

KITCHIN VEXED BY REPUBLICAN ECONOMY CLAIM

Bourbon Leader Denies Billion and Half Was Saved by Eliminating "Democratic Extravagance."

Washington, June 27.—Statements of republican leaders in the house that their party had saved the people $1,500,000,000 by eliminating "democratic extravagance" from supply bills passed by the house this session, were denounced on the floor Friday by Representative Kitchin, democrat of North Carolina, as "masterpieces of political deception."

The former democratic house leader discussed at some length a statement given out last week by Republican Leader Mondell and declared "it was rich in false impressions, wrong inferences and bald misstatements of fact."

Passed Needed Measures. "During the last session, the democratic house passed every needed war measure and public supply bill. This enactment was not completed, but why? Their defeat was caused solely by the detestable, indecent filibuster made by the republicans in the senate during the closing days of the session."

"Now the republicans come and say their efficient work has made passage of the bills possible." "Taking up each of the supply measures in detail, Mr. Kitchin declared the reductions which had been made in them were due not to republican economy, but to democratic efficiency in running the various departments."

"It is said that the republicans saved $400,000,000 in the army bill alone," he said, "when in reality they didn't save the people a single penny in that measure, nor in any other. The $400,000,000 was made possible by the War department's splendid work in carrying forward demobilization faster even than any one considered possible last spring."

BRITAIN WILLING DE VALERA SHALL REMAIN IN U. S.

Has No Objection to Sale of Irish Republic Bonds to Americans.

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE, Universal Service Staff Correspondent. (Special Cable Dispatch.) London, June 27.—The duration of Professor De Valera's visit in America depends wholly upon Mr. De Valera himself.

This somewhat cryptic answer to his question as to how the British government proposed to deal with the Irish president's program was made by an official qualified to know the sentiment and the precedents of the British office.

Though this official refused to allow mention of his name, I gathered from his conversation that the British government is not considering any request for the deportation of De Valera as long as he does not follow the tactics of Mrs. Sheehy Skeffington and preach what the British government considers dangerous sedition or attempt actively to enlist recruits for armed rebellion in Ireland.

"He may sell as many bonds of and for the Irish republic as he wishes," the official continued. "I understand lots of people in your country are investing in wildcats just at present."

All London newspapers carry dispatches detailing De Valera's activities in America, featuring with painful surprise the report that the New York aldermen will accord him the freedom of the city.

ENVOYS FROM BERLIN ARRIVE AT VERSAILLES

(Continued From Page One.) were to refuse to sign the treaty unless some reservation was permitted as to Japan's sovereignty over the Shantung peninsula, acquired by Germany from China under the treaty of 1917.

These instructions have never been changed and accordingly the announcement of the Chinese delegation was not surprising to officials here. Until very recently, however, it was considered here as possible that China might sign the treaty, in view of private assurances said to have been given her representatives that Japan's tenure of Shantung would not be long, China, it also had been believed, probably would assent to the treaty and leave the Shantung question to be worked out by the league of nations.

Failure of China to sign the treaty, officials explained, probably will exclude it from the league of nations, including certain rights of redress under that covenant, as well as work to its detriment in the resumption of trade.

HAYS PLANS TO HEAL SPLIT ON LEAGUE FIGHT

G. O. P. Chairman Favors Covenant Amended to Meet Objections Made by Opponents of Scheme.

By JAMES F. NOURSE, (Staff Correspondent Universal Service.) Washington, June 27.—With Chairman Will H. Hays of the national republican committee, in the role of a pacifier, republican senators today started a movement to bring about a united action by the party organization in the fight against the league of nations.

Hays came down to Washington at the urgent request of several of the republican senators who felt that his counsel was necessary to heal the split in the senate organization and to compose the differences which are tending to prevent harmony in the league fight.

He spent the entire afternoon yesterday at the capital in conference with senators, among whom were Lodge, Knox, Curtis, New, Watson, Colt and McCormick. The conferences were resumed this morning and will continue for several days, as Hays plans to remain in Washington for almost a month.

No Settled Program. Hays has no settled program as to what the policy of the republican party on the league issue should be. He is firm in his stand that it should not be made a partisan question. If he has his way, the republican national organization will take no action along this line, despite the demand of Senator Borah and others, that the party should declare itself irrevocably against the league.

Hays' purpose, as revealed in his conference with senators today, is to bring the republican senators together on some plan of action that will lead to ratification of the league of nations covenant with amendments or reservations to meet the radical opponents on the entire league scheme. It may be the Root plan or some other plan, but the definite object which Hays hopes to achieve is unity of action, and the presentation of a solid party front on the league program.

Hays Favors League. Personally, Hays believes in and hopes for the establishment of a league of some kind that will insure permanent peace. He believes that the sentiment of the country is for such a league—and Hays has traveled a lot.

The idea in the back of Hays' mind is that the republicans, by amending and strengthening the league covenant and removing the objections raised against it, can present to the country as a better league of nations than that which President Wilson created—a republican league of nations—which will be just the kind the people want.

TEAMSTERS GO BACK TO WORK FOR "FAIR" FIRMS

Strikers Comply With Request Made by the Central Labor Union.

