Minors' Head Says Premier Organization Cannot Repudiate Pact Relative to Players.

New York, Aug. 3.-Demanding that the major league live up to the agreement entered into with the minors at the conference in this city last January, David L. Fultz, president of the International league and spokesman for the minor associations, stated today "we are not going to lose the fruits of the arrangement made last winter simply because the majors now find that they made a bad bargain."

Fultz, in a prepared statement outlined the case of the minor base ball leagues, in part as follows:

"Although the minor leagues of professional baseball have been the great developers of playing talent. they have never received the financial reward which their important position in the baseball world would "This condition was unquestion-

No. 6 of a series of statements showing why so many men are in-vesting in Omaha Real Estate.

 $The Supply of Omaha\,Real\,E state\,Is\,Limited$ No More of It Will Be Manufactured These Facts Make Omaha Real Estate a Desirable Investment

> AN INVESTMENT WHICH IS SAFE, PAYS A GOOD INCOME, AND INCREASES IN VALUE IS A DESIRABLE INVESTMENT. AN INVESTMENT IN OMAHA REAL ES-TATE HAS ALL THESE ADVANTAGES.

This statement—No. 6—gives further facts that cause far-sighted investors to continue to put their money in Omaha Real Estate, and to have absolute confidence in its security.

The President of the Omaha Real Estate Board a few days ago stopped in Big Springs, Neb., and was told that in the territory tributary to that small station, 2,000,000 bushels of wheat will be threshed this year. He knows such conditions, prevailing all over Nebraska, will make Omaha business expand.

SOME EXAMPLES:

A. W. Gordon two years ago bought a quarter of a block at 9th and Dodge for $22,000. He leased it this year on a $90,000 valuation.

W. S. Blackwell in May, 1913, sold to F. J. Farrington, 160 acres on the Lincoln Highway for $36,000. Mr. Farrington sold this land last week for $75,000.

J. C. Allgaier in January, 1919, bought 5003 Capitol avenue for $6,250. He has refused $8,000 for the property since.

NOTE-E. E. Peake, big Realtor of Kansas City, one of Omaha's rival cities, in a speech to the Omaha Real Estate Board, June 5, said Omaha will have 500,000 population in ten years. He's one of many conservative men who have that opinion.
