

O woman! whose form and whose soul
Are the spell and the light of each path we pursue;
Whether sun'd in the tropics, or chill'd at the pole,
If woman be there, there is happiness, too.—Moore.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Seek to be good, but aim not to be great.
A woman's noblest station is retreat;
Her fairest virtues fly from public sight.

Gabby Tells Secrets of Fanny Ward's Young Daughter.

eastern man on Sunday and she was all a thrill, of course. Imagine her surprise when he walked in at her parents' home on Saturday morning. He demanded to know just why the car with the aforesaid pretty girl at the wheel was not at the train to meet him. And then, everybody was all confused. He thought it was Sunday when in reality it was only Saturday for in his great haste to reach our fair city and the lady fair, he had slipped Saturday from his calendar entirely.

His visits are quite frequent, we have noticed. Their friends say a wedding is in prospect, but the girl only smiles. She is so charming and he is so very nice that everyone decides they are an ideal couple. She is a talented young woman and has chosen a career rather than the whipped cream of the social whirl. If we hint much more you will have guessed the secret—but, never fear, Dan Cupid is busy despite soaring temperatures and a formal announcement may be forthcoming very soon.

"MY FACE is my fortune, sir," she said, and never did the mere man realize the truth of her words until this modern day. For face values are going up and milder can squander $100 in a beauty parlor in one revolution of the sun. You have no conception of the money-grasping devices that may be found within the curtained booths of a beauty emporium. Think not that this beauty is permanent. My, how the sun and wind or one evening under the shaded lights will reduce the beautified one to stringy hair and a shiny nose and the operation must be repeated.

When Lord Byron penned the immortal line, "Her eyebrow's shape is like the aerial bow," he must have been mistaken, for they didn't pluck eyebrows in those days and everyone knows that only the plucked eyebrow is properly arched. The arched eyebrow has come to stay and woe to the woman who allows these appendages of nature to go unplucked. But in this modern age, a mere detail in this spending spree.

A permanent wave will require $65, for Titian locks you must pay $5 and if you wish to be blonde or brunette, but our imagination fails for the price is exorbitant. A Turkish bath and reduction treatment, mud packs, hot packs, all guaranteed to give you that rosy skin longed for by all, but attained by few. In some beauty parlors there is a process of facial inflation, involving an injection of paraffin which causes Father Time to fade into thin air with one last parting croak.

The woman who is reclining a whole day on the altar of beauty is nearing the hundred dollar mark. She has had her hair "toned" and she has supplied herself with various kinds of creams for cleansing, building, bleaching, powders for whitening, reddening, tanning. Yes, tanning. For there is lovely brown powder that doesn't show on tanned skins. Lip stick and eye brow mascara she must take with her for daily use.

It's a good thing the sterner sex never venture behind the rose-tinted curtain where the goddess of beauty sits enthroned. If they did, there might be fewer marriages. Imagine beholding the girl you courted on a moonlit veranda the night before sitting with an octopus clinging to her head with more than two dozen tentacles. Verily, she looks like a modern Medusa, for it is a fearsome creature she wears anchored to an electric device in the ceiling. But, ah, what a revelation when the wires are removed, for the would-be beauty has 30 ringlets that defy salt water or inland showers, and straight-haired Gladys who always longed for curls is a happy woman.

Strange as it may seem the business women drop their hard-earned dollars without a murmur and are really the best patrons of these beauty shops, for they realize that good looks plus brains will bring more dollars. Many a divorce would be averted if the housewife would neglect the pies and puddings and devote her time to a marcel once in a while.

These establishments of beautifying are becoming very efficient and they not only "turn you out" in a given length of time, all dressed up with somewhere to go, but send you in a taxi to the party you are invited to. It's a dreary year that doesn't add to the novelties and expenses of looking better than your best.

"Oh, the golden, olden glory of the days gone by," we sighed when guns were booming and we were forced to dispense with all of the luxuries. The lovely maidens who were being wooed and often won by Uncle Sam's warriors were patriotic to the heart's core and lovely corsage bouquets and beautiful gifts were taboo, absolutely! But now, with peace at hand, everyone has plunged into a perfect orgy of spending and the good old days have returned when cavaliers may shower their ladies fair with all the treasures of nature and art. A pretty brown-eyed miss is in our midst, leaving her home in California to visit a multitude of friends here for a few weeks. One of Omaha's most prominent young men capitulated shortly after her arrival and the happiness of the two is quite beautiful to see. Although solitaires grow in profusion in the maris of the west there was no ring quite lovely enough for this fiancée to be found here and this symbol of faith was purchased in New York. Flowers are delivered every morning to this lucky girl; you never see her at luncheon, tea or dinner without a bunch of dewy blossoms pinned to her smart frock and we heard it whispered of the wonders of a gold purse which was recently presented by her fiancé.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Utendorfer and daughter, Anna Jane Beaton, leave this week for a motor tour of the western coast to be gone all summer.

Weddings

Rice-Sander Nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Sander of Papillion announce the marriage of their daughter, Katherine, to Mr. Frederick William Rice, which took place at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday at high noon. Rev. H. F. Schmidt performed the ceremony.

Miss Gladys King of Papillion was bridesmaid and Mr. Harvey Rice, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Behrendt.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was served, snialx and roses forming the decorations.

