

Fame kills the fever of the soul, and makes us feel that we have grasped an immortality.—Miller.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Farwell! a word that must be, and hath been a sound which makes us linger; yet—farwell.—Byron.

Society

HERE have been many "plain" honeymoons, but it remains for a twentieth century bridal couple to have a "plane" one. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smalls, who have just returned from the east, have the distinction of being the first Omaha bridal couple to ride on a hydroplane during their wedding trip. Over Atlantic City they flew, with the great hotels and crowds of merry-makers on the beaches mere specks below them. Mrs. Smalls was delighted with the experience and not at all timid. She says it was quite the most unique way to celebrate the Fourth she has yet discovered, for it was on the national holiday that she took her trip through the air.

A motor trip through New England was greatly enjoyed by this prominent young couple, as they took a leisurely tour, enjoying the wonderful roads and beautiful scenery to the utmost. They returned by boat from Montreal to Chicago, arriving in Omaha early in the week.

Surprise Picnic.
Miss Grace Allison entertained at a picnic supper Thursday evening at Rosemere Lodge. It was an unusual affair in that her mother, Mrs. C. C. Allison was the honor guest and that the party included her mother's intimate friends. Miss Allison had planned that it should be a surprise to her mother and everyone tried to keep the secret. The guests were Messrs. and Messdames A. L. Reed, M. C. Peters, Frank Judson, John Towle, Mrs. A. C. Johnson and Messrs. C. T. Kountze and Joseph Barker.

McEwan-Ireland.
The marriage of Miss Edythe V. Ireland and H. W. McEwan was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of the Christian church, Council Bluffs, Rev. C. O. Stuckenbruck reading the marriage vows. Miss Susie Ireland and William Ireland were the only attendants. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. McEwan will be at home in Omaha.

For Miss Dudley.
Miss Regina Connell entertained at a small luncheon Thursday at the Blackstone hotel in honor of Miss Frances Dudley of Nashville, Tenn. who has been the guest of Miss Gladys Peters for several days. Miss Dudley left during the afternoon for Estes Park, where she will spend the remainder of the summer.

Pre-Nuptial Affairs.
Many are the pre-nuptial affairs for Miss Alice Coad. Luncheon and afternoon parties have followed in quick succession since the announcement of her wedding date. Miss Mildred Todd will entertain at an informal party next Tuesday. Miss Elsie Storz will give a luncheon in her honor at the Country club Friday, August 1.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer.

This is the season when she who would have a rhy-while complexion should turn her thoughts to merciolized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, sibilized or coarsened sear skin, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity.

An ounce of merciolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, mixed with a little cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve even the worst complexion. There is nothing better for the removal of tan, freckles or blotches.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

We are never alone.
When human companionship
Drifts off into
The outer world
There is a little spirit
Within
Who sails forth
And we call her
"Soliloquy"
After the day's
Rumble and roar
Have ceased—
Trucks have left
The rocky pavement—
Yelling motorcycles
Have taken to
The open road—
We sit in the twilight
And call to us
Wonders of the past.
We heal old wounds
Made by our sharp tongue.
Friends and enemies
Of the past
We gather around us.
Deceased authors and poets
We welcome to our
Campfire communion
And discuss their writings
Their lives
Their human sympathies
And sufferings.
Those cynical old poets!
Those studious old authors!
Risque old Balzac!
All possess subtlety—
Keen wit
And some a
Lovely,
Wholesome humor.
Only Ibsen
Is really wounded
By what he's seen of Life.
With "Soliloquy"
We put the world
Aright
And are as one
With Past and Future.
We enact the drama
Of human joy and tragedy
And sooth the heart
Of the world for the night.
There is no gap
For loneliness—
When the world's Greatest and best
Come at our call.

Girl Scouts

The Tenderfoot Scout.

No girl may wear the Girl Scout pin, insignia, or uniform until she is formally accepted as a tenderfoot scout. To arrive at this distinction she must be at least 10 years old and she must pass the following test to the satisfaction of the Girl Scout officer in charge:

For headwork she must first of all know the Scout promise and laws, and the Girl Scout motto, "Be prepared," and the Girl Scout slogan, "Do a good turn daily;" she must also know by heart the first and last verses of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the full name of the President of the United States, the governor of her state, and the head of her city or town government.

For handwork she must be able to tie four sailor knots in approved fashion—the reef, bowline, clove hitch, and sheepshank.

