

SAILOR'S VIGOR IS RENEWED BY PEACE AND GUNS

Was About All in at Boxing Contest Aboard Transport When Short Surcease So Rested Him He Won.

New York, July 12.—When the armored cruiser North Carolina docked at Pier 4, Brooklyn, a few days ago, the army men on board were both surprised and comforted to learn that a wireless message announcing the signing of the peace treaty flashed to the transport at sea was authentic. They declared that they had believed it was a "frame up," and thereby hangs a tale.

As soon as peace was officially concluded the radio department at Washington sent out wireless notification to all transports, directing them to stop wherever they might be, fire a salute of 21 guns, have the ship's band play the "Star Spangled Banner," and order everybody on board to stand rigidly at attention throughout the ceremony.

When Capt. William D. MacDougall, commander of the North Carolina, received his copy of the historic wireless the 1,595 troops on board, some army and some navy men, commanded by Maj. R. L. Radcliff, were cheering madly the participants in the star bout of an entertaining pugilistic program, arranged to relieve the tedium of their trip home.

In the event James ("Spike") O'Brien of Brooklyn, represented the army and Fred Warren, an oiler on the ship, carried the colors of the navy. Both boys had put up a lively bout and Warren was about "all in."

Reduced His Weight

A President's Experience

Overweight men and women who have tried various methods for reducing weight without success will be interested in the discovery made by Dr. C. D. Stevens, president of Muskogean Botter Works.

"This gentleman found that his weight was becoming burdensome. It was seriously interfering with his health and business efficiency.

Happening to learn of a certain oil, he obtained some at a drug store and began using it while following simple rules. To his surprise and delight, his weight began to reduce gradually until in less than three months he had lost 85 pounds.

Mr. Stevens felt better every day and now he expresses great satisfaction at having gotten rid of the superfluous flesh. Many others, men and women, are following the Koraen system, which has given simple rules and includes oil of koraen, a safe, wholesome treatment. No cayenne, no salts or calomel, no tedious exercises, no starving rules; a truly pleasant and effective home self-treatment for overweightness.

The oil of koraen is now obtainable at many drug stores everywhere. Each package has a guarantee that weight will be reduced 10 to 40 lbs., or more, or money refunded after fair test. A brochure will be mailed free if you write to Koraen Co., 44-49, Station F, New York. Show others this advertisement.—Adv.

Members of the Bee Family Eat, Swim, Dance and Play to Their Hearts' Content at the Annual Picnic and Outing at Krug Park Thursday Eve.

Members of The Bee family held their annual picnic and outing at Krug park Thursday night. Everybody from the office boy up attended the festivities. The management of the park united in extending all of the courtesies possible and an enjoyable evening was spent by The Bee family.

A basket dinner was served on the park picnic grounds, followed by a bathing party in the big pool. Both the children and the grownups enjoyed the cool waters of the artificial lake during the early evening hours.

Following the bathing party a visit was made to the various amusement devices to complete the entertainment. The roller coaster, airplane swing and other thrills were thoroughly enjoyed. A "wicked hip" was "shook" by The Bee family in the mammoth dancing pavilion to wind up the day's pleasure.

everybody straightened up, Warren groggy as he was, even staggering to the ropes and holding himself as erect as possible under the circumstances.

When the reverberation of the last of the salute of 21 guns died away and the concluding strains of the national anthem melted into silence, the gong rang for resumption of the interrupted bout.

Whether his deep inhalation of bracing sea air or the inspiration derived from the gunfire and the stirring band music accomplished the near miracle will never be known. At any rate Warren, the sailor, leaped from his corner with all the vigor in the world and dashed at "Spike."

Spectators of the thrilling affair declare that Warren pounded "Spike" all about the padded ring, and in a minute and a half crashed a "haymaker" to the trooper's chin that sent him over the ropes and ended the scrap.

Instantly all was uproar and wildest confusion about the ring. A tremendous roar of anger and chagrin went up from the throats of the army rooters, and cries of "fake," "frame up," popped out of them like corks from bottles in a drinking bout.

As soon as the North Carolina touched her pier eager voices from her deck called out questions as to whether peace was really signed. Assured it was, the questioners snorted with disgust. "Well, we would have sworn it was a deliberate plan to give the navy a chance to beat us."

Omaha Man Denies Statement Regarding Release of Soldiers

Sgt. Charles D. Higby, son of B. Higby, 204 South Thirty-fifth avenue, now with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, in a communication to The Bee denies that all troops of the American Expeditionary Forces, excepting those in the army of occupation and regulars, have been released from duty, as Gen. Peyton C. Marsh is said to have stated, and declares that at the present time most of the national army is still in France.

