ABOLISHMENT OF

Butler Denies Institution Is "Menace to City" and Says It Stops Price Increase.

Declaring that the municipal coal vard is a menace, the Associated Retailers of Omaha request that the city council abolish it. A resolution to this effect was received and read in city council yesterday.

"That resolution ought to be thrown into the waste basket," declared Commissioner Butler, chief sponsor of the "muny" coal yard.
"This council oughtn't to allow itself to be bombarded and bamboozled by a lot of fake communications like "The municipal coal yard, instead of being a 'menace' to the city, is a safeguard to the people. You abolish the municipal coal yard and see where the retail coal dealers will boost the price of coal to next winter, now that the government regulation of prices has been removed. "If these fellows want to start a fight on the coal yard I'll start investigations on the prices of some are being cheated right and left and it's time Omaha got up to date in looking into these important things like other cities are doing." The communication from the Associated Retailers states that the 'coal situation is serious and the coal business is entitled to protec-other things in Omaha. The people tion just as other retail businesses, "The municipal coal yard is a destructive factor, offering competition at less than cost," the resolution says. "The municipal coal yard stores no coal. If all the retail dealers would follow the same policy there would be no reserve stock of coal in Omaha and strikes at the mines or tieups on the railroads would leave Omaha in the grip of a coal famine.' The resolution "carnestly requests the council to abolish the municipal coal yard," and states that the retail dealers will store up ample stocks of coal "if relieved from the menace of the municipal coal yard." Commissioner Butler declares he s ready for a fight to the finiish on this issue. The resolution was referred to the committee of the whole. Motor Car Representative Investigating Conditions A. H. Haught, special representative of the National Motor Car and Vehicle Co., is speeding this week in Omaha investigating conditions throughout this section. Omaha is one of several western stops where this same review is being made. He is the guest of the .50 | National Car Sales corporation.
