

ATTORNEY CALLS EXAMINATION OF FORD BRUTAL

Millionaire Completes First Week on Stand—Defendant Shows No Sign of Conclusion.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 18.—Although Henry Ford Friday completed a week on the witness stand in his libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune, Elliott G. Stevenson, for the defendant, who began questioning him last Monday, showed no signs of reaching a conclusion.

The examination of the witness on the contents of the alleged libelous editorial in the Tribune on June 23, 1916, headed "Ford is an Anarchist," was the important feature of the day.

While Mr. Stevenson was reading the editorial and asking questions about its points, Mr. Ford said: "I will give you a little explanation of the way I feel. I, myself very seldom read anything else except the headlines of any article. That is one of the objects of this case, to try and have people stick to the truth a little more behind their headlines."

"I have asked you a number of questions, and I don't want to press you as to whether you are a well-informed man, competent to educate the public or an ignorant man, who ought not to undertake to educate the people, but in view of what you have said, you would not question that 'ignorant' is a proper characterization of you?" said Mr. Stevenson.

Alfred Lucking, senior counsel for the plaintiff, jumped to his feet and said:

"That is objected to as brutal and inhuman."

Mr. Ford ignored this and remarked: "As I said, Mr. Stevenson, I am ignorant of most things."

In one comment on the editorial Mr. Ford said he considered the whole article as bad. When Mr. Stevenson made the statement that he takes the men who stand between him and service and punishes them for the service which protects him, Mr. Ford said that it was not true.

"Do you claim that you did not discourage men from military service?"

"Yes, sir."

"But you boasted that as a result of your anti-preparedness efforts only 10 of your 20,000 employees attended a militia campment?"

"But I didn't know about that. It was in the Delavigne booklet. I hired him to be my expert on those things and told him to state only facts. I assumed that he carried out instructions. I have no personal recollection of such a boast."

Divorce Courts

Rachel Pribyl says in a petition for divorce filed in district court that her husband, John Pribyl, was arrested December 8, 1918, and broke out of jail and she hasn't seen or heard from him since then. She asks the custody of their two children and alimony.

Eleven months after their marriage in Oklahoma in 1915, John Mills deserted Elvira Mills, according to her allegation in a petition for divorce filed in district court. She asks to be restored to her maiden name, Sanders.

Ethel Surland asks the district court for a divorce from William Surland, who, she says, deserted her in 1916.

Homer Charles asks the district court to give him a divorce from Maude Charles on the ground of cruelty. He asks to be given the custody of their two children. She court to give their daughter to Mrs. Charles.

Lucy Messer was granted a divorce from William Messer by Judge Day in divorce court, on the ground of cruelty. She was restored to her maiden name, Deputy. Phoebe McPherson was given a divorce from James, for non-support, and restored to her maiden name, Lobdell. Ethel Dale was given a divorce from Homer Dale and restored to her maiden name, Hurst. Leo Fitzsimmons was divorced from Mabel Fitzsimmons on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Corra Hadley filed suit in district court against James Hadley for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. She alleges he threatened her life. They were married in 1897. She asks for the custody of their four minor children and alimony of $10 a week.

Harvey Glazer filed an answer in district court yesterday to the divorce petition of his wife, Rose Glazer. He says that he has always spent his money exclusively on his wife and children and on building up their home at 2634 Charles street. His wife has always been hostile, he alleges, and has refused to cook the meals, nags him and complains because she doesn't have enough money to spend on amusements. He says she has often struck him with knives and forks and has thrown dishes at him. He asks that a divorce be awarded to him.

Citizens Protest Locating Garbage Dump at De-Bolt

About 100 physicians and citizens of northwest Omaha met last night at the DeBolt club and took measures to stop the establishment of a garbage dump proposed by the city commissioners.

It was pointed out that the place chosen for this dumping ground, instead of being near the river where there would be no danger of infection, is on one of the high spots of the county. From here it was declared hundreds of tons of decayed matter must drain for five miles and then go into the river directly above the point where lie the intake pipes that supply water to the huge pumping station at Florence.

