GOVERNOR WILL TAKE NO PART IN AMENDMENT ROW

Declares It Duty of Legislature to Act on Suffrage Measure as Provided by Law.

Lincoln, July 28.—(Special.)—Governor McKelvie is taking no part in the controversy as to whether the ratification of the amendment to the national constitution shall be made in one day or longer, according to a statement made to newspaper men this morning.

He said he had made the call, it would be up to the legislature to do the rest in the manner which they thought best.

The controversy came up over a newspaper statement made by Senator Peterson of Lancaster county that the ratification could be made in one day, holding that in the absence of any specific method provided for in the national constitution all that is needed is merely an expression of approval from both branches.

Those who oppose the stand of the senator hold that in the failure of the national constitution to provide any specific manner in which a state shall ratify an amendment to the constitution, the constitution not the state must be followed out by the legislature. The point to the fact that all ratifications of federal amendments in the past have been done as the constitution provides, "that all bills and resolutions shall be read on three different days in each branch of the legislature."

They hold that with this record the legislature, which has been called for the specific purpose of ratifying the proposed amendment, cannot afford to take a chance of having the matter go to the courts and perhaps having the whole action of the special session held up or thrown over the legal transom entirely.

Members who have reached the city so far appear to be of the opinion that the session should take no chances and that the ratification should be made in the usual way, with no doubt as to its legality.

After extending from Omaha through the Pine Ridge reservation the trail will continue west to Hot Springs, the southern extremity of the Black Hills and then proceed northward through the Black Hills. This part of the route will be the most picturesque in the west. It is hoped to have the work of road construction commence at an early date.
