Wife Granted Divorce When She Tells Court Of Alleged Cruelty

Mrs. Anna Wipf broke down and cried on the witness stand in District Judge Day's court yesterday as she related the details of the death of her first-born child some years ago.

She was granted a divorce by Judge Day with $5,500 alimony and Mr. Wipf was also ordered to pay $10 a month for the support of their three children.

"The baby was two years and four months old," she said. "When he got sick, Mr. Wipf said his mother in Germany didn't need a doctor and she raised many children. The baby got worse and then we took him in the buggy and went to town to the doctor. He died on the way."

Mrs. Wipf's sobs at this point interrupted the trial for a few moments.

Married in 1905, she said, the first year was very happy. "Then he began drinking," she declared. "Sometimes he would drink half a gallon of wine in one evening."

In addition to doing the housework and attending the children, she said she had the hardest kind of work in the fields. She said he told her to use soup bones and potatoes for herself and the children.

By their efforts they acquired a 20-acre farm on West Leavenworth street, worth $10,000 and four houses on South Eighteenth street worth $4,000. Mrs. Wipf finally left him and came with the children to live at 2422 South Eighteenth street.

Says Victory Ribbons Will Be Issued Soon; Warns Against Fakes

Victory ribbons, worn by a large number of discharged soldiers, are but cheap imitations of the genuine Victory ribbon to be issued by the government in a short time, and their sale should be stopped, according to Sergt. A. C. Rogers of the local recruiting station.

"Merchants, anticipating the issuance of such a ribbon, have stocked up with cheap imitations," said Sergeant Rogers. "Their sale should be discouraged. The real Victory ribbon has not yet been issued by the government, and only those who have worn a uniform from the time war was declared until the armistice was signed will be entitled to wear them."

"We expect these ribbons soon, however. They will be the same as the old campaign ribbon, but with different colors. A bronze medal will be attached for wear at dress parades."

MRS. H. G. WALKER IN FILING NAMES CO-RESPONDENT

Mother of Girl Who Committed Suicide April 2 Named in Amended Petition for Divorce.

Mrs. Hellen G. Walker filed an amended petition in her suit for divorce from Harvey D. Walker in district court yesterday in which she names Mrs. May Houlitz as co-respondent and gives names and dates of her husband's alleged associations with Mrs. Houlitz.

Mrs. Houlitz is the mother of Mildred Houlitz, pretty 16-year-old girl who committed suicide April 2, 1919, at her home, leaving a note addressed to her mother, admonishing her to "lead a clean and happy life." The coroner's inquest at that time was sensational. Mr. Walker was present with Mrs. Houlitz.

The Walker home is at 2787 Capitol avenue and Mrs. Houlitz lives across the street at 134 North Twenty-eighth avenue. Mr. Walker is a salesman for the Mid-West Motor & Supply Co.

Mrs. Walker's amended petition, filed through her attorney, Charles Goss, states that she and her daughter are church members and have done everything possible to keep Mr. Walker from his associations. In spite of their efforts, says the petition, he has consorted with women of loose moral views and dates are given as follows:

"October 25, 1918, Mr. Walker was out with Mrs. May Houlitz until 2 o'clock in the morning.

"December 31, 1918, he was with other men and women at a wine party until 3:30 o'clock in the morning.

"January 1, 1919, he was at Mrs. Houlitz home until a late hour.

"January 4, 1919, he was at Mrs. Houlitz home until midnight and she accompanied him to the door in negligee dress.

"March 29, 1919, he was with Mrs. Houlitz until 2 o'clock in the morning.

"March 30, 1919, he accompanied her to Elmwood park and there allowed her to use insulting language toward Mrs. Walker and her daughters.

"April 2, 1919, he was with Mrs. Houlitz until midnight.

"April 4, 1919, he was at Mrs. Houlitz's home until midnight and was written up in the papers.

"May 7, 1919, he was holding Mrs. Houlitz on his lap on the front porch.

"May 31, 1919, he accompanied Mrs. Houlitz to Lincoln."

These allegations are made by Mrs. Walker in response to the motion made by her husband that she make her original petition for divorce more definite.

She says her husband makes $300 a month and that she herself has no other means of support than
