

POLICE RECORD SHOWS NO LOOT ON DEAD BANDIT

Mystery Surrounds Disappearance of Money Taken by Highwayman From Three Victims.

What became of the $24.60 which bandit Judd Tobias took from three of his victims a short while before he was shot to death between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Wednesday morning at Twentieth and Dodge streets?

The police reports show that there was but $1.37 taken from the dead man's pocket by the detectives who searched him.

Harry Little, Twenty-sixth street and Dewey avenue, was held up by the bandit on Twenty-sixth, between Harney and Farnam streets, at 1:15 and relieved of $12.50.

William Gorum, 2622 North Twenty-fifth street, was held up by Tobias at 2:20 at Twenty-fourth and Douglas streets and robbed of $4.10.

A. J. Tanner Loses $8.

A. J. Tanner, 538 Park avenue, faced the bandit's revolver at 1:25, while $8 was taken from his pockets by Tobias at the door of his home.

Mr. Gorum, Mr. Little and Mr. Tanner viewed the highwayman's body at the Hoffman Funeral home and positively identified it as that of the man who held them up. Each of the victims declared they had been robbed by Tobias of the amounts named.

Detectives searched the bandit's pockets before the body was placed into the ambulance which conveyed it to the undertaking establishment, according to witnesses.

Second Time It Occurred.

This is the second time within 10 days that money has been taken from the pockets of dead persons while they were under the care of members of the police department.

A little over a week ago $33 disappeared mysteriously from the pockets of John A. Rhedin, who lost his life as a result of an accidental plunge into a cistern on the rear of his lot at 1506 B street. Detectives John Herdzina and Thestrup were in charge of the body when the money disappeared.

Just a short while before Mr. Rhedin met with the accident which, together with the stupidity of the police and the neglect of the police physician, caused his death, he showed Mrs. Rhedin, his helpmate for a quarter of a century the roll of bills.

Saved for Long Time.

"Anna, I have been saving this for a long while," he said. "I am going to buy you a present with it when we celebrate our silver anniversary."

The old couple had planned to observe their silver wedding within a few days.

The last words he spoke to his wife gave expression to the job, with which he was looking forward to the celebration of their 25 years of married life.

He rolled the money up and placed it back in his pocket. He walked into the back yard and Mrs. Rhedin still was seated at the table when her daughter rushed into the room with the news that her father had fallen into the cistern.

Detectives Arrive on Scene.

Neighbors were trying to revive the man when Detectives Herdzina and Thestrup arrived an hour later. Mr. Rhedin died a short while after he was taken to the hospital by the officers. No money was found in the man's pockets at the hospital, it was said. Neither was there any money found in the cistern when it was pumped out. Mrs. Rhedin declared the money was taken out of her husband's pocket by some one who was not a member of the family and after the arrival of the police.

She is looking to the police department to return the $33, which was nearly all the money she had. The three victims who were robbed by Tobias early Wednesday morning also are looking to the police department for their money back.

Escapes From Jail, Then Threatens to Kill Wife

Police are combing the city for Paul Parker, colored, 1411 Chicago street, who escaped from the city jail Thursday afternoon, returned his home and threatened to kill his wife.

Parker was a jail trusty. He was serving a sentence for vagrancy.

Judge Lays Case Over 30 Days to Reunite Old Friends Who Quarreled

Abie Lewis and Zelman Sheir were neighbors and friends for years, living in the same block at Twenty-sixth and Q streets. They pitched horseshoes together and otherwise fraternized in pleasant ways.

Friday afternoon they appeared in Justice Collins' court, where they aired their troubles. Sheir testified that Lewis struck him with a broomstick. Lewis averred that his former friend expressed wrath by hurling a paving brick, which struck him on the heel.

"I will take off my shoe and show you, judge, where he hit me with the brick," Lewis said.

The court raised his right hand to restrain Lewis from removing his shoe.

"How long since you have been going five blocks around from my house and then you go on the sidewalk close to my door to have a fight again?" was a question that Sheir insisted the court should require Lewis to answer, but Lewis replied by stating that Mrs. Sheir chased him with a milk bottle.

"I can excuse women with spare time on their hands, arguing over the back fence, but I am surprised, and I am deeply grieved to learn that two South Side business men of high standing should have been engaged in a dispute," announced Justice Collins, who continued the case 30 days, hoping that time will heal the breach.

"I haven't got time to fight with Sheir," Lewis told the court.

Stop "Jitneys" Until New City Ordinance Is Obeyed

City License Inspector Samuel Freed yesterday notified 15 "jitney" automobile operators on Farnam street that they must suspend business until they shall have complied with a new city ordinance which requires filing of bonds and other requirements.

The operators told Mr. Freed that they have been unable to obtain bonds at rates which would not be prohibitive.
