ARMY CHOW.

N the new parable of feeding the multitude with five fishes, the quintet of fishes are whales. Uncle Sam is going to flatter the high expense of living, which is a bigger job than ironing a giraffe's full dress collar.

Uncle Sam's method of slapping the profiteers is to toss army chow a

The prohiboozinists solved the large cost of food and drink by eliminating the booze from the tournament. We're glad that there aren't any proohifoodinists. Living is costly, but folks like to go on living just for the fun of complaining about it.

Ten years ago you could grab a meal check for two smackers that was good for 20 meals. The check was good even if the meals weren't. Ten megs a nosebag. Now, if a guy lamped a meal check he would butter it and eat it. All the saloons had free lunch counters where you could grab all you could eat and some things you couldn't. That was before they turned the lumber yards into breakfast food factories.

A hokey who went shopping along the stage entrances to the Fifth avenue mansions could pick up some swell garbage. Boats used to champs to the northern city. sail up New York harbor with their decks stacked with food. All that is out. The profiteers have stacked the deck.

Where are the fat birds who used to play food golf every meal? The old game of food golf consisted of eating nine holes along your belt. When you had let out nine new links in the waist harness the game was Holmes White Sox and Nebraska Kate, which got off to a bad start, over. Since the food profiteeers busted into the works, those same fat Power company, will be classed as cuckoos can use a napkin ring for a belt. Where is the old-fashioned sapp class A. A., and the class B winners. the field and captured the next two who used to perch two feet away from the table and then eat himself right such as the Riggs, Western Union up to the old table? If he started two feet away these rays, he would be and winners of the City and Church

What's become of the old-time leaf tables with the extra extensions that mother kept under the kitchen sink? When dinner time came around, the old man used to dive under the sink, where he felt right at home, and grab two extra leaves. They don't need extension tables for the food you get now. There ain't any chow. Only use for the dinner table at dinner is for the old man to park his brogans on.

The army chow may solve the food problem, but we know of 4,000,000 birds who have had enough of it.

The first bunch of military biscuits is on the fire now. There are about 400 carloads.

40 carloads baked beans. 10 carloads army beans. carloads navy beans. 20 carloads lima beans. 10 carloads string beans. 10 carloads canned beans. 100 carloads dried beans. 50 carloads wax beans. 100 carloads Mex hopping beans. 20 carloads Boston beans. 10 carloads bean bag beans. 20 carloads beanless beans.

You can pipe that there is a great variety in the army menu, the variety consisting mostly in the number of carloads.

When we all get to scoffing the regular olive drab army cookies, table etiquet will change like the map of Europe. When the bugle shirps "Come and get it" the Riverside Drive bugs will tumble out of the inlaid marble barracks and pile into the Circassian walnut mess halls.

When the army starts dishing out the food to citizens, the folks want to remember that your mess gear must be spotless at all inspections. Prune seeds must be thrown into the third barrel from the left. The tin dish must shine until you can see your face in it, although after a bird has been scoffing army chow for a few monts he hasn't any desire to see his face in an army dish. Something is sure to crack under the strain, and it won't be the dish.

Slumgullion is also a good chow. Slumgullion is the same as hash, except for the extra two-and-a-half syllables. Hash would be a much shorter and convenient name for it, but nothing is popular in the army that cuts down the paper work.

On holidays the government will dish out rice pudding, which is the Sunday name for slumgullion. Under government food rules all cities over 50,000 in population will probably be allowed extra rations of army pastry, which is rubber hot water bags coated with chocolate.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 12.—The Larsen creek and Elk mountain forest fires in the Clearwater national est fires in the Clearwater national as in 1914 before the outbreak of the forest, 60 miles across the moun- war. The French army will comtains from Missoula, are running prise the 21 corps of 1914 and two wild and have swept beyond concorps created during the war.

With Manager Otto Williams playing with the Rourkes, last Sunday afternoon, the Armond Stroyed. blazes have abandoned the fight as hopeless and have concentrated their efforts on the Camp Mildred fire, which is threatening valuable stands of government timber.

There are 11 uncontrolled fires on the Selway forest in Idaho. A new blaze is reported on Fish creek, near Cyr, Mont., in the Lolo forest and the Gold creek, fire is threatening to join several smaller fires. The situation is regarded as very threatening.

A large fire is blazing on the southern edge of the Cabinet forest, working into the upper end of Four-Mile Gulch, in the Lolo forest. The Warm Springs creek fire, in the Bitter Root forest, broke loose and destroyed a camp, the fourth to be burned in the district this season.

Other players who are expected to give a good account of themselves are George Stocking, John Brotherton, Frank Garey and Bert Rantz. Ralph Newell, Carter Lake champion, is expected to enter and may upset the dope. Garey was runnerup in Nebraska state tournament in 1915 and is also considered eligible for some of the honors.

A large number of entries is expected yet from the players on municipal courts. It is not unlikely that some player from municipal courts will prove the dark horse of the tournament, as there has been little playing done at the clubs this season Entries may be telephoned in to the Omaha Field club up to Friday evening. Play in singles will begin Saturday at 3:30 p. m. Consolation events will be staged in both singles
