

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Y. W. H. A.

Hostess for First Ft. Crook "At Home"

The semi-annual election of officers held on Tuesday evening July 15, at the club rooms resulted as follows: President, Miss Ida Kubby; vice president, Miss Bertha Newman; financial secretary, Miss Sarah Passovoy; recording secretary, Miss Fannie Rosenblum; reporter, Miss Dora Chesno. Board of directors: Misses Malvina Newman, Marguerite Rosenberg, Ethel Adler, Sarah Rosenthal, Lucille Stein and Tillie Bernstein. These newly-elected officers will be formally installed on Tuesday evening, July 29, at an open meeting for which a novel program is being prepared, to be held in the Lyric building. All friends of the association are cordially invited.

Prizes were awarded Misses Lucille Osheroff and Freida Goldberg who, with the exception of the chairman of the ticket committee, sold the largest number of tickets for the dancing party held last May. Miss Rebecca Bercovici had more sales to her credit but, as director of the sales committee, did not compete in the contest.

The Hanscom park pavilion has been secured for the mid-summer dancing party, postponed from July 29, to be held on August 6, complimentary to the membership and their escorts. Paid-up membership cards will be presented at the door. The best music has been obtained. Refreshments will be served.

Rice Recipes

Here are some palatable rice recipes that are particularly seasonable:

Casserole of Rice and Meat.
One cup of hot steamed rice, two cups chopped cooked meat, pepper and red pepper to taste, celery salt to taste, parsley, onion juice and lemon to taste, one beaten egg, one cup of bread crumbs, hot stock, tomato sauce. Line a well-buttered mold with one cupful of well-steamed rice; add the seasonings to the meat with the egg, the bread crumbs and sufficient stock to bind them together. Turn into the prepared mold and cover with rice. Cover with a buttered lid and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and garnish with parsley. Serve with tomato sauce.

Rice and Cheese
Two and one-half cups cooked rice, one-half pound American cheese, cut in small pieces, one-half cup evaporated milk, one-half cup water, two level tablespoonfuls oleomargarine, two level tablespoonfuls flour, few grains salt, paprika, one-half cup bread crumbs.
Time: Preparation, baking 15 minutes; number served, four to nine persons.

Use leftover cold boiled rice. Melt oleomargarine, add flour, mix; add milk and water; cook, stirring until smooth and thick. Add cheese, and salt, and paprika to season. Stir until cheese melts. Add rice. Grease a shallow baking dish, full with mixture, cover top with crumbs, add a few bits of oleomargarine; bake in a moderate oven until top is golden brown.

Escalloped Eggs With Rice.
Six hard-boiled eggs (sliced).
Two cups cooked rice.
Two cups thin white sauce.
Two tablespoonfuls oleomargarine.
One tablespoonful salt.
One-eighth tablespoonful pepper.
Slice eggs, arrange in layers between rice and season, then pour in the sauce. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown. An excellent dish for a one-dish meal.

Mrs. Wm. L. Phillips

Charm, poise, dignity, and graciousness! These are the attributes of army matrons. Especially do they belong to Mrs. William L. Phillips, wife of Lieutenant Phillips, of Fort Crook. Educated in the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Salt Lake City and by the madames of the Sacred Heart in Havre, France, Mrs. Phillips is the embodiment of all loveliness and culture.

She became the bride of Lieutenant Phillips a little more than a year ago when the latter was stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah, near Salt Lake. During that year she has resided in many of the forts in the middle west where she has made a host of friends.

Of interest to Mrs. Phillips are music, literature, art, and outdoor sports. A glance, however, within the Phillips quarters will show that her chief interest is a beautiful home for all its harmony and beauty there. Mrs. Phillips was hostess at the first "at home" at Fort Crook, Tuesday, July 15, which was well attended by Omahans, and which was a most successful affair.

Fit Your Punishment to the Child and to the Act Committed

A child of four years who was in the habit of pinching her neighbors was asked by her kindergarten teacher: "Would you like to have Alice pinch you?" "No." "She doesn't like it either, Dorothy, and will not care to sit by you if you continue."

But the talk did no good, for the little tot went on repeating her offense. Then the teacher quietly took her handkerchief and wrapping it around the offending member, said: "Suppose we cover up this little hand, and not let it be seen until it can remember not to pinch."

After a few minutes the child came over to the teacher to say that the hand could take care of itself now. Smilingly the teacher unwrapped it and said: "I am so glad!"

Too much attention devoted to a simple act? Not when a child learns thereby that disobedience is not worth the price of forfeited companionship, and that to be an active and desired member of the school group he must comply with it necessary laws.

In some cases a child may be talked with and his sense of honor and dependableness aroused, while another child for the same offense must be dealt with more severely to awaken him to better action.

Study the nature of the child with whom you have to deal, and although it may take many months of patient study, and perhaps much experimenting, work out the best approach for a permanent lesson with him.

Timely Tips.

Navy veiling with honeycomb mesh is in vogue. String belts are seen on accordion pleating negligees. The "below the waist puff" is favored by fashion. Hems have a fancy for being embroidered outlined. Linen and soutache braided net are often combined. The standing collar is stolen from the military uniform.

Worth Knowing

One often finds it so difficult to keep the shams in place on an iron bed. Here is an easy way: Take a piece of one-half-inch tape, the length needed to go from post to post; fasten securely around one post and draw tight and fasten around other post. Have it the right height for your sham. Sew snaps on the shams, the socket part of the sham and the ball on the tape. They are easily put on and taken off and your sham is always in place.

If your little one wants to blow soap bubbles and no clay pipe is at hand, an ordinary empty spoon dipped in strong soap suds answers the purpose.

Can Cure Hay Fever. Chiropractic adjustments are the only known health treatments which even pretend to cure the annual hay fever sufferers. No other school can offer any relief, and chiropractors have a field of their own in this pestiferous nuisance, which makes life a burden for many who have not investigated chiropractic adjustments.
