WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Society

SERVING lemonade to the entire A. E. F., or at least 8,000 of them, is just one of the little duties accomplished by Miss Ella Fleishman, who is now dispensing cheer at Is-sur-Tille, France. Miss Fleishman, who was formerly a member of The Bee editorial staff, and is now a member of the overseas workers of the Jewish Welfare board. Speaking of the cooling fluid served by Miss Fleishman on the Fourth, she was amply rewarded she says, by Colonel Howlett's official thanks, delivered in person.

She has met many Omahans during the course of her work. Col. John N. Sweitzer, in command of the advance section, was formerly stationed in Omaha, and his son, who is now Capt. Swingleton Sweitzer, is a member of the official staff of the Pershing stadium in Paris. Major Goodsell, formerly of Chadron, Neb., and an intimate friend of ex-Mayor James Dahlman, has charge of all the German prisoners of war. Miss Fleishman also met Lt. Charles H. Beadles, formerly a police surgeon in Omaha and a student at Creighton, who was transferred from Romayne, to Is-sur-Tille, recently.

Chaplain Eagers is still another Omahan Miss Fleishman has discovered and she says they devour Omaha papers with great enthusiasm. The world is a small place after all and even though an ocean lies between this Omaha girl and the homeland, one could hardly feel lonely while meeting friends at every turn.

Miss Fleishman's future plans are indefinite, as she has not decided whether she will accept a position in Belgium or return home.

Heart Beats

By A. K.
The world Is a wonderful wonderful Place And the people therein And great They work by a system Of man-made rules Inside the Cosmic Circle. The "system" Has made Our styles for us It has placed us Where we should be placed We suppose— It has given us Taste And clique And class— It has carded And indexed All our plans— It records Our pasts And it dictated Our future And thinks our thoughts Then hands them over To our flimsy brain That should work For itself. Society has bulldozed Dominereed and Harrassed us Until we're righteously Frothing and mad. It's trying to hand us Our friends On a platter— Good Heavens! What won't it do next? We'll not stand it. God knows We've been patient Docile And meek But now we rise up In wrath And declare That so long as there's One decent atom Left in us We'll choose our own friends And love whom we please. SELAHI

For the Business Woman

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

Blue serge makes the smartest one-piece gown both for the business woman and for her more leisurely sister who desires a general utility fock. One-piece dresses show a marked favoritism for the straight cut blouse whose fullness is held at the natural waistline by a leather belt. A broad belt of black patent leather fastened with a silver buckle holds the waistline of this effective model. The skirt is set on to the blouse at yoke depth and the sides of the skirt are laid in two outstanding plaits that are held by black bone buttons. The round collar of ivory charmeuse is fastened with a large white pearl button. The cuffs of charmeuse are similarly trimmed. For general and business wear several sets of collars and cuffs may be made of linen, in white, tan and buff. Pique also makes serviceably smart collars and cuffs. The hat worn with this gown is black velvet and shows the fashionable pale shape.

Country Club

Aeroplane rides between dances! Can it be possible? Indeed, it is. It is the latest fad of Country club members. Many were surprised Sunday evening, when a plane from the Ak-Sar-Ben field suddenly swooped down upon the Country club green. Inquisitive persons soon discovered that Arthur Ballis of the Omaha Flying Co. was there for the purpose of taking adventurous ones for a ride. Mrs. Pryor Markell was the only woman to experience the thrills of air travel Sunday, and to prove she was not in the least afraid she wants to try flying again. E. S. Westbrook and Clarke Coit also attempted a flight Sunday evening.

Several popular maids and matrons were so impressed by Mrs. Markell's account of her ride that they intend to make an ascent Monday evening. They are Mesdames Edwin T. Swobe, Clarke Powell, Dick Stewart, Louis Clarke, Misses Elizabeth Davis and Louise Dinning. S. S. Carlisle entertained eight guests at the Sunday night supper at the Country club. Parties of six were given by Dr. LeRoy Crummer, Mrs. Edwin T. Swobe, Mrs. George Laier and M. C. Peters. Mrs. D. A. Baum entertained a foursome.

