

U. S. WILL ERECT HANGARS FOR TWO LARGE AIRSHIPS

Navy Bill Authorizes Purchase of Dirigible of Zeppelin Type and Building of Other Airships.

Washington, July 12.—Acting under specific authority granted in the new naval appropriation bill, the Navy department soon will start construction on two of the largest dirigible hangars in the world. Rear Admirals Taylor and Parks, heads of the bureau of construction and repairs and yards and docks, respectively, today had instructions to speed up the preparation of the working plans, as an expenditure of about $3,500,000 for two hangars to house flying machines of the Zeppelin type has been authorized. They will be located on the seaboard, probably in New Jersey, and possibly on the same site.

Ground area necessary for the construction of a double hangar will be about one square mile. Each hangar will be about 800 feet long, 250 feet wide and from 150 to 200 feet high. It is probable that all steel construction will be used and officials estimate that from six to eight months will be needed for their erection.

Provision for the purchase abroad of a Zeppelin type airship at a cost not to exceed $2,500,000 is made in the naval bill, and the construction in this country of a similar machine at a cost of $1,500,000. It is probable that the machine purchased abroad will be of the British R-34 model, although larger. It probably will be flown to this country by an American crew, the only other alternative being to attempt to tow it by cables made fast to a ship. Negotiations looking to the purchase have already been entered into with foreign nations.

After experiments with the foreign craft the construction of an improved American built machine will be started. Secretary Daniels said tonight that he had no further statement to make regarding the rumored trans-Pacific flight. Naval officers believe, however, that such a flight will be attempted shortly after the navy comes into possession of its first cruising dirigible.

Silk Tile Again in Favor.

London, July 12.—Quite within memory the high hat reigned supreme; practically it was the only hat worn by every man, from Prince to ploughman. Cricketers played in it, boatmen wore it on the river, sportsmen on the moors and holiday-makers on the sands of Margate and Ramsgate.

An interesting and convincing proof of its universality is seen in the well-known print of the prize fight between Sayers and Heenan in 1860. Every one in the crowd wears a topper of the chimney-pot pattern except the members of "the fancy" acting as ring-keepers, who wear caps. Now, after having been temporarily obscured by the war, it is coming into its own once more.

Buy U. S. Tools.

Brussels, July 12.—Heads of the Belgian metal establishments have concluded an arrangement with the United States army for the purchase of machine tools which were in use by the American forces in Europe, or which were awaiting shipment from the United States. This sale, and its conditions, will do much to make possible rapid re-establishment of many metal plants.

City Dwellers May Find Relief from Torrid Weather Through Visit to Omaha's Parks

KRUG PARK is coming in for its full share of attention from the discriminating amusement seekers. This beautiful suburban resort has never looked so attractive as it does this season, nor never did it have as much to satisfy those who seek diversion. The breeze of the hill top has been supplemented by the finest bathing pool yet constructed, a veritable seashore affair set up in ideal surroundings. If you enjoy a bath in a porcelain tub, think what it would mean to swim in one. That is what Krug park offers now.

All the customary attractions of the summer park are provided, the roller coaster, the merry-go-round, Suance river, and the like, with games and other forms of amusement, and the big dance pavilion is one of the most popular ever opened.

For the current week the special attraction will be Ebenezer, the educated mule, made famous as a former member of the McIntyre and Heath "Ham Tree" company. He will do his tricks every afternoon and evening.

The South Side Talmud Torah, largest Hebrew social and religious organization in the city, will hold its annual picnic this season at Lakeview. The 1,500 members and their families will journey to Lakeview next Tuesday, July 15, for a day of fun, races and games for the young and old will be on tap, with a list of prizes that will be sure to entice everyone to compete.

Thursday, July 17, the Basket Stores will hold their first annual outing. The company is not only entertaining its employees, but its friends and customers as well. The Basket Stores company has bought a number of tickets to be distributed to employees and friends. The Basket Stores will close all day Thursday. Pie-eating contests, watermelon-eating contests, one seconded by sack races, three-legged races, egg races, games and other sports will be part of the program to make up the day. The dance palace will have a special matinee at 3:15 and again at 8:20 at night. Al Wright's orchestra will furnish the music.

Harry Walker and Ned Miller, the Chicago songbirds, will remain over today, closing their engagement at the park tonight. These two boys

Officer Gets Tobacco Back From Germany

London, July 12.—Behold the honest, though anonymous, German!

H. J. Wilson, an architect of Peterborough, England, formerly a lieutenant in the Northumberland Fusiliers and taken prisoner by the Germans in the March drive of 1918, received through the mails today a package of tobacco which had been forwarded by his family to him at the German prison camp at Rastatt in May of last year.

The tobacco had been held up somewhere along the line and was not delivered until after Wilson had left Germany after the armistice. But some conscientious German had taken the pains to burrow into the records, find where Wilson enlisted and forward the tobacco to that address.

have proven to be quite popular among the park's many patrons during their engagement. The method in which they render the most famous song stories of the day has made them individuals in their line.

