KILLS FRIEND UPON REQUEST OF THE LATTER

London Youth Admits Stabbing of Comrade After He Had Been Repeatedly Urged to Do So.

London, July 19.—"Yes, I did that. I stabbed him three times. He asked me to do it."

This statement was made to a constable by William Nelson Adams, aged 17, of Stamford street, Blackfriars, who was charged at Sutton with being concerned with a man not in custody in the murder of George Jones, aged 56, a painter.

Police Constable Forde met Adams and took him in custody.

Detective Sergent Payne stated that at the police station Adams expressed a wish to make a statement, which was as follows:

"I met Jones about eight days ago and he said that he was worried about his income tax, and he asked me if I would kill him. I said I would if I had the pluck.

"We met on the night of the 10th at Kennington by appointment, and proceeded to Tooting Junction on the tram. On the way Jones handed me a knife, saying: 'Are you going to do it?' and I replied that I would see.

"We walked about five miles to a field, close to which was a big house, and Jones said that he knew the spot well. All the way he was talking to me about killing him. When we arrived there he said: 'God help me—will you kill me?' and I replied: 'I will try.'"

They went into the field and another acquaintance, who had followed them all the way, waited by the gate.

"Jones undressed himself," said Adams, "and said that the best way to do it was to stab him on the left side of the neck and the left side of the stomach. I hesitated for about a quarter of an hour and then the temptation came to me to do it. I believe I stabbed him three times."

The chairman asked Detective-Inspector Hedges if he had watched Adams and observed his mental capacity.

Inspector Hedges replied: "Yes, and I have not found anything wrong."

Other evidence was given showing that none of Jones' clothing was cut or bloodstained and his shirt was off and tied round him. It had not been possible to trace the man referred to by Adams as "Charlie Smith."

Adams was committed for trial at the Surrey assizes.

Minister Fashions Own Coffin From Aged Tree

Noblesville, Ind., July 12.—The Rev. James Hill, a retired minister, who lives on a farm in the northern part of this county, has just finished the coffin in which he will be buried. It is solid walnut and highly polished. The timber was cut from a tree on his farm which was planted by his grandmother 90 years ago. He has placed the coffin in a local undertaking establishment and it will remain there until the time comes to use it.

"Them Wuz the Days."

Urbana, O., July 12.—The meaning of "them was the good old days" has been discovered in Urbana. A daybook kept by Abraham Hefflebower from 1840 to 1864 shows that beef and pork were 2 cents a pound. Butter sold for 8½ cents, and lard for 10 cents. Shoes ranged in price for 75 cents to $3.50, and clothing was about a fourth the price of today. Whisky was 8 and 10 cents a quart, and corn was 12 and 13 cents a bushel. Surely "them was the good old days."

New Garage Leased.

Haarmann-Locke Motors company who have the Stutz agency have leased for a term of years from Edward T. Heyden, a new double barage building now being completed at 25th avenue and Dodge street. This building will be occupied about August 1.

Moon Child.

London, July 19.—The father of a boy who was charged with theft at Marylebone police court said the boy's mind was affected by changes of the moon, and at such times he was not fit to take care of himself.

A doctor replied that the boy was mentally defective, but that modern science did not associate this state of mind with the moon.

The bench ordered the boy to be sent to a certified institution.

B. Quick Too Slow.

Kansas City, Mo., July 19.—B. Quick, of the Kansas side, failed to live up to the name in Missouri. In fact B. Quick was so slow in appearing in North municipal court here to answer to a charge of violating the traffic ordinance that his $5 bond was declared forfeited.

MOVE IN JAPAN TO STOP SALE OF RICE MADE WINES

Serious Shortage of Cereal May Result in Order Forbidding Manufacture of Sake Wine.

Tokio, July, 12.—(By the Associated Press).—The prohibition movement in the United States has been followed in Japan by the launching of a project to stop the manufacture of sake, Japan's national alcoholic drink which is distilled from rice.

The end of the war has brought no check to the steady increase in the price of the necessities of life and the soaring cost of rice, which is the staple food of the Japanese people is becoming a grave problem for the government. Last year the high price of rice led to serious riots throughout the empire.

The Japan Temperance society has presented a memorial to the government urging the prohibition of making sake. The organization points out that about 15,000,000 bushels of rice are consumed yearly in its manufacture. With the population of Japan increasing at the rate of 600,000 yearly and the national rice crop falling on account of the decrease of rice lands through the civic and industrial expansion, the organization asserts that the enormous quantity of rice used in distilling sake might be turned to better use in distributing it as a food for the people.

Emperor Yoshihito is said to be deeply concerned over the living conditions among his people. Through his lord chamberlain he recently ordered the govenors of the different provinces to investigate the changes in the thought of the masses, the cost of food for the middle and labor classes and the general industrial situation throughout the empire. The discontent of the masses of the people is seriously occupying the government, which is trying to devise means of relieving the situation.

Boy of 3 Joyrides.

Sharon, Pa., July 19.—"Billy" Burns, 3, can lay claim to being one of the country's youngest joyriders. A machine drove up in front of the Burns home recently and little Billy got aboard the running board and clung on to the extra tire. When the driver started away he failed to notice the child and carried him five miles. Meantime, the Burns family had the police hunting for a supposed kidnapper.

The queen bee will lay from 2,000 to 3,000 eggs daily in the season. She is the mother of all the other inmates in the hive, and can lay eggs to produce either drones or workers—as the fancy takes her. The queen bee always heads the bees when they issue to swarm.

If you are a salesman, there is an opportunity to make good money waiting for you providing you have gumption enough and are willing to go to the farmers' home several times if necessary to sell him Hog Insurance. Persistency and intelligence and a knowledge of the business are the pre-requisites to success. If you have the former we will teach you the rest. Salesmen with the necessary "pep" and "ginger" who will keep on the job six days per week can make $50.00 to $150.00 per week. Unless you have the nerve and persistency necessary to win out, do not answer this ad.