After a western wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rice will be at home in Papillion until their new home in Omaha is completed. Mrs. Rice is a graduate of Brownell Hall and has spent much time here. Mr. Rice, who is the son of Mrs. W. F. Rice, is one of the young business men of the city.

Jones-Roys

A pretty wedding took place Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Roys when their daughter, Maude Alice, became the bride of Mr. I. Benson Jones. Rev. H. G. Langley read the marriage lines.

The bride's only attendant was her little niece, Margaret Gilbert, who wore a pink organdie frock. She carried the ring in a basket of pink roses.

The bride wore a simple gown of moonlight crepe and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for Lingle, Wyo., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Jones is a graduate of the Peru State Normal school and has taught in the Omaha schools. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is at present superintendent of government irrigation at Lingle.

Telpner-Sigal

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sigal announce the marriage of their daughter, Sylvia, to Ben Telpner, which took place at their home Sunday, June 22. Rabbi Morris Taxon officiated.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Nettie Garelick sang "Oh, Promise Me" and Miss Annette Tanger played the wedding march, accompanied by Miss Jennie Leibovitz on the violin. The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy Zucker as maid of honor, and Miss Ida Telpner, Miss Marcia Leibovitz and Miss Mamie Racusin as bridesmaids.

The ribbon bearers were Ida Stern, Alice Stern, Ida Greenburg and Helen Levinson. Jeanette Levinson carried the ring in a basket of flowers. Mr. Jack Fleishman was best man.

The ribbon bearers were Ida Stern, Alice Stern, Ida Greenburg and Helen Levinson. Jeanette Levinson carried the ring in a basket of flowers. Mr. Jack Fleishman was best man.

Bell-Brown.

One of the attractive home weddings was that of Miss Louise Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, and Fred W. Bell, which took place Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. Rev. D. Cleveland performed the wedding ceremony, which was witnessed only by the immediate families.

The living room was prettily decorated with palms, wedding bells and daisies. The bride's gown was embroidered net over white satin. She wore a tulle veil and a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's brother and sister served as attendants, the bridesmaid being prettily gowned in pink georgette crepe.

Mrs. Turner sang "What a Wonderful World This Is." A wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bell left on the midnight train for California on a three weeks' honeymoon, after which they will be in their new home in Minne Lusa.

Herbert Davis returned last week from John Hopkins university.

We have announced July 1st as the date of our removal to the Barker Block, 15th and Farnam streets. We have stated that this would be the finest dental office in the middle west. That the public may know, we invite them to visit us.

In the past number of years we have done dental work for thousands—always with the understanding that we guaranteed our work. To these we suggest that if they so desire, we would be glad to inspect the work done and if any attention is necessary we are ready and would be glad of the opportunity to make good our guarantee.

With larger office quarters, improved facilities, greater capacity; the presence of special surgery, we can renew our promise to our friends and patrons that all our work in the future as in the past, is done under a guarantee which at all times we stand prepared to protect.

Until July 1st we may be found at the 403 Brandeis Bldg. office. After July 1st in our new home on the Fourth Floor, Barker Block.

American boys have a heartfelt of gratitude for the splendid work of the Red Cross, and proof of this is found in the following letter received at Omaha chapter:

To the American Red Cross Everywhere:
I wish to express my love and appreciation for those members and good workers of the Red Cross, Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus, and this is the only way I have at present to do it. I am a casual soldier of the Rainbow division, one who has been there in the big game across the "blue."

During my trip from Seattle 20 months ago, to France, at the front and back again, I have found these organizations just what they are cracked up to be.

I appreciated my gifts from them very much. It was a great help. We are glad and thankful to get back in God's country to the people we love. That's the greatest thing in life. Life is nothing without love.

School halls are deserted and text books lie forgotten, for the pretty students have packed their vacation trunks and joyfully turned homeward. The parties given for the school set are quite like reunions, for there is so much to say after a separation of several months. One of the most attractive of the younger girls who will one day make her debut is Miss Catherine Cartan, who has been the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Nash, for the past month. Mrs. Nash entertained at a dancing party at the Country club during the week in honor of Miss Cartan and Mr. Nash Cartan, who came from San Francisco for a short visit at the Nash home. The party was attended by all the school girls and was quite the prettiest affair of the early summer.

Miss Cartan's visit was all too short, however, for the left Saturday for the east. A girl's camp in Pennsylvania will claim her during the summer months, when all the sports of the outdoors will be enjoyed. In the fall Miss Cartan will return to the Sussers school in New York, which she attended this year.

And You Wake Up With Beautifully Curly Hair!

(Town Tattler)
appreciated by my lady who dislikes the tedious and "nervous" task of twisting her locks around a heated iron, perhaps singeing the hair, burning off the ends and blistering fingers or scalp in the operation. From any druggist procure a few ounces of pure liquid Silmerine and at night pour a little onto a clean tooth brush and draw this down the full length of the hair. A simple thing to do, but remarkably effective, as will be apparent in the morning. The hair will have a wonderfully soft, fluffy curliness, much more natural looking, glossier and livelier in appearance than where a waving iron has been used. Silmerine doesn't make the hair sticky or greasy, and there will be no trouble doing it up in any style desired.—Olga Ormsbee.

Mervins-Burgdorf.
The marriage of Miss Martha Burgdorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burgdorf, and Mr. Edward Mervins took place Friday evening at St. Luke's Lutheran church. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple have left for an eastern trip.
