Not only are the doctors and dentists putting in their applications for space, but they are also buying stock to assist in erecting their new home for their use alone. The dream of the originators of the idea was to have a building exclusively for doctors and dentists, equipped with everything necessary for doctors and their patients. It is planned to make Omana renowned all over the country as a great medical center. t is well known that Omaha has ome of the leading surgeons and specialists in the various lines of the country and people already come from afar for treatment. With the new structure and all its ad vantages the fame of Omaha will spread still farther. None but ethical doctors will be rented offices. Awaiting Leases.

Work of demolishing the ouses now on the site will be farted as soon as the leases of those now occupying them expires. Kimball and McDonald, two of Dmaha's leading architects, are aleady working on the plans and hey say that there will be no delay in their part, but that contracts will let so that work may start as n as the site is cleared.

Dr. Wherry as head of the buildng committee for the doctors has pent considerable time in outlining desires of the new tenants and ic gives assurance that nothing will omitted to make the home of the edical profession one of the finest ildings of its kind in the country. Joseph Hayden, who was one of promoters of the idea and who helped to finance the project, is very uch pleased with the way Omaha octors have taken up the new uilding. With the reservations aleady made for nine floors by the octors and two floors for Hayden ig right from the start.

No One Quality Predominates in the New Hudson Super-Six

Its Four Years' Development Results in a Rounded Perfection That 60,000 Owners of Earlier Models Had Predicted

For Every Type of User

The new Hudson Super-Six is the choice of the conservative town driver as well as of the hard driving tourist.

Those who demand high speed know the Super-Six will meet any situation. We have entirely withdrawn from racing, but every important racing contest includes a number of Hudsons. They are entered by professional race drivers interested only in stake winning. The Super-Six is their choice car because they know its endurance.

The town motorist prefers the new Hudson Super-Six because of its flexibility. Its power range eliminates the necessity for much gear shifting. Traffic congestion is avoided because of the way the Super-Six can take advantage of every opening. Note how Hudsons without the speed limits, slip in ahead of less flexible cars.

And those, too, who choose cars because of beauty and dignity, because they reflect good taste as well as utility, prefer Hudsons.

A glance at any general list of Hudson owners will indicate how it appeals to all users.

It is not a car of a single advantage. It meets all needs.

The way it satisfies 60,000 users, representing every automobile need, is a suggestion of its universal appeal.

The names of certain automobiles call to mind definite characteristics of those cars.

Four years ago, when the Super-Six was introduced, Hudson meant a motor with 72 per cent greater power without added size or weight.

In another year its emblem the White Triangle, marked the winning cars in most of the leading speedway, road racing and mountain climbing contests.

Then the name Hudson became a synonym for endurance. It meant longer and harder automobile service.

The growing number of Hudsons later gave it another distinction. The beauty of its various types was recognized everywhere. It became a familiar object on every highway.

Then Still Another Distinction

In each of these distinctions for which the name Hudson became symbolic, no forfeiture was made of earlier advantages. Each advantage became an additional merit.

The new Hudson Super-Six encompasses all the wanted qualities. It is a powerful car, but every item of its construction measures up to the standard of its motor.

It is a fast car, but its endurance is equal to any task imposed. It is a beautiful car, and every detail in finish and convenience matches its outward appearance.