"At different times statements have appeared in the papers to the effect that troops other than the army of occupation, general prisoners, dived men and others of that type would be returned to the United States before July. This is a direct insult to men whose people and friends know that he is not in the army of occupation. Naturally it is a reflection on the man. One soldier I know had a letter from his heartbroken mother stating that she understood why he hadn't returned home.

"Another man has not had a letter from his fiancée since the appearance of the statement."

Council to be Asked to Adopt Resolution on Grading Work

May Request Public Service Corporations to Begin Certain Activities Necessary to Accomplish Dodge Street Hill Project to Lay New Car Track.

City Commissioner Towl, City Engineer Bruce, R. H. Findley, superintendent of construction of the street railway company, and Russell Condon of the grading firm of Condon & Bolen, conferred Friday afternoon on details incident to the work of grading the Dodge street hill.

The city council Tuesday morning will be asked to adopt resolutions requesting the public-service corporations to begin certain work which will be necessary to accomplish this big project.

One of the first activities will be the laying of a standard gauge railroad track along Dodge street, from Twelfth to Seventeenth streets, at which latter point the grading will be started.

Dodge line street cars will be detoured north on Sixteenth street at Dodge street. Considerable work will have to be done in connection with removal of sewer, gas and water pipes and also the relocation of underground wires.

Condon & Bolen will begin the grading at Seventeenth and Dodge streets and will work westward, at the same time grading Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets to conform with the new Dodge street grade, which will reach its maximum depth of 22 feet at Twentieth street.

The contractors will do private grading as they move along with the public work.

The estimated cost of the public and private grading has been figured at $250,000.

The boundaries of the graded area are: Dodge street, Seventeenth to Twenty-second streets; Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, from Douglas street to Capitol avenue.

Cells For Tommies.

London.—Sleeping accommodations are so scarce here that some of the London's police cells are being turned into "hotel de luxe" for soldiers. Thousands of Tommies on leave and on the eve of being demobilized were finding it impossible to find sleeping quarters until the innovation was started.

PRICE OF MILK IS ADVANCED 2 CENTS BY OMAHA DAIRIES

Say Prices Lower Than Des Moines and Kansas City.

Milk prices were boosted in Omaha yesterday.

Retail distributors advanced their price from 13 to 15 cents per quart, or from eight to seven tickets for $1. A pint of milk costs 9 cents from the dealers, or 12 pint tickets may be obtained for $1.

In the public eating places milk is steadily reaching the level of 10 cents per glass. Some restaurant proprietors are charging 10 cents, and others now charging 7 cents are considering an increase to 10 cents.

Leroy Corliss, president of the Alamito Dairy company, offered the following explanation: "We have had to meet increased wages and higher prices for the products we buy. During May and June we charged less than the price in most cities, and the prices now being charged are no higher than were charged last summer. Milk is being sold in Kansas City and Des Moines for 10 cents per quart. Considering food values, we are ready to prove that milk at current prices is the cheapest food on the market."

J. W. Welch, proprietor of the Welch restaurants, stated that he serves special milk in individual bottles at the rate of 10 cents for half a pint. The Lincoln Inn management is charging 7 cents per glass and is considering an increase to 10 cents. The price in most of the eating places is 10 cents for a glass of milk.

Morris & Co's Head Invited Inquiry in Profits of Packers

The following is a statement by Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., and is being read in a bill brought before congress by Senator Kenyon recommending the packers being controlled by federal license and commissioner of food stuffs. Mr. Morris feels that the bill is entirely unfair and in the statement below invites non-political inquiry.

"Morris & Co.," he said, "have always favored and would now welcome a fair and impartial investigation by some competent and non-political body along economic and constructive lines of the entire meat and food question from the calf on the farm of the producer to the steak on the table of the consumer. And I want to say just as emphatically as language will permit that such an investigation would reveal that the business of the packers is conducted efficiently and on a minimum profit, only the fraction of 1 cent a pound, and these are the very cardinal propositions involved so far as the packers are concerned.

"Morris & Co. stand ready and willing to assist the government in any way within their power to discover and correct any evils that there may be in the present situation, and particularly as to the present high prices, but this can only be done in the interest of the public generally along non-political, big, constructive lines. The packers have done much for the producer in countries, much for the consumer building up markets in foreign in the way of utilizing by-products much for the cause of justice and liberty generally by 'delivering the goods' in the recent great conflict, and under the circumstances they are entitled to fair treatment."
