

OBTAIN $35,000 ATTACHMENT ON CATTLE IN YARDS

Shipment of Live Stock From New Mexico Rancher Held Pending Suit in District Court.

An attachment for $35,000 on 263 head of cattle now in the hands of Clay, Robinson & Co., South Side live stock commission house, was issued yesterday afternoon by District Judge Estelle. The cattle were shipped here by the Kern Land & Cattle Co. of New Mexico and the attachment is the outgrowth of an alleged seizure of a large herd of cattle in New Mexico in 1916.

Suit was brought yesterday in district court by Thomas J. Donahue against H. A. Jastro, Wallace Birchfield, Victoria Land & Cattle Co. and the Kern Land & Cattle Co. for $35,840. The attachment was issued in support of the suit. Jastro, it is stated, is the owner of the two cattle companies.

Donahue alleges that on May 25, 1916, he and a number of cowboys in his employ were driving 2,400 head of cattle from International Monument No. 66, on the Mexican border, to Hachita, N. M., for shipment. When near the High Lonesome ranch, he says, they were stopped by agents of Jastro with a demand for payment of $10,000, which Jastro alleged to be due to him. He says they threatened to drive his cattle across the border into Old Mexico, where, at that time, there were thousands of insurgents and Villistas.

As he didn't have enough cowboys to resist the demands, he says, he paid $5,000. He says that while the cattle were in the hands of Jastro's agents they lost 239, of which he recovered only 93, and he asks $5,840 for these. He also asks $25,000 damages for his trouble.

Owners of Wrecked Blimp Agree to Pay Expenses of Disaster

Chicago, July 24.—G. M. Stadelman, vice president of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., owners of the ill-fated dirigible which cost 13 lives and the injury of 28 other persons, when it burned and crashed through the skylight of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank Monday, has issued a statement through his attorney, saying the company will pay all financial expenses caused by the accident, entirely of its own free will.

"Any families who have suffered because of this accident will only have to present the bills to our company to have them paid," the statement said. "Irrespective of what the investigations may disclose as to our responsibility, we wish to be allowed to afford all possible facilities for the care of the persons and families afflicted."

Because of the lack of law covering the blimp case, it is probable there will be no criminal prosecution, Coroner Hoffman said today, "but it will be left to the passage of rigid flying laws, he added."

The investigations which were adjourned yesterday will be resumed Friday.

Girl Runs Into Arms of Officer to Escape Pursuer

Edna Corneer, 15 years old, in quest of employment yesterday afternoon, ran into the arms of Traffic Officer Dykes at Sixteenth and Howard streets in order to escape from Nick Pawas, a barber, who, she said, was following her.

Pawas was arrested and held without bond for investigation. The girl told Dykes that the man had accosted her on Howard street near Seventeenth and asked her where she was going. When she refused to tell him he followed her, she says, frightening her in his manner.

The girl was recently graduated from a business school and was in quest of her first position.

Want Noises Stopped So Hotel Guests Can Sleep Undisturbed

J. Edgar Gregory of the Hotel Fontenelle, R. C. Magill of the Omaha Athletic club and Rome Miller of the Rome hotel have been appointed by the Hotel Men's association as a special committee to devise ways and means to prevent unnecessary and disturbing noises which annoy sleepers in Omaha's hostleries.

The committee will first appear before the city council and ask what that body can and will do to abate the nuisance.

The particular forms of noises complained of are those of automobile horns, early morning trucks, newsmen who announce themselves between 5 and 7 a. m., maternal discussions between ice and milk men, shop and factory whistles and messenger boys with mouth-whistles.

Specific complaint is made against an ice truck which climbs the Douglas street hill about 7 o'clock every morning, accompanied by a nerve-destroying screech.

HARRIET OLSON WANTED TASTE OF LIFE IN CITY

Farm Girl Arrested After Sojourn of Three Hours in Omaha; Returned to Parents.

A race between a passenger train and an automobile rivaling anything the movies ever attempted in that line was enacted yesterday afternoon between Rising City, Neb., and Omaha, when Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of Rising City pursued their daughter, Harriet, who had shaken the dust of the old farm from her heels and set out by train for Omaha.

Harriet was taken into custody at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Detectives Franks and Graham and turned over to her parents.

Yesterday morning Harriet rose in the still dawn, hitched father's best steed to the shay and bade good bye to the old farm. A cloud of dust announced her departure for the big city.

Father and mother borrowed a neighbor's rig and started in pursuit. Harriet reached Rising City in time to catch the train for Omaha, in fact she had almost too much time. Father and mother have it figured far down the road just as the train pulled out for the metropolis. They commandeered an automobile and followed.

Harriet arrived in Omaha at noon, father and mother at 3 o'clock. Detectives Franks and Graham were put on Harriet's trail and 10 minutes later she was apprehended at Sixteenth and Spring streets with a "Bill" run away again, she sobbed, stamping a dainty little foot. "I have to work hard on the farm all day and then when evening comes I have to sit around and can't go out like the other girls do. I don't get any nice clothes, either. Everything is so quiet and dead down on the farm in the evening. I want to live in a big city."

Mr. and Mrs. Olson took their place at the side of Harriet and started for the old farm. Harriet pouted but offered no resistance.

Omahans to Take Part in Balloon Flights at St. Louis This Fall

The announcement that a privately owned balloon, manned by A. Leo Stevens, balloon instructor, and Lt. Col. Jacob W. S. West, commanding officer at Fort Omaha, will enter the international balloon races for distance and altitude at St. Louis October 1, was made yesterday at Fort Omaha.

Arrangements have been made by Mr. Stevens with the Goodyear Rubber Co. of Dayton, O., for the manufacture of an 80,000 cubic feet balloon which will be used in making the flight. Mr. Stevens left last evening for Dayton to complete details of the purchase. The balloon will cost $10,000.

That Colonel West may find it necessary to doff his silver leaf temporarily, in view of the fact that a special army order is necessary to permit an army officer to compete in a civilian meet, is thought probable. The colonel is awaiting advices from Washington on the subject. He says he will enter regardless.

The St. Louis meet was arranged some months ago. It will be the first great aviation contest since the Paris gathering, when balloons from all parts of the world competed for the James Gordon Bennett cup and approximately $10,000 in prizes. Entrants from France, England, Italy, Switzerland and Spain are expected.

Victor Program for August Contains Remarkable Records

Old-time melodies are revived in all their fragrance in the August issue of Victor records just released. The list includes 45 records, the works of the world's greatest composers and singers.

Alma Gluck's "Darling Nellie Gray," "Sustained" by Galli-Curci; John McCormack's "Star-Spangled Banner," and Victor Herbert's "American Fantasia" are but a few of the records that have been released.

Others are: "Love's Old, Sweet Song," "Jack O' Hazeldean," "Harrigan," "The Blow That Almost Killed Father," "Hiawatha," "Chorus of Derivishes," "Evening Brings Rest and You," "Retreat from Moscow," "Since Molly Went Away."

Mrs. Z. Anderson Charges Husband With Choking Her

Mrs. Zudora Anderson, 20 years old, living with Mrs. C. E. Irwin, 4907 South Twenty-third street, asked that a complaint be filed against her husband, charging him with assault and intent to do great bodily injury, yesterday at central police station.

Mrs. Anderson told police her husband joined the army a year ago. They have been married four years. When he returned he charged her with infidelity, she says, and they quarreled. Wednesday night, Mrs. Anderson says, he choked her when she refused to respond to his advances.