Record crowds are reported by the management of the Manawa park bathing beach this season. More Omahans are swimming this year than ever before, and to meet the demands of fun in the water the park has installed additional equipment of diving boards, chutes, rolling barrels, bells, horses, etc.

"We have more swimmers than ever before and notice a greatly increased number of swimming parties," said Manager Palm of the park. "Omaha and Council Bluffs people have taken up swimming as a summer sport and the percentage of expert swimmers is greater than ever before."

Self-Government and Loan of $30,000,000 Asked by Porto Rico

San Juan, July 12. (By the Associated Press.)—The Porto Rican legislature has been asked to send a commission to Washington to ask congress for a loan of $30,000,000 and for legislation to prevent monopoly of land in Porto Rico by large corporations. It has been proposed also that the commission should ask for a preferential tariff on coffee and for the establishment of a bank for making loans to farmers.

Advocates of the proposal want the $30,000,000 for educational purposes, irrigation, freight steamers, to pay off the island's debt and other purposes. It is proposed that the commission should ask congress to grant the island complete self-government. These suggestions have aroused some opposition. Representative Lastra, has declared that the Porto Rican legislature has full authority to deal with the land monopoly question and that the bills in the legislature looking to that end have been defeated.

Thief Takes Only Such Sums as He May Need

San Francisco, Cal., July 12.—An eccentric thief who either has consideration for his victims or makes it a practice to take just what his expenses require has broken into the home of Mrs. Anna Cuneo seven times in less than two weeks, on each occasion stealing sums varying from $2 to $10. Each time the thief has visited the place he has left sums amounting to $40 and $50 untouched. In the seven visits the thief has stolen about $35.

Funeral Airplanes? Not Yet?

London, July 12.—All sorts of strange propositions are beginning to be made to aeroplane firms. For instance, Messrs. Handley-Page have just received a request for aerial hearses.

An undertaker with imagination conceived the possibility of a person dying in London having expressed a wish to be buried in Scotland, and of making the funeral journey by air instead of by rail. The firm, however, has replied that they have no intention, at present, of doing business of this kind.

Another rather grim proposition is that for an aerial service in India to carry sick and dying Hindus to the sacred waters of the Ganges.

Pimple Leads to Suit.

Topeka, Kan., July 12.—A pimple on the back of his neck was the basis of a suit filed in the city court here against the Charles Wolff Packing company by T. J. Donnelly, an employe. Donnelly declares in his petition that the pimple became infected while working in the plant handling meat, and that he lost

CONSCRIPTION OF YOUTH WILL FOLLOW LEAGUE

Senator Borah Denies Disarmament Will Come With Covenant; Foresees Great War Program.

Washington, July 12.—Denying that disarmament is to be brought about through the league of nations, Senator Borah of Idaho in a speech in the senate also asserted that unless conscription were enforced it would be utterly impossible to carry out article x and certain other phases of the league covenant.

"These two principles—the establishment of the freedom of the seas and the elimination of conscription—were the two great principles which were promised to the people of the world by the men who controlled and shaped affairs at Versailles before they went there," said Senator Borah. "And the very fact that both of these things, the very basis of navalism and militarism, were eliminated, rejected out of hand, must be satisfactory proof to any reflecting man that whatever they thought before they met, they came to the conclusion that disarmament was not practical. That is what the people should be told, that they have not provided for disarmament because they found that it was impracticable to do so. It is a system of misrepresentation, seldom excelled, to tell the people, after these broken promises, that disarmament is to follow."

Instead of disarmament, Senator Borah said, there is to be "the most stupendous program of armaments which the world has ever contemplated in time of peace." Senator Borah referred to the fact that England is today raising an army of close to a million men and that it will be raised "by conscription in time of peace." He declared the volunteer system could never be relied upon to send soldiers to protect the territorial integrity of the nations of Europe and Asia.

"And just so surely as we enter this league of nations and the obligations of articles x and xi are imposed upon us and the conditions of those articles are to be carried out by finding American boys to protect the services which will be required, just that certain we will have conscription in this country in time of peace."

Editor, 88, Still Hustling.

New York, July 12.—Newspaper offices are among the busiest offices in the world and the brain strain is popularly supposed to wear newspaper men out quickly. Yet Brooklyn has an editor who will be eighty-nine years old on August 22, and who is still actively handling the blue pencil, the scissors, the paste-pot and other tools associated in the public mind with an editorial job.

The editor is William H. Sutton, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle's fraternal news. He is probably a member of or connected with more potential organizations than any living man, and his interest in them is so intimate that he simply will not consider himself an old man. Call it a day and quit work.

Reds Concentrate Forces.
Tokio, July 12.—The bolsheviks

Here's the idea of the story:
He said he had no use for a woman who would steal or lie and that no woman could get him to clope with her.
Then Constance and her two sisters decided to make him do all the things he was set against.
And what chance has mere man when three lovely women get their heads together?
Beautifully and magnificently staged, with a wealth of gowns and laughable situations that cannot be foreseen, it is all that can be desired in entertainment value.
