Culinary Gleanings.

If you take your cooking specialties with you as you journey around the country, you find many little odds and ends of culinary interest. I have been not so many miles away, but in my short wanderings, I found a few new ideas. Perhaps you, dear Reader, know them already; if so, just greet them as old friends.

Preserved Cherries in Jelly.

Cook sour pitted cherries in a very heavy sirup, drain from the sirup and put into sterilized jelly glasses. Fill the glasses with any desired tart jelly. This makes a delicious preserve. The cherries I tasted were put up in currant jelly, but any other kind would be delicious.

Prune Cake.

1 1/2 c. prune pulp, 1/2 c. butter or slightly sweetened, 1 c. sugar, 1/2 t. baking powder, 1/2 t. cinnamon, 1/2 t. cloves, 1/2 t. soda.

Cream the fat, add sugar. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and spices and add alternately with the prune pulp. Bake in a moderately hot oven. This cake will keep moist for a long time.

Hazlemere Salad.

Cut rings of chilled cantaloupe

and remove the rind. Place a ring of cantaloupe on a bed of lettuce and fill with any desired fruit salad mixture. Serve with a whipped cream dressing.

An Easy Combination.

If you want an easy dinner combination, try baked chops and onions. This dish with potatoes baked in the oven at the same time, provides a good meal with a few dishes left as reminders. Put a thick layer of sliced onions in a baking dish, and cover with pork chops. Salt and pepper the chops and put into a hot oven for 15 minutes, then lower the flame for 45 minutes. The fat of the pork will dry out into the onions and the onions are watery enough to supply the liquid. Near the end of the baking, it is wise to remove the cover of the dish, and let the meat brown well.

Cantaloupe for Breakfast.

* Serve half cantaloupes filled heaping with raspberries. A specially nice combination. Cream may be served or not as desired.

An Easy Luncheon Dish.

Hot cooked rice. Meat gravy. Salt, pepper, and butter. Season the rice and put into greased molds. Turn out onto a heated platter, and pour the hot gravy over the snowy mounds. Garnish with chopped parsley.

A Side Dish at Dinner.

At a formal dinner, I was served a delicious cream puff with the main course. The puffs were filled with slightly sweetened cream. Not a very good addition to a heavy dinner, from a health standpoint, but it certainly tasted fine.

Another Labor-Saver.

If you want to save more work, and can afford a moderate investment, get the divided platters that many hotels and restaurants are using. These platters are made round or oval and are divided into three or four compartments. Thus the meat, potatoes and vegetables are placed on the one dish, thereby saving not only serving dishes, but all side dishes. It is even possible to serve a salad in one of the compartments. And the platters are mighty attractive, too.

For a Camp Breakfast.

Cut pieces of bacon into squares and fry with some chopped onion. When done add finely-chopped potatoes and cook without stirring until a heavy crust is formed at the bottom of the pan. Then turn over as an omelet onto a hot platter.

Seymour Lake

Miss Katherine Worley entertained the following at luncheon at her cottage, Edgewood, Thursday: Mesdames John Bekins, John Parrott, C. I. Vollmer, H. H. Roberts, R. L. Reynolds, J. D. Woodrough and R. F. Ledwick.

A surprise party was given by a number of Mrs. John Union's friends in honor of her birthday on Wednesday.

Guy Beckett, son of Judge and Mrs. Woodrough, has received his honorable discharge from the navy, where he served the past year, having attained the rank of ensign.

Porch Party.

The porch party seems especially popular with the younger set during these summer days. Miss Katherine Smythe of Washington, D. C., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. G. Sibbensen, has been honor guest at several afternoon affairs. Miss Mercedes Jensen entertained Friday afternoon in her honor at a most delightful porch party. Pretty girls wore their daintiest summer frocks and the guests included the intimate friends of the honoree.

Miss Evelyn Peironnet has returned from Sheldon, Ia., where she has been visiting friends for the past two weeks.

Happy Hollow

Mrs. E. B. Banister entertained at a lovely luncheon at Happy Hollow club Friday. Pink and white sweet-peas were used to form the centerpiece for this gay table. Miss Martini Smith of Chicago, who is the guest of Marjorie Barrett, and Misses Florence and Marie Fowler of Lincoln, who are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Arthur English, were the honor guests. Other guests were Misses Eleanor McGilton, Florence Russell, Edyth Stanton and Marjorie Barrett.

Entertaining at dinner Saturday evening at Happy Hollow club will be A. S. Williams, who will have eight guests; C. E. Balbach, six; H. D. Smith, Jr., five; L. P. Campbell and A. D. Davis, four.

Picnic Party.

The Ladies' auxiliary of Clan Gordon will give a picnic Saturday at Miller park.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCarthy Wednesday, at the Stewart Maternity hospital. Mrs. McCarthy was formerly Miss Helen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. O'Brien.

Woman's capes, coats and dolmans that were priced to $39.50, choice Saturday at $14.50. See our advertisement on page four. Julius Orkin.—Adv.

Carter Lake

The little colony at Carter Lake are enjoying the resort immensely this summer, for the delightful weather has made the water sports very popular. Many guests are also entertained at the cottages. Lt. Frank Stuart of the Royal Air Service at London is the guest of Harry Mallo. Mrs. Mallo, who is now in Oakland, Cal., is expected home the middle of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Leslie and daughter are the house guests of Mrs. A. R. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ritchie and daughter, Emma, have motored to Chicago.

Frank Lewis has gone to California to join Mrs. Lewis.

One hundred new members of the Woodmen of the World were the guests of Guy H. Furness, city agent and clerk of Omaha-Seymour camp, W. O. W., at a dinner party at the Carter Lake club Thursday evening.

A program consisting of cabaret singers, vocal solos by the Misses Vera Boyle and Florence Gannon, and a cornet solo by Miss Hazel Wishman were rendered during the serving of the dinner. Dr. J. E. Simpson acted as toastmaster. Col. C. L. Mather and Capt. Charles Shook, M. C., were the speakers. Doctor Shook recently returned from France, as well as a number of others in attendance. Following the program a wrestling match was staged between Jack Tolliver and Young Gotch, this was followed by a bathing party, when most everyone present donned a bathing suit and took a dip in the refreshing waters of Carter Lake.

Country Club.

Mrs. W. T. Page will entertain 12 guests at dinner at the Country club Saturday evening. Mr. J. F. Stout will have six guests at dinner.

Women's suits, formerly sold for and up to $55, Saturday, $21.75. See our advertisement on page four. Julius Orkin.—Adv.

For the Children Who Are Growing

We maintain a Children's Department in charge of specialists who haven't forgotten their youth, though old in knowledge of the ways of growing feet.

Parents will find at this store new ideas in Summer Shoes for children, which are becoming, durable and orthopedically correct, as they have been for over 20 years.

We now serve many a mother in Omaha whom we served years ago as Little Miss-So-and-So.