Lovelorn

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Blackheads and Wrinkles.
Dear Miss Fairfax: I have so many blackheads that I look a fright. Is there anything I can do to clear my skin? I am considered very good looking, with fair skin and blue eyes, and I am only 23. Isn't that too young to have wrinkles? If you will send me a self-addressed envelope I will tell you what to do for blackheads and wrinkles.

A High School Girl.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have noticed that you have helped a good many young people out of their troubles, so I am coming to you with mine.

I have written several pretty good poems and wish to know where I could sell them without paying $5 or $10 to get them published. I want to go to high school this fall and find it is necessary to pay my own expenses. I can get my board and room by working after school. I am 16 and have missed one year. My brother said I was too old to go to high school, as I would be 20 when I graduated. Would that make any difference? What are the usual studies for a freshman?

If you could help me I would be forever GRATEFUL.

About the surest way of defeating your own purpose in paying your expenses is to depend upon the sale of poetry. Indeed, you are not too old to go to high school. Your brother has a very narrow viewpoint and you should pay no attention to him. However, I advise you to try something other than poetry if you expect to earn money.

Girls of Thirtys.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two girls at the age of 30 and 32. As we have always been kept somewhat in ignorance of the ways of the world we await with anxiety every night for your "Advice to the Lovelorn." As we can't get in with the other young folks around here we have been reckoning on going to the city. Now, Miss Fairfax, we have always had to work hard all our life and never had any enjoyment, and now that we have some money saved we want to go to the city and see life.

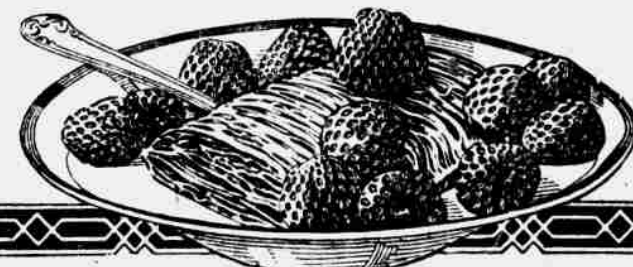

We don't seem to mix with the fellows, but we're good sports and still retain our girlish laughter. The question, Miss Fairfax, is how can we get in with the "fellows?" We wait as we have never waited before in order to receive your advice.

Please answer this in tomorrow evening's Bee.

IONA FORD AND IMA KEASER.
Sorry, girls of 30, that I cannot tell you how to "get in with the fellows." If you decide to come to the city, however, be careful not of the city, but of your behavior. I fear you are a wee bit silly and this would cause you more embarrassment than it would in your home town where folks are acquainted with you. Be sensible and sweet and friends will come to you.

There is Now Plenty of Beef and Lamb for Everybody

At the present price levels these are the cheapest of the meat foods.

It is now possible to advise the American people that it is no longer necessary to conserve beef and lamb.

Right now, there is plenty of these meats for everybody and this will be the situation for many months to come. 'Here are the reasons:

1. Demobilization of our armies has gone ahead so rapidly that they now require very little beef and lamb.
2. England and the other European countries no longer look to us for their beef supplies.
3. When war was declared the American live-stock raiser started to produce more meat. The result has been a large increase in live stock production.

Therefore, You may now buy beef and lamb—and buy freely.

Have you ever been to Michigan of a summer? If you have, you need no urging to go again; if not, give it serious consideration this summer. It's an out-of-door playground of most varied attractions—re-creating pleasures and sports.

Surrounded by Great Lakes, with smaller lakes dotting its interior; with romping streams of crystal-clear water; with fragrant forests of birch, pine, hemlock, spruce—Michigan has the setting, the climate, and the things we are looking for, for vacation days of play and rest.

Bass, Muscallonge, Trout, Pickerel, Pike, for the fisherman; bathing on sandy, forest-fringed beaches; canoe, motor and sailing-boat regattas. Championship golf; tennis, music, dancing.

Fine hotels, inns, and boarding houses; or an ideal camp life in retreats deep in the woods, by the shore of some jewel of a lake, or along the banks of streams of Indian names and Indian appeals.
