

CARNIVAL TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 24 TO OCTOBER 4

Ak-Sar-Ben Governors Extend Membership Time Limit Until August 15; Big Crowd Enjoys Show.

The Ak-Sar-Ben carnival will be held this year from September 24 to October 4 on the grounds where it has been held in previous years.

Iowans Attend Show.

Extreme heat had no effect on the attendance at "The Wandering Jew." The big crowd of last night came from Carson, Elliott, Henderson, Griswold, Traynor and Lewis, Iowa towns.

The membership reached 3752 and the board of governors announced that the time limit has been extended to August 15.

The show of last night was up to its usual lofty standard in spite of the heat. Charles Gardner took the part of "Satan," while Henry Dunn, the usual interpreter of that role, sat in the audience and applauded.

Next Monday night there is to be "something doing" for the Nebraska editors who will be in Omaha. The show is billed to outdo itself on this gala occasion.

Col. H. C. Osterman of the Lincoln Highway commission, was one of the speakers of last night. He boosted for the next highway of which Omaha is the center and said the Ak-Sar-Ben show was as good as a show as the Lincoln highway is a highway.

BLACK BELT IN CHICAGO SCENE OF FIERCE FIGHTS

Seven Killed and Many Wounded in Race War That Holds Part of Windy City in Its Grasp.

(Continued from Page One.) a street car by a negro. He was soon lying unconscious against the curb. The angry whites had left him for dead. Groups of blacks formed in foot ball fashion and charged against whites with razors and clubs. On one corner the scene was like a miniature battle ground.

Women Battle in Yard.

While the main battles were in progress, women blacks and whites battled away in front yards with brooms and missiles. In one of these fights a white woman was knocked unconscious and taken to a hospital. In one battle on Thirty-fourth street, negroes knocked two policemen unconscious and were drawing guns when a group of discharged negro soldiers came to the rescue of the whites. In another battle soon after, three policemen were shot. One may die.

Creep Into Alleys. A number of wounded negroes crept into alleys and other dark places. When they were found they were hurried to the Provident hospital for colored, which for several hours received a virtual procession of injured men and terror stricken women. The more seriously wounded negroes participated in a battle with whites near Thirty-fifth and State streets. Several thousand of the blacks congregated at this point within a period of 10 minutes. It was an orderly gathering for a time. Suddenly four maddened negroes faced up State street surrounding the home of a white man. In a twinkling shots began to fly in all directions. More than a score of negroes fell. Some were carried off by companions.

Cars Stop Running. After a motorman had been dragged from his car and killed by a group of maddened blacks, shortly before midnight and a dozen street cars wrecked, the street car company ordered that no more cars be taken into the troubled area. The elevated trains also quit running in dangerous territory. Troops continued to move to a centralized point on the south side throughout the night, but up to midnight they had not been ordered to begin patrolling the streets. This was explained by the statement that the outbreaks had slackened to such an extent that the police could afford as much protection as the troops.

Omaha Will Welcome Army Transport Today. (Continued from Page One.) tion of "pontoon bridge"—in reality a large scow—to the city of Omaha by Colonel McClure, and the ascension of a balloon at Fort Omaha, which will be located in the sky this evening by the signal corps' powerful 3,000,000-candle power searchlight. Colonel McClure and his staff of twenty-five officers were entertained at dinner last evening by Gould Dietz and a welcoming committee of Omahans at the latter's apartments at the Hotel Fontenelle. The colonel delighted his guests with stories of his trip across country and the observations made. "The time will come," he said, "when trans-continental cross-country trips will be an every day matter."

At Council Bluffs the convoy's personnel was tendered a royal reception last night. The mayor and a committee of citizens motored to Missouri Valley and greeted the train, accompanying them into the city. The entire convoy was parked for the night on the blocks surrounding Baylin park. Immediately on arrival every man repaired to Lake Manawa for a "plunge."

Iowa Towns Decorate. At Honey Creek and Loveland, small towns along the Lincoln highway into Council Bluffs, stores and homes were gayly decorated with numerous flags and bunting. Large crowds of people gathered at both places. At Council Bluffs Red Cross girls served refreshments. Barring what might be called a small "riot" at Denison, Sunday night, when a "conscientious objector" saw fit to ridicule members of the convoy's personnel and was at once "effectively silenced," the trip across Iowa proceeded without incident. The men were welcomed at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Saturday.

The Omaha committee, headed by J. B. Lionberger, of the Omaha Automobile Trades commission, requests that all automobiles expecting to participate in the parade today be on hand at Ninth and Douglas streets at 8 o'clock. At least 50 Omaha cars are expected to take part in the parade. L. B. Johnson, good roads expert, who is making the tour with the convoy, will speak at 12:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce on "The Transcontinental Transport." H. C. Osterman, vice president and field secretary of the Lincoln Highway association, will attend the meeting. The bill now before congress requesting that the government officially recognize and maintain the Lincoln Highway will be discussed.
