

Stockingless Women Halt Traffic on Farnam Street

"Human Semaphore" Overcome When New Paris Vogue is Adopted by Omaha Shoppers.

The stockingless woman has appeared in Omaha. Two stylishly attired women stepped aboard a Dundee car at Sixteenth and Farnam streets yesterday with substantial evidence that neither wore stockings. Traffic Officer J. J. Dudley, the human semaphore at that intersection, was so overcome for a few moments that his long arms lost their cunning and he asked a pedestrian if he saw the same sight. These women moved along nonchalantly and seemed to be quite oblivious to the attentions directed toward them. It was something new to Omahans, who read, however, that stockingless women had appeared in New York and Paris. These intrepid pioneers of the vogue in Omaha were about 25 years old, one a brunette and the other a blond. Each carried a shopping bag and both walked from a department store on Sixteenth street to the street car. The area of visibility between their slippers and skirts was about eight inches as measured by the eyes of a mere man who understands such measurements.

Traveling Salesmen Will Hold Their Annual Picnic
Members of the Travelers' Protective association will hold their annual picnic at Elmwood park, Saturday afternoon, starting at 2. A public invitation to all traveling salesmen who happen to be in the city is extended.
Races and stunts for grownups and children are on the program. A "Tugless Tug of War," "Newspaper Revenge," "Pass the Buck," "Loop the Loop," and other games as mysterious will be uncovered by the arrangements committee. Refreshments will be furnished.

Long Summer Evenings Made Short and Pleasant

Every home should have a Victrola, it makes you forget what a hot, trying day you have gone through—it's the tired and blue-chaser of many a home. WHY NOT YOURS?

But $5 Per Month
Will put one in your home. And while paying for it you can enjoy it. AND you will not have to take your company to a resort to entertain—the Victor will do that at home.
Come in and talk it over.
