FRUIT PRICES MAY PROHIBIT HOME CANNING

Short Crops Send Prices Skyward With No Indication of Decline, Omaha Dealers Say.

Housewives will be able to preserve little or no fruits this summer unless an unexpected and marked decline of prices occurs, according to Omaha retail grocers, who state that the supply of fruit is short, that the price of fruit and sugar for canning is prohibitive and that a steady increase in prices is expected for the summer.

"There were practically no pineapples this year, apricots are scarce and the supply of cherries is less than usual, said Al King of Hayden Brothers. "Sugar is selling at 10 cents a pound. Cherries are selling at $5 a crate, several times more than they cost before this year. Peaches have not arrived yet in quantities. Conditions will force the price of canned goods up even higher and dried fruit will take a sharp rise at the end of the summer."

A February frost damaged the California orange crop somewhat. Bananas are selling at around 40 cents a dozen.

Human Dispositions Reflect Effect of Heat Wave In Omaha

Court records are reflecting the effects of the heat on human dispositions. Julius Lanz, ice man, delivered a piece of ice to the home of Mrs. G. W. Weisbrod, 505 William street. She remarked that her ice did not seem to be as large as the cake delivered to a neighbor. Lanz thereupon took ice out of the Weisbrod icebox and was starting away in high dudgeon. According to a complaint filed by Lanz in the justice court of George S. Collins, Mrs. Weisbrod restrained him from taking the ice away by holding a revolver in a menacing manner.

Interesting scientific information as to the birth and habits of tornadoes is presented in a recent Paramount-Bray photoplay, "The Maelstrom of the Brays," which, with the aid of animated drawings, illustrates how the terrific wind storms develop on the plains and carry destruction over wide areas. Tornadoes are formed, it is shown, by areas of superheated air breaking through cold air above, forming an aerial disturbance of great violence. The animated diagrams show that the damage to life and property takes place in the vacuum and not along the whirling edges of the tornado.

Ben Turpin, the Sennett comedian, says he learned to be funny by pulling taffy with country folks back in Ohio. One day he tried to add a comic effect by pretending to make a swipe at somebody in the crowd. The somebody couldn't tell Ben from his crossed eyes, which was Ben's intended effect. The result was that a hunk of hot taffy wrapped itself around the neck of the chief of police of Cincinnati. Ben found it convenient to leave town next day.

"With the signing of the peace terms and the demobilization of our European army," says Monte M. Katterjohn, the scenario author, "the tendency will be toward an appreciation for the true dramatic story, with its suspense, pathos, laughter and heart-throbs. Our future productions must return to spirited drama if they are to please a populace which no longer thinks in terms of war, but nevertheless in terms of confidence, conquering, honest-to-goodness red-blooded Americans."

Announcement has just been made of the creation of the "Katterjohn Films" in cooperation with which will produce four pictures during the next twelve months, written and directed by Mr. Katterjohn.

Y.W.C.A. Objects to the Article Advocating Union of Housemaids

Directors of the Young Women's Christian association take strong exception to the tenor of an article that appeared during the week in the World-Herald. It was to the general effect that the formation of a union of domestic servants was being encouraged by the institution. In regard to this the board has issued this statement: "The board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. disclaim any responsibility for the suggestions appearing in one of the daily papers of June 23 concerning the privilege, which might be accorded household assistants and the formation of a domestic workers' union. "These matters have never been presented to the board of directors nor have they ever been endorsed by any member of the board. "Miss Beth Howard, employment secretary of the Y. W. C. A., is on record in the above-mentioned article as opposed to the formation of a union, as it creates class distinction. "The policy of the Y. W. C. A. is to promote the spiritual, mental, physical and social welfare of young women. "This statement is signed by Mrs. George F. Gilmore, Mrs. Charles Offutt, Mrs. J. M. Aiken, Mrs. Palmer Findley, Mrs. Edward Johnson, Mrs. C. O. Rich, Mrs. C. K. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Rhoades, Mrs. C. J. Hubbard, Mrs. Allen Koch, Mrs. C. B. Stone, Mrs. G. W. Summering in the Pacific Northwest

The Northwest! What a Land of Adventure! Its trails—on land and sea—blazed by Lewis and Clark, by Astor, by Bering, by Vancouver.

A land of glaciers and rose festivals—of blue lakes in the bowls of ancient craters—of snow-capped peaks—of sheltered seas—of mighty rivers and the lure of golden sands. A land, too, of thriving cities and modern motor highways.

A vast, cool summer playground where one may enjoy outdoor life in the mountains and by the sea, and where one may visit great National Parks.

Go this summer. En route see some of the other National Parks of the Far West, returning (if desired) through California.
