless have a second Donaldson in their pitcher Burch. His most notable game this season was shutting out Sutherlands at Chicago without a hit. He also held the strong Gary, Ind., team to one hit. They are made up of ex-league stars.

Manager Gilkerson expects to pitch Burch Saturday and probably one game Sunday. The receiving end of the battery is made up of King Coleman, Donaldson's old catcher, and he is playing with all his old style. Everybody remembers Bingham, the funny man of the old Leland Giants team. He is with this aggregation and has more stuff than ever. He is a good counterpart of Arlie Latham of the old Browns.

The club will arrive Saturday morning. Manager Williams of the Armours will oppose Burch with his best boxman. He declares the Armours are ready and will give a good account of themselves. Popular prices will prevail.