For health knowledge she learns the simple setting-up exercises and tenderfoot drill.

For helpfulness she promises to try to do a good turn daily to her troop, her school, her home, or her community.

The tests which must be passed for rank as a second-class scout carry on to more advanced stages; the development of headwork, handwork, hygiene, and general helpfulness, begun in tenderfoot scout-hood.

Country Club.

Many informal affairs are being given for Miss Alice Coad, whose marriage to Lieut. Milton Peterson takes place next week. Mrs. T. J. Dailey, Misses Ellen Creighton, Beatrice Coad, Nan and Helen Murphy, Eva Dow, Carita O'Brien, Claire Helene Woodard and Katherine Krug, who is visiting at the John F. Coad home.

Solving Servant Problem

Here's one way to keep your butlers and chauffeurs. Servants are men and women, and it takes more than money to hold them—
—in fact, this is a scene from Miss Clayton's latest picture, "Men, Women and Money."

Three Salers

Three salers went sailing out into the West as the sun rose high. Each thought of the bargain that she would love best.

For men must work, and women must spend, though money is scarce, and no one will lend.

And the Bargain Sales are raging.

Three wives sat up in their bedroom dim, and they turned up the gas as the sun went down.

They looked at fat parcels, and purses so slim.

And happily planned their next journey for men must work, and women must spend.

Though rain be sudden, and credit will end, and the Bargain Sales are raging.

Three husbands still gaze on the silks and lace.

In the morning gray, when all hope has flown;

Of a land where the sale bills are never for men must work, and women must spend.

And the sooner 'tis over, the sooner the end, and money to the sale and their raging.

Y. W. Secretaries Are Teaching Tokio Girls Table Sociability

Is strange, unfamiliar food satisfying to the palate? Elizabeth Dunning, Y. W. C. A. secretary at Tokyo, Japan says it is not, even if it is good.

Miss Dunning has been in Japan almost a year. She writes that it is the custom for the secretaries to go to the dormitories, where Japanese girls who are attending schools in the city or the Y. W. C. A., training classes live, on Sunday nights to have dinner with the girls.

"We go to the dining room and eat fish rice and other things that are very good with the girls—eating with chop-sticks, of course which is great fun. We always go home to our own Sunday evening supper afterwards though, as the little Japanese food we eat always makes us hungry for our own supper, as they no doubt would be if they were dining in America.

"I am learning to have great sympathy for the little Hindoo girl who attended my own American college once upon a time and got pretty thin trying to subsist on American food. I just think that the food is not good; it is the strangeness of it."

Miss Dunning says that the girls talk very little at meals, as it is not customary to converse much at the table in Japan, but the girls in the Y. W. C. A. dormitories are learning American sociability.

Dust

By LOUIS UNTERMEYER

Listen! The dust at our feet whispers and breathes.
It speaks in a voiceless air that is delicate but august.
Hurry, it says, for the wave that rushes and seethes
Will spend itself on the rocks and crumble with you in the dust.
I turn from the earth to your eyes; they are bright as before.
Your ears can hear nothing grave.
That is merciful and just.
Thank God that you are not burdened with knowledge and useless lore!
You can dance through a world that surrenders to murder, to squalor, and lust.
Thank God that your eyes are screened from the day that I see,
When your laugh is a bony grimace and the gold in your hair is rust;
When your flowery hand, with its five white petals, will be
A sensitive flower turned yellow, that withers and droops in the dust!
And we shall be lying apart, but compassionate winds will blow,
Mingling our little separateness, a handful of doubt and distrust.
And the years will come thunderingly by, triumphantly as they go.
To creep back broken and join us, with the night, in the frail dust.
—From the Century Magazine.

Student Affairs.

The first graduating class of the Accelerated school will hold their class picnic Thursday at Elmwood park. Miss Norma Mack will give a luncheon for the members of the class on Friday.

Licensed to Wed.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

More loaves to the sack

Omar

This is not just a claim—it is a fact. We tested Omar in our baking laboratory, with forty other brands. The result with Omar was about five more loaves (per 48 pound sack) of creamy white, wholesome bread, with an even texture, and a satisfying taste. Then too, Omar bread stays fresh longer than all the others.

There is a scientific reason for this, but it would take a book to explain all the processes, so just try a sack of Omar next time. We know what the result will be. That is why, with every sack of Omar, there goes this guarantee:

"If Omar doesn't bake the best bread you ever baked, simply take the empty sack to your grocer, and get your money."
