The first charge upon all the assets and revenues of Austria shall be the costs arising under the present treaty, including, in order of priority, the costs of the armies of occupation, reparations and other charges specifically agreed to. Austria must pay the total cost of the armies of occupation from the armistice of November 3, 1918, so long as maintained, and may export no gold before May 1, 1921, without consent of the reparations commission.

Each State Included.

Each of the states to which Austrian territory is transferred and each of the states arising out of the dismemberment of Austria, including the republic of Austria, shall assume part of the Austrian pre-war debt specifically secured on railways, salt mines and other property, the amount to be fixed by the reparations commission. The unsecured bonded pre-war debt of the former empire shall be distributed by the reparations commission in the proportion that the revenues for three years before the war of the separated territory bore to those of the empire, excluding Bosnia and Herzegovina.

No territory formerly part of the empire, except Austria shall carry with it any obligation in respect of war debt of the former Austrian government, but neither the governments of those territories nor their nationals shall have recourse against any other state, including Austria, in respect of war debt bonds within their respective territories by themselves or their nationals.

Outside War Debt.

The war debt held outside the former empire shall be a charge on the republic of Austria alone. All war securities shall be stamped within two months with the stamp of the state taking them up, replaced by certificates and settlement made to the reparations commission.

The currency notes of the former Austro-Hungarian bank circulating in the separated territory shall be stamped within two months by the new governments of the various territories with their own stamp, replaced within 12 months by a new currency and turned over within 14 months to the reparations commission. The bank itself shall be liquidated as from the day after the signature of the treaty by the reparations commission.

States to which Austrian territory was transferred and states arising from the dismemberment of Austria shall acquire all property within their territories of the old or new Austrian governments, including that of the former royal family. The value is to be assessed by the reparations commission and credited to Austria on the reparation account.

Renounces Rights.

Austria renounces all rights as to all international, financial or commercial organizations in allied countries, Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria, Turkey or the former Russian empire. She agrees to appropriate on demand of the reparations commission, any rights of her nationals in any public utility or concession in these territories, in separated districts and in mandatory territories, to transfer them to the commission within six months and to hold herself responsible for indemnifying her nationals so dispossessed.

She also agrees to deliver within one month the gold deposited as security for the Ottoman debt, renounce any benefits accruing from the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk, and transfer to the allied and associated governments all claims against her former allies.

WILSON TO SEE MORE SENATORS DURING WEEK

Continued Contests on Peace and Prohibition Promised in Senate and House.

Washington, July 20.—Continued contests on the peace treaty in the senate and on prohibition enforcement in the house, are the outstanding features of this week's congressional program.

A flood of speech-making on the treaty and league of nations is to be loosed Monday in the senate. For every day but Saturday addresses have been announced.

Conferences between republican senators and President Wilson inaugurated last week through invitation from the White House, will be resumed. The names of the senators who will go to the White House Monday, have not been announced.

Three Addresses Announced.

Three addresses on treaty subjects have been announced for Monday. Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, a league supporter, has announced he would speak Tuesday. Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, plans to speak Thursday, and Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, Friday.

House controversy over the prohibition enforcement bill will be resumed Monday with time for passage of the bill uncertain. The senate judiciary sub-committee hopes to report out the senate enforcement bill before the end of the week.

A flurry in the senate over the daylight saving repeal controversy is expected early this week, with the calling up of the $34,000,000 agricultural bill minus the rider for repeal of the daylight law. The senate agriculture committee will take up the house measure Monday. Advocates of the daylight repeal rider are said to contemplate dropping their fight in view of the two house votes last week sustaining President Wilson's veto of the repeal plan.

Mexico Promises to Punish Murderer of U. S. Citizen

Washington, July 20.—The Mexican government, replying to representations made by the United States in connection with the murder of John W. Correll, an American citizen, and the attack on his wife near Tampico recently, has stated it would "omit no efforts in the prosecution and punishment of those responsible for a crime so odious."

Million Jews Planning Migration to Palestine

MEXICAN RAID ON U. S. SAILORS STIRS CAPITOL

While Awaiting Fuller Information, Punishment of American's Murderers Promised by Carranza.

Washington, July 20.—While the state and navy departments awaited further information in regard to the attack and robbery of a boatload of American sailors from the U. S. S. Cheyenne in the Temesi river, near Tampico, Mex., July 6, the Mexican government, through its embassy here, informed the state department that it would "omit no efforts in the prosecution and punishment of those responsible," for the murder of John W. Correll, an American citizen, and the attack on his wife, in the Tampico district late last month.

The message from the Mexican government, replying to representations made by the United States immediately after the attack on the Correll family was reported, however, did little to lessen the gravity of the situation. Officials made no attempt after the message relating to the Correll attack was received to minimize the seriousness of the situation resulting from the assault on the sailors who were dressed in American uniforms and who were in a motor launch at the masthead of which was an American flag.

The message from the Mexican government in the Correll case said: "The Mexican government will omit no efforts in the prosecution and punishment of those responsible for a crime so odious, in the clearing of which it will exhaust all means at its disposal."

In regard to the attack on the American sailors it is expected the state department, after receipt of further details, will ask the Carranza government to apprehend and punish the assailants. If unable to carry out this request, according to diplomatic practice, the Carranza government next will be asked to disavow the attack.