It was suggested as logical, that the city should settle the garbage dump in the restricted district where territory has already been set off for fertilizer and rendering plants, instead of menacing the city's drinking water.

Murphy's Condition Serious, But He Still Has Fighting Chance

Detective Frank Murphy who was shot Wednesday morning by Judd W. Tobias, highwayman, and Murphy's school-boy chum, was reported last night to be slightly improved, although his condition was still serious. Prospects for his recovery are favorable.

FORMER CHAMPS LEADING FIELD IN GOLF TOURNEY

Blaine Young and Sam Reynolds to Meet in Finals of State Title Meet at Field Club Today.

Young speedily recovered and winning the hole finished the two-hour siege, 4 up with three holes to go. The playing of either wasn't worth bragging of.

Peters Throws Scare

The Peters-Reynolds bout was different, however. Despite the fact that Reynolds came in from the morning's play with 5 holes up on his supposed formidable opponent, the crowd smelled a hot one and proceeded to follow in the wake of the duet. At the 12th hole things began to get a bit unsteady for the former champion. He missed five on putts repeatedly.

At the 27th hole he was leading but 2 holes up and 9 to go. A wicked drive at the 28th hole made Peters appeared in the same mood for, he, too, lacked sure aim with the mid-iron. The hole was divided, but on the next Reynolds drove wide to the left into the rough. He lost this hole, his card registering 1 up.

Mrs. Julia F. Cook Dies at Home of Her Daughter in Omaha

Mrs. Julia F. Cook, mother of Mrs. C. O. Lobeck, 1811 Spencer street, and widow of the late Capt. Edwin Cook, 22d Kentucky U. S. volunteer infantry, civil war, died Friday morning after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Cook was born near Greenup, Ky., October 20, 1833, and married Captain Cook February 2, 1852. Shortly after the close of the civil war the family moved west to California Junction, Ia., where they were engaged in farming until 1875, when Captain Cook and the family moved to Blair, Neb., and engaged in mercantile business. She and Captain Cook resided at Blair, except for a short time in Florida, until his death, September 12, 1895.

For the last few years Mrs. Cook had been in poor health and had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Lobeck.

Mrs. Cook is survived by three sons, Charles Cook of Spencer, Neb.; W. J. Cook of Beaver Dam, Wis., and her daughter, Mrs. Lobeck. She has also two brothers living, Henry L. Downs of Maple Boyd county, Kentucky, and James G. Downs of DeFuniak Springs, Fla.

OMAHA WOMAN ASKING SHARE OF BIG ESTATE

Charges Administrator With Fraud and False Pretense; Property Valued at $100,000 Involved.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 18.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, sitting in the United States district court here, today began the hearing of the case of Mrs. Johanna Schutt, 1822 North Twenty-second street, Omaha, Neb., and Mrs. Louisa Pickens of Topeka, Kan., against M. T. Campbell of Topeka, administrator of the estate of the late Ferdinand Fensky, brother of the Mrs. Schutt and Pickens, and the late Mrs. Jeanette Fensky, charging Campbell with fraud and false pretense.

According to the plaintiffs, the late Ferdinand Fensky in his will left his estate of more than $100,000 to his seven brothers and sisters with the understanding that the property was to be equally divided.

The plaintiffs allege that they were each given $1,000 out of the estate and that they signed waivers quitting all claims against the estate. Later they say they discovered that there late brother's holdings of rich Kansas and California land was worth far more than the administrator originally had told them. Campbell, it is said, acted as representative of Mrs. Fensky in Kansas during her term as administratrix of her husband's estate, and after her death, he was appointed administrator of her estate in Kansas.

The plaintiffs now ask that the deeds be set aside on the grounds that they were obtained by misrepresentation and fraud. The petitioners further state that Mrs. Fensky was an invalid and misled by incorrect statements, said to have been made on the part of Campbell.