Striking teamsters and truck drivers, employees of "fair" firms who walked out in accordance with the general strike order issued by their local about 10 days ago, returned to work yesterday and are again operating vehicles of firms which have conceded the demands of the union. This step was taken in compliance with the order of the Central Labor union that the drivers resume work for the "fair" firms.

The number of men who returned to work is estimated by union leaders at 500.

Wagons and trucks operated by union men were again placarded with "This Firm Fair to Organized Labor" cards.

By next Monday the strike will be practically over, employers declare. Strikers have been steadily returning to work during the last week. Delivery service is in most cases now normal. In a few instances local transportation is still somewhat hampered.

Some employers contradicted the statement made by Commissioner Zimmerman that he was making good progress in his effort to bring the striking teamsters and truck drivers and their employers together.

Henry Green, a driver for the Fidelity Van and Storage Co., was badly beaten yesterday at Eighteenth and Webster streets by a man he declares was a picket for the striking teamsters. Green was taken to the police station, where his injuries were dressed by police surgeons.

PEACE TO BRING HUNGARIAN REVOLUTION CLAIMS BELA KUN

Hungarian Minister Says Communism Will Succeed as He Foresees Class Wars Throughout World.

Budapest, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—"The allied policy toward Hungary should be one of non-interference in our internal affairs and the allies also should raise the blockade," Bela Kun, foreign minister, declared today in a press conference. He said the Hungarian government, told the Associated Press correspondent today in discussing assertions that Hungary had been interfering with the affairs of the Austrian republic.

Minister Kun also expressed confidence that communism would succeed in Hungary.

Resuming his discussion of the reported friction with the Austrian republic, he said: "It is altogether untrue. Austria is seeking to deceive the public so that it may continue the domination of Hapsburg capitalism. It is also untrue that we bought guns and rifles from the Italians."

"Clemenceau's policy is peace. Premier Lenin of Russia is not dictating our internal policy. We are merely following his idea that principles should be altered to meet changing circumstances."

"Yes, communism will succeed here," he said in answer to a question, "now we are in a period of transition, going back toward socialism."

Asked if Hungarians wanted communism, he said: "The majority is passive, but the minority is active. Anyway, it is impossible for us to work under capitalism even with the latter passive."

"I know the Germans will sign the peace treaty and I am glad of it, for it means a revolution in Germany. After such a peace capitalism will be incapable of organizing production there. Nor would it pay, politically, to try to do so. Peace will bring class war and revolutions in other countries, as foreseen by Lenin, who is the greatest man in the world."

PRESIDENT TO SAIL FOR HOME AT NOON SUNDAY

(Continued From Page One.) ment, and presidential quarters are understood to hold that reservations, such as the proposed Root reservation to article 10 of the covenant, are equivalent to amendments.

Feeling is said to be particularly strong in presidential quarters against the resolution of Senator Fall of New Mexico to declare a state of peace with Germany, which is characterized in these responsible quarters as having the effect of allying the United States with Germany and placing the country in a position of contempt that no nation ever suffered. It is the president's belief, according to reliable sources, that not more than a handful of people in America will approve such a resolution.

The length of the peace conference is regarded, it is said, as beneficial on the whole, as the long discussion brought about a fuller understanding among the nations. There is special pride in the fact that the views of the American experts usually prevailed, probably because the United States had no selfish interests involved in the difficult questions settled. It is also held that sinister influences played comparatively little or no part in the results of the conference.

Concerning the mandate of the United States in Turkey, the president is known to hold that he had no right to make any promises and that the most he could do was to present the subject to the people at home.

One of the main reasons for the proposed American mandate in Constantinople, it is pointed out, is that it would keep Constantinople out of European politics and keep the Black sea open for the world's commerce.

Concerning Mexico and Costa Rica not being in the league of nations, the presidential view is said to be that the situation is of their own making and that it was necessary for those governments "to find themselves." Relative to the president's 14 points, the view is taken that the treaty adheres to the points more closely than had been expected, owing to the difficulties and complications which arose during the course of the negotiations.

End of Long Job. On the whole, presidential quarters regard the signing of the treaty as the end of a long job they are glad to see finished, and President Wilson it was stated, starts back relying with confidence on approval of the work by the people when misapprehensions have been cleared away and they have been made fully aware what the conference has accomplished.

Besides signing the treaty and the protocol Saturday, the president has made it known that he is ready to sign the treaty carrying out the arrangements whereby the United States and Great Britain will come to the assistance of France in case she is menaced by Germany, if a treaty can be prepared for signature before his departure; otherwise he will authorize Secretary of State Lansing to sign that treaty after his departure.

The triple undertaking has already been communicated in the form of a letter which will be sent to the American senate, but the treaty is the formal carrying out of the engagement.

Daniels Refuses to Rescind "Dry" Zone Regulations. Washington, June 27.—In response to urgent requests from the mayor of Newport, R. I., asking that the navy's "dry" zone order applying to all naval training stations be rescinded before July 1, Secretary Daniels telegraphed that the order would not be rescinded and that no exceptions would be made in the case of Newport.

Mr. Daniels intimated that the order would not be rescinded until the president officially declared the state of war no longer exists and by that time, Mr. Daniels said, he "hoped that the measure would no longer be necessary."