Elmer Thomas Defends Ringer From Pulpit of Third Church Sunday

Elmer Thomas occupied the pulpit of the Third Presbyterian church last night in the absence of the regular pastor. Though he announced no text or title of his "sermon," it might have been called, "Ringer Is Doing His Best." There were 75 present.

A dozen times he denounced The Bee for its stand on the present city administration and he poured out the vitals of his wrath upon one particular reporter.

This was the climax of an attack on The Bee which went back 30 years. Mr. Thomas told something of his own career as the champion of right and unfolded a touching drama in which he stood alone playing the part of the hero while The Bee was cast willy-nilly in the unpleasing role of the villain.

"I came here from college 30 years ago," he said. "Within a fortnight the prohibition fight of 1890 started. Prohibition was opposed then as it was three years ago by The Bee. I fought for prohibition then as I did three years ago. The Bee is still in the forefront of battle as a champion of the evil forces, and the same men or their successors are fighting on the same side."

Mr. Thomas admitted to his hearers that there has been much criticism of the present administration, particularly of the police department. But he begged them to be patient.

"Our city commissioners are trying to make good," he said. "It is no use to say they have made a failure. They are doing their level best and are determined to see the law enforced. Would you think of exchanging two upright men like Ed. P. Smith and Dean Ringer for men like 'Jim' Dahlman and 'Al' Kugel?"

Truck Runs Into Crowd; Five People Knocked Down

Arthur Nightengale, South Omaha boy 18 years old, drove a heavy car into a crowd of people boarding a street car at the Pearl and Broadway intersection at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The juggernaut knocked down five men, women and children before it was stopped. No one was seriously injured.

Nightengale came nearly being mobbed and had not had his mother and sisters in the car he might have been roughly handled. He was taken to the police station, where his story that his brake refused to work was verified. He put up a cash bond of $15 for his appearance in police court this morning. He was required to have his brakes put in order before the police would let him resume his journey home.

Traveling Salesmen

J. A. Hall, traveling salesman for Byrne & Hammer Co., has plenty of "sand." In fact, he's got entirely too much—much more than he wants. During the last 10 years he has traveled over sand, sand and still more sand, selling dry goods for his firm. Hall has sold his wares to the merchants of western Nebraska amid unending stretches of sand dunes until "sand" has become part of his nature.

One summer Hall grew tired of passing through the gray wastes on the train and decided that he would cover his territory by automobile. Accordingly, he placed the necessary equipment on his four-wheeler and even went so far as to take his family. After a few days, Hall found that the territory was covering him, in place of him covering the territory, and has since been content to view the whirling remains of rocks from the glacier period from his seat in a chair car.

For 10 years he has covered his western Nebraska district. Since he is only 36 years old and apparently still a good risk for the insurance companies, he expects to be able to continue to get acquainted with the Cornhusker state. He is married, lives at 1001 North Fifth street and has a daughter, Grace.

Arrest Four in Connection With Pickpocket "Jobs"

Arthur "Blackie" Aurelius, Benson, Al Peterson, 1907 North Twenty-eighth street, Emmett Puckett, 2226 Poppleton avenue and George Rigby, Twenty-eighth and Parker streets were arrested yesterday by Detectives Dolan, Hagerman, Franks and Graham and held for investigation. Chief of Detectives Dunn thinks with the arrest of these men he can throw some light on recent pickpocket "jobs."

Mrs. N. E. Parker, 5005 Woolworth avenue, lost $8 in a handbag to a pickpocket at Sixteenth and Capitol avenue Saturday. F. A. Carey, Fort Dodge, Ia., lost $30 to a pickpocket on a North Twenty-fourth street car Saturday.

NEED MORE OLD TIME RELIGION SAYS SAVIDGE

Minister Finds Thousands at Ball Games; Does Not Choose Billy Sunday Revival.

Rev. C. W. Savidge of the Peoples' church preached last night on the subject, "A Revival of Old Time Religion, Greatly Needed in Omaha."

In describing the kind of revival needed, he said: "I would not choose the kind of revival held by Billy Sunday in Omaha a few years ago. We had 30 members consigned to this church, but they all got drunk and got in jail before we could handle them."

"We want a kind of revival of religion that will reform men, that will change character and will make good people who are determined to do right and are willing to obey God."

To show this the pastor told of visiting on Sunday afternoon two ball games, which had been largely advertised in the city papers. The one was held at Miller park. These clubs represented two great business houses of Omaha.

At Thirty-second and Dewey avenue the pastor found a vast congregation gathered, consisting of thousands of people. Here the greatest activity was shown. The shouts of thousands of people rent the air. The betting, it was said, was heavy on both sides. In these two vast congregations, made up of men, women and children, there did not seem to be a thought of God. God was forgotten. In these games Jews, Presbyterians, Catholics, Protestants, the world and big business contended for victory, glory and money. A devout man could not look on that sin without praying to God for heartfelt religion.

Sunday has become a great sport day in this city.

Sermon—Oh, that's simple. He is either a lawyer or a harpist or a fireman at the power-house, according to his past record.—Stray Shots.

Ray Countryman Charged With Assaulting Aged Man

Ray Countryman, Twelfth and Paul streets, was arrested yesterday afternoon by detectives and charged with assault and battery. Countryman, the detectives say, is the man who attacked John Yoogan, aged ice cream cone peddler, at Eleventh and Jackson streets Friday morning. Yoogan was in a pitiable plight when brought to a police station for medical attention. He said a man had purchased an ice cream cone and after refusing to pay 1 cent war tax, beat him.