Ferdinand Fensky died at Los Angeles Harbor, San Pedro, on August 7, 1903. The will contest, which was begun in 1908 in the Kansas courts, has only recently been transferred to the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles court.

President Consults Hitchcock on Treaty

(Continued From Page One.) treaty, but Mr. Hitchcock said he did not believe reports that the president would be willing to accept such reservations provided they did not vitiate the treaty provisions. "We shall continue our fight," said the administration leader "for confirmation of the treaty without a single change."

Fall Starts Flurry

The senate worked most of the day on the sundry civil appropriation bill, but issues of the treaty fight were brought to the surface during the session by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, who offered an amendment interpreted by administration senators as proposing to declare a status of peace with Germany. There was a brief debate and then the reference to a peace status went out on a point of order.

The flurry resulted in a quorum call, however, and helped break up a meeting at which the foreign relations committee had planned to continue its preliminary reading of the treaty text. Despairing of concluding the reading this week, the committee decided to adjourn until Monday. The senate also adjourned to Monday, when debate on the treaty will be resumed.

At conference with republican senators today, President Wilson is understood to have taken a definite stand against entering the league of nations with any idea of withdrawing as soon as the immediate issues of the war have been finally settled. He also is said to have re-emphasized his conviction that article 10 of the league covenant must not be weakened if the league is to accomplish its purposes.

300 German Vessels Have Been Delivered to Allies

Berlin, July 18.—It is officially announced at Hamburg that 300 vessels, having that city as their home port and having a total displacement of 1,162,000 cubic meters, have been delivered to the entente powers. Of these, 31 ships were owned by the Hamburg-American Line.

COUNT KAROLYI, HUNGARIAN RED, WILL VISIT U. S.

Predecessor of Bela Kun, Communist Leader, Reaches Italy After Many Attempts to Leave Hungary.

Berlin, July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, has arrived in Italy after several attempts to leave Hungary and will go to America, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Kreuz Zeitung.

When the armistice with Austria-Hungary was signed last November Count Michael Karolyi, who had been the leader of the Hungarian independence party, proclaimed a Hungarian republic. He remained in office until late in March, when he resigned and turned over the authority to the communists headed by Bela Kun. He gave as a reason for his action the plea that he could not recognize the boundaries of Hungary as outlined by the peace conference.

Urge Women War Nurses Be Accorded Military Rank

St. Louis, July 18.—The newly organized federation of Business and Professional Women ended its convention Friday after adopting the name of "The National League of Business and Professional Women's Clubs." Resolutions complaining of the treatment of army nurses in France and urging that women war nurses be accorded military rank were adopted.

The resolutions were passed because of information furnished by Dr. Eva C. Reed of San Francisco that army nurses often had to sleep on floors while adequate provision was made for officers and men war workers.

Bohemians Give Banquet in Honor of Czech Visitors

Joseph Spacek and Francis Binovec, members of the Czech-Slovak national assembly, are with the mission from that country which arrived in Omaha from Chicago yesterday. It is a mission of engineers and bankers sent by the Czech government to study economic conditions in the United States.

Other members of the party are Francis Zucht, Stanislav Spacek, Vallov Mach and Lt. Francis Micka. Lieutenant Micka is a former employe of the Smithsonian institute at Washington, who enlisted during the war in the Czechoslovak army in France.

In company with Bohemian business men of Omaha, they visited the Union Pacific shops and other industries of the city. Last night they were guests of the Omaha council of the Bohemian National alliance at a banquet at the Prague hotel.

A. O. H. Convention Hails Irish People

San Francisco, July 18.—"The brave and generous Irish people who have struck a mighty blow for true democracy" were hailed in resolutions adopted Friday night by the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America and Canada in national convention here.

Socialism was condemned, efforts for the spread of Catholic education were commended and devout reverence acknowledged to the Catholic church and Pope Benedict XV. Stringent immigration laws were deprecated. Repeal by congress of the "literary test" for immigrants was urged.

In New Zealand it is proposed that the railway locomotives shall each be given patriotic names to perpetuate some of the great events of the world war.
