CITY MARKET TO SELL AT COST, IS MAYOR'S PLAN

Proposes Scheme to Reduce Household Expenses by Selling Necessities in Economical Manner.

Mayor Smith yesterday broached a plan to city commissioners to attempt to reduce the high cost of living in Omaha.

The mayor proposes to establish markets at various places throughout the city where the necessities of life will be sold to the people at cost.

He plans to use the old South Side city hall and various fire houses for this purpose.

"We will buy flour, bacon, hams, cured meats, corn meal, canned goods and the like in carload quantities and sell them at cost to all comers," said the mayor.

"The old South Side city hall has a lot of unused space which can be put to excellent use for this purpose."

Aid Labor Crisis.

"Something must be done to stop this enormous sky-rocketing of the price of food. The statement of W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen's union in Washington Thursday was sensible. If the cost of living is reduced the laboring men will not be all the time seeking higher wages."

"If we establish a number of these markets throughout the city they will act as a regulator of the grocery stores. If the stores know that people can go to the municipal markets and buy things cheaper they will be more careful not to boost their prices too high."

"Everything will be handled in the most economical manner. We will sell only in quantities—a bushel of potatoes, a side of bacon, a whole ham. We won't keep fresh meats and vegetables, because we haven't the refrigeration facilities. And we can't cut meats because that would require the services of skilled men."

The mayor was urged to action in this matter partly by a letter he received a few days ago from an employe of one of the large fruit commission houses, who stated that the wholesale fruit men regulate the supply of fruit in Omaha so that prices will be kept up. He charged that large quantities of fruit are allowed to spoil in the local yards, so that high prices may be secured for the fruit that is placed on the market.

Favored by Commissioners.

Mayor Smith was asked about the legality of establishing the markets. "I don't know for sure about that," he said. "But at this time I don't think we need to look too closely at the strict letter of the law. We are confronted with a state of affairs that demands action. We have the money. We can buy the goods in large quantities and sell them again in a few days. It merely amounts to turning over the city's own money in the interest of the people."

Commissioner Ure expressed himself as in favor of the project. "I am in favor of anything that will bring down the cost of living to the people of Omaha," he said. "We will have to look into the legal aspect of the case. But we ought to get action just as quickly as possible."

Commissioner Butler declared himself heartily in favor of the mayor's scheme.

Mayor Smith will prepare his proposition in the form of a resolution which he will present to the city council at the committee of the whole meeting next Monday.

SECOND WOMAN IS ATTACKED BY MALE INTRUDER

Miss Peterson Knocked Unconscious by Assailant Who Enters Room at Early Morning Hour.

Miss Marie Peterson, 17 years old, a stenographer in the offices of the Drake Construction company, was knocked unconscious by an unidentified assailant who climbed into her bedroom yesterday and attempted to criminally assault her.

She screamed. He struck her. He jumped through a window and escaped.

The attempted assault occurred at Miss Peterson's home, 2424 South Twentieth avenue, at 5 yesterday morning.

Aroused by Screams.

The girl's parents were aroused by her screams. They rushed into her room in time to see the man's figure leap through the window.

"They could not discern his color. The girl does not know whether he was white or black."

The parents found the girl unconscious. She was lying across the bed with her head dangling. Fifteen minutes elapsed before her senses were restored. A police surgeon revived her. She is confined to her bed as a result of the attack.

Miss Peterson says she was awakened to find a man bending over her.

"When I screamed the first time," she said, "he put his hand over my mouth."

Says "I've Got You."

"I've got you now!" he said, and then I tore his hand away and screamed again. Then he struck me. That's the last I remember until I woke up and found the doctor with me."

Near Miss Peterson's temple is a black and blue welt, slightly abraded as if the hand that struck her wore a ring.

The attempted assault on the Peterson girl is the second in 48 hours in Omaha and vicinity.

Omaha and Council Bluffs police are scouring the surrounding territory for a man who criminally assaulted Miss Josephine Volmer, 37 years old, in Council Bluffs Wednesday.

THE BEE'S FUND FOR FREE MILK AND ICE

Ann Edwards, 4916 Chicago street, writes as follows: "Last year I gave you $5 for the milk fund for babies who were not as fortunate as I am in having plenty of pure milk and ice; and I almost forgot it this year. Ann Edwards is a baby herself, only 18 months old. Thank you, Ann. You are practicing the Golden Rule well.

These are FEARFUL DAYS for the poor little babies. A WAITING LIST has accumulated and help to these depends on how much money comes in to the fund.

Building of New Jail Must Be Made Issue For People to Vote On

Police Commissioner Ringer's plan to build a new police station this year went to the scrap heap in the face of an opinion from the city legal department, read to the city council yesterday, which states that the law forbids appropriation of the necessary money without a vote of the people.

Mr. Ringer held that $100,000 of bonds could be issued by the city council without the people's vote. Eight architects put in a large amount of work and submitted bids on four different propositions in regard to the jail. Many other bids were received for plumbing, electric lighting fixtures, etc.

These are all wasted in face of the fact that there is no money available and, by the time it could be made available, prices may have risen so much that present bids will be worthless.

"Mr. Ringer just wants to build the jail as a monument to himself," said one citizen.

"Believe me, he'll have more monument than he wants before he's through," said another.

Omaha Ranks Fifth as Rail Center in Whole Country

The Bureau of Publicity figures that of the leading cities of the United States there are but four out of which more railroad mileage is operated than through the Omaha gateway. They are: Chicago, with 104,266 miles; St. Louis, 76,989; Kansas City, 64,567; Minneapolis, 59,518. The mileage out of Omaha is 58,632.

Omaha has nine trunk lines, operating trains, both freight and passenger to four cities on the Pacific coast, to three cities on the gulf and three to the north.

The mileage operated out of Omaha is almost twice as great as that out of New York with its 10 trunk lines.
