WANTS CHANGE IN CODE LAW AT EXTRA SESSION

Governor to Recommend the Amendment to Cover Defect Not Discovered Until Legislature Adjourned.

Lincoln, June 30.—Governor McKelvie, in his call for a special session of the legislature, will incorporate a recommendation for an amendment to the code bill to remedy a defect now in the bill and which was not discovered until after the legislature adjourned.

I am in receipt of your letter of June 25 which you enclose a copy of the resolutions adopted at the annual convention of your association. In their general application to the code, your resolutions seem to be based upon misinformation and I feel that had you been informed of what the code really is, they would not have for a moment thought of taking such action. I shall, therefore, feel privileged to place in the hands of your members a digest of the code, so that they may be correctly informed as to just what it is and what it proposes to do.

Four Shipment at Auburn
Refused by Freight Train

Barna, president of the Albion Milling company, has sent a protest to the State Railway commission in which he states that freight trains passing through that city refuse to take on flour for shipment. He states that last week he secured information that the regular freight train which stops at that town would pull in about 4 o'clock. The milling company had 15 sacks for shipment to Petersburg, which were billed and stood on a truck ready for loading. For some reason the train crew refused to load them and the shipment had to stand on the platform until the next day.

WHEAT HARVEST IN STATE NOW IN FULL SWING

Condition of Grain in Omaha District Estimated at 99 Per Cent; McCook Division 100 Per Cent.

The wheat harvest is in full swing all over the south half of Nebraska is the report that comes to the Burlington from agents out along the line and from division superintendents. The weather conditions are perfect and according to the reports the former estimate of 70,000,000 bushels of winter and 12,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, stands.

Omaha division, 99; Lincoln, 98; Wymore, 97; McCook, 100 per cent. Apparently there is no alarming shortage of harvest hands, it being said that the wage, $5 per day and board, is attracting a great number of men who prior to now have been engaged in occupations other than farm work.

In the southwestern portion of the state a considerable portion of the wheat is being headed, thus being taken from the fields to the stacks, going away with the necessity of binding, shocking and later stacking the grain. All through the south half of Nebraska the harvesting of oats, rye and barley has been finished. The grain has been secured in excellent condition and an enormous yield is predicted.

CAPTAIN DUNN LOSES COMMAND OF MORAL SQUAD

July Detail Places Men Under Supervision of Captains Heitfeld and Vanous; Eberstein Gives Reason.

The police department detail for July places the day and night morals squads under the supervision of Captains Henry Heitfeld and Anton Vanous at Central police station, instead of Capt. John T. Dunn of the detective department, as has been the rule.

This is to relieve Captain Dunn of some of his duties and to leave him free to attend to criminal work," Chief Eberstein explained. The night morals squad will be directed by Detective-Sergeant A. V. Thestrup and the day squad by Detective-Sergeant H. A. Cunningham.

Figured In Brown Raid

Detective Vanous and Captain Dunn figured in the Mrs. Thomas Brown case, which resulted in the whitewash in the city council after an extended hearing. Vanous and Detective Joseph Potach were detained to observe the Brown flats. They did so for six nights and reported back that they did not see anything wrong. Then Detectives George Armstrong and John Herdizina were sent out to "get the works," they at the time being of the day morals squad, and were sent to do night duty on this particular occasion.

A check for $75, written by Turner and made payable to Unger, and an ounce of morphine found in Turner's possession were offered in evidence.
