Omaha's 1919 amateur baseball association, the first under the auspices of the Municipal Amateur Baseball association, was officially ended yesterday, when the City, class B. Booster and Inter-City. class C leagues wound up their playing schedule. In the City league, the oldest circuit in local amateur baseball circles, the Union Outfitting Co., won the pennant by winning 12 out of 14 games, while in the Booster league, the World-Herald copped the flag by defeating the Leavenworth Merchants, by a score of 5 to 4, and the Highland Park Pharma-cies carried off first honors in the Inter-City league, by taking the Beddeos into camp, by a 5 to 4 score, thereby winning 13 games out of 15. The newspaper lads lost but one game out of 12.

Races Close.

The races in all three of these above mentioned leagues were hard fought until the last contests were played, especially in the Booster where yesterday's contest settled the race. Had the World-Herald team lost to the Leavenworth Merchants the race would have been a tie between them and the Trimble Brothers, who finished chants, by a 12 to 4 score.

In both games the Leavenworth Merchants scored but eight runs, while their opponents scorer a total of 17. The Trimbles had an easy time with their opponents. while the Herald crew won the game in the final stanza, when their heavy artillery started the fireworks.

All games in the City league were forfeited vesterday, the Union Outfitters winning from the McCaffrey Motor, on account of the latter team going out of town. The Willard Storage Battery won a forfeit from Mickels Victrolas and the Bowen Furnitures likewise from the Omaha Printing Co. Both the Mickles and Printing Co. teams disbanded.
